Health Campaign

Do you know that in your county you have a Public Health Association whose aim is to substitute health and vigor for misery and inefficiency, to keep well people well and bring help to those who are sick?

Do you know that it employs as its special agent a nurse specially trained in public health work?

Do you know that every portion of the county is entitled to her services?

If you are competent to supervise the health of your own family, are you willing to help those who have lacked your advantages?

Can you think of a problem in your neighborhood that the public health nurse would be best qualified to deal with?

Do you know that you may see her any Saturday between 9 and 1, at the courthouse; that you may telephone or mail your communication to her at any time?

Do you know that for 50 cents you may show your approval of this work, help finance it and have a controlling vote in governing its policies?

The campaign is now on and will continue till February 20. The county's quota is $2000.

P. T. A. Meeting

The Parent-Teacher meeting Tuesday evening had an exceptionally interesting program. The county nurse, Miss Hilda Morris of Oregon City, gave an account of her work in connection with the schools. Dr. Fixott of Portland, former lecturer for the state dental association, gave an illustrated lecture on "Dental Hygiene for Children." Musical numbers by members of the schools and a reading by Neil Wier interspersed the program.

UPPER EAGLE CREEK

Mrs. Katie Douglass visited with Mrs. Ed. Douglass on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffmeister spent Sunday evening at the home of Will Douglass.

Mrs. Baumgarten, teacher in district No. 50, and pupils observed Arbor day by planting some trees and setting out some plants in the school yard, also cleaning up the school grounds. After that was done the teacher and pupils went up to Walter Douglass' place and all were weighed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Woodle were guests at the home of Ray Woodle on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Preister and children of Logan, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass on Sunday.

Little Margaret Akers, the five year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Akers, was paralyzed last Tuesday morning shortly after arising, and towards evening she passed away. Her death was quite a shock to her parents and friends of the family, for the day before the little one played around and was as well as usual. The body was taken to Cathlamet, Wash., where the family have relatives, for interment. We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Akers.

Mrs. McKay and Mrs. Ricker visited the school on Monday.

Obituary

William W. Davis was born in Clark County, Indiana, January 6, 1842, died February 11, 1922, aged 80 years, 1 month and 5 days. He was one of a family of eleven children, six of whom are still living: Joseph D. and J. J. Davis of Estacada, Emma Tolbert of Clackamas, Oregon, Anna Palmateer of Lodi, Calif., Robert Davis of Chehalis, Wash., and Isaac Davis of Grants Pass, Oregon.

He volunteered Sept. 7, 1861 in Company A, 4th Iowa cavalry. Reenlisted as veteran Dec. 12, 1863 and was promoted to corporal. He was captured in action Oct. 11, 1862, at Jones Lane, Arkansas, later paroled and returned Nov. 8, was restored to duty Nov. 30, 1862, mustered out with company June 1, 1865, at the close of the war.

Deceased was married to Sarah Martha Green May 24, 1867. They crossed the plains with ox teams, landing in Oregon in September, 1868. To this union were born ten children who survive him. They are F. H. Davis, E. T., R. E. and H. B. Davis of Estacada; W. W. Davis Jr. and Clara Johnston of Yankton, Ore.; Anna Lowden of Portland, J. A. Davis of Ellensburg, Wash., H. W. Davis and Grace Jacobs of Aberdeen, Wash., beside a number of grandchildren. Sarah Martha Davis died March 15, 1912 and on Sept. 14, 1913 he was married to Mary M. Beebe, who survives him.

The funeral service was held in Mt Zion church, at Garfield, Monday afternoon, the Rev. A. Demoy officiating, with interment in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Selling Well

The Portland Railway, Light and Power company have added more than 2100 new stockholders to its lists during the present campaign of selling its new issue of 7% prior preference stock to its employees, customers, patrons and the general public under what is known as the "Home Ownership" plan.

The new share holders represent virtually every one of the nearly forty communities in which the big public utility operates and consists of men and women in almost every walk in life.

The gratifying success of the new plan of financing its needs, according to company officials, will enable the big utility to carry out extensive improvements and betterment plans for the coming season, including substantial headway on the gigantic $10,000,000 Oak Grove hydroelectric development which, when completed, will add 80,000 more horsepower to the present facilities of the company.

We do Job Printing.

A. G. AMES QUILTS TRAPPER'S LIFE

A. G. Ames has returned home and has resigned as a government hunter of predatory animals. He joined the government service in the spring of 1916, and his "catch" in three years totals 259 predatory animals, including wolves, cougars, lynx, coyotes, sheep killing bears and bobcats. In his hunts he has been ably assisted by his dogs, two of which, Trailer and Teenie, are still with him.

Mr. Ames has kept a diary of his adventures and from the data therein recorded, he has written a number of thrilling tales, that have been printed in the Albany Democrat. For the present he will stay at home and finish the addition to his residence he began last fall, and afterwards engage in his former trade of plumber.

Senior Class Play

Next Monday night in the H. S. auditorium, the class of '22 will present the side splitting comedy, "Aunt Molly." Those taking part have been most diligent in rehearsing, and the play promises to be one of the hits of the season. Tickets may be had at the Pharmacy, general admission 35 cents, children 25 and reserved seats 50 cents.

Community Club

The February meeting of the Community club will feature an observance of Washington's birthday and will be held on Wednesday night of next week, instead of Friday as usual. The meeting will be held in the high school auditorium with a program by the pupils of the school and several musical numbers and talks by Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh and other speakers.

Kindly note the change of date and location of the meeting.

Grangers Urge Cooperation

William J. Thompson, master of the Maine State Grange, in his address before the annual meeting of that body in Portland, Maine, December 16, declared:

"Farmers, above all other people, are in need of public utility service—nearer railroad facilities, electric road accommodations and more and better telephone service, and above all, electric lights and power.

"Depression in utility work hits the farmer first and hardest, for it is he that must go without.

"For the past twenty years wide-spread wholesale muckraking criticism of all public utilities has bred a feeling of distrust on the part of the public.

"If we do want public utilities as our neighbors and servants we must learn to meet them in the same fair fraternal spirit that our order teaches we shall extend to our neighbors."

This is good advice to any community which can only develop and expand properly by extension of every branch of public service.

Mrs. Roy Woodward of Oregon City, was here last week to visit her parents and other relatives.
