Change in Firms

Two important business changes took place this week. The Red Front pool hall was sold by Charles Willard to C. H. Cox who comes here from Colorado. He is accompanied by his wife and two children and have already taken up their abode in the rooms overhead.

The other change which came as rather of a surprise, was the sale of the S. E. Wooster real estate and insurance agency, to J. P. Woodle & Son, who will conduct the business under the firm name of the Woodle Realty Co. Mr. Wooster established this business about five years ago and has developed it most successfully. He has also sold a large portion of his farm in Garfield. His future plans are not fully decided upon, but he will remain for a time at his old stand with the new firm.

Lycium Number

Tomorrow evening the second number of the Ellison-White Lycium course will be given in the high school auditorium. It will consist of readings and monologues by Miss Guila Adams, who comes highly qualified, as she is a graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Art, in New York City. During the war she was especially engaged to entertain the soldiers in the various camps overseas. Her experience on the platform extends over eight years. As the senior class of the high school is financially responsible for the course, it should be well patronized by our people.

Community Club

A the meeting of the Community Club last Friday night, a committee was appointed to confer with the churches, for holding a joint community tree at Christmas. Rev. A. F. Lacey gave a very instructive address on the financial situation of Europe, advocating the use of the surplus gold stocks in the U. S., to help put those nations on their feet. During the evening, solos were sung by Mr. Johnson of Faraday and chorus singing of old time favorites.

Farmers Attention

In connection with the county farm bureau, the state cooperative extension work department in agriculture and home economics, is planning a series of meetings throughout the county. A meeting will be held in the Family Theatre, Estacada, on Monday, December 5, at 1:30 p. m. Good speakers will be present and some very good moving pictures will be shown. Everybody is invited to attend. Admission free.

WEDDING BELLS RANG MERRILY

Two weddings have recently occurred in this neighborhood. CLOSNER—STRUNK

The first one took place at 1 p. m. on Thanksgiving, when Miss Mable Strunk became the wife of James Clozner, at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strunk, of Springwater. The Rev. Weir pastor of the Springwater Presbyterian church officiated.

The bride wore white satin and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Elva Shibley was bridesmaid and wore pale lavender organdie, and Joe Erickson attended as best man. A delightful reception followed. The house was decorated with Oregon grape cedar and white chrysanthemums. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. W. Strunk, Mr. and Mrs. D. Strunk and daughters Edna and Esma, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clozner, Elva Shibley, Everet Shibley, Joe Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wilcox and son Robert, Will Clozner and sons, Earl and Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. O. Calif, Mrs. Julia Calif, Ernest Calif, Marie, Howard, Gilbert, Gladys, Caroline and Charles Calif, Miss Viola Schlichting, Dewitt Calif, Homer Theman, Emery, Fred, Albert and Lester Clozner, and Mrs. Ethel Julian.

The happy couple left on the 4:50 car for Portland amid a storm of rice.

JUBB—TANNER

The second nuptial ceremony was on Sunday, November 27th, in Viola, at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tannler, where Miss Ida Tannler was wedded to Thomas W. Jubb. The marriage service of the Episcopal Church was read by the Rev. U. H. Gibbs of Estacada, at 3:30 p. m. About fifty or more friends and relatives were assembled for the interesting event. Prior to the ceremony, Joe Tannler sang in a very effective manner, "I love you truly," by Carrie Jacob Bond.

The bride was attended by Miss Amy Mattoon, as bridesmaid, and the groom by his future brother-in-law, Bennie Tannler. The bride wore a very becoming dress of Georgette crepe over satin, and elaborately embroidered, a coroneted veil fastened with a wreath of myrtle blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations and asparagus fern. She looked most charming, so no wonder the happy groom beamed with pride at the prize he had won. The pretty bridesmaid was dressed in burnt orange crepe and carried pink carnations.

After the newly married pair had received the congratulations of those present, refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and various kinds of cake were served. The wedding cake was a choice confection, heavily iced and ornamented. A table was loaded with the many beautiful and useful gifts which had been showered on the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Jubb will reside on the farm of the groom, which is only a short distance from the bride's former home.

W. A. Election
