New City Treasurer

At the meeting of the city council last Tuesday night, Mrs. Nina B. Ecker was appointed city treasurer vice Mrs. R. G. McCall moved to Portland.

U. of O. NOTES

The second annual Oregon High School Press conference will be held at the School of Journalism in connection with Junior Week-end on the twelfth and thirteenth of May, it has already been announced. Each high school in the state is being asked to furnish samples of annuals, magazines, newspapers and news notes published. School notes in the local papers are declared by the School of Journalism to be of great importance, and an exhibit of such notes clipped from the various Oregon newspapers running them will be a feature of the conference.

Sow Early

Early spring seeding of grain gives the best results, but when planted in rather cold soils the rate of seeding should be increased. Spring oats should be planted not less than three bushels to the acre, and spring wheat and barley at about two bushels to the acre for western Oregon conditions.—O. A. C. Station.

VIOLA

The Farm Bureau meeting was held at the church on Saturday evening. After the business session a short program was listened to then coffee and cake were served free to all. There were 61 present and it was voted to hold the meetings once in two weeks on Friday evenings, in place of Saturday evenings. All had a pleasant time and hope to meet again on Feb. 3.

Miss Norma Randolph, after spending a week at the home of her parents with a bad cold, returned to Estacada on Sunday to take up her school work again.

Ben Tannler Sr. has been on the sick list with the grippe for a week, but we are glad that he is improving. Ray Miller also has the grippe. Hope to see him out again soon.

Dr. Morse was out to see Earl Hinman's baby daughter one day last week. She had a cold and was cutting teeth, but is improving now.

Will Hicinbotham is building a porch on the front of the Wm. Mattoon residence here.

Wm. Mattoon sustained quite a loss one night recently when some one entered the old store building and carried off a new tent that had never been used.

Rev. Lacey of Estacada and Rev. Young and wife of Garfield started meetings Sunday evening here. They expect to hold them all the week. Mrs. Andrews of the W. C. T. U., gave a talk on the Children's Farm Home, which is to be bought and maintained near Corvallis. A worthy plan and every person can help to make the life of some boy or girl happier.

Quite a number of Viola people expect to attend the Farm Bureau meeting in Oregon City Tuesday.

A Mr. Cleveland has bought the Bradley place and expects to move here soon from Canby.

UPPER EAGLE CREEK

Mrs. Rosa Baker and children are on the sick list.

James Bell of Sandy Ridge was a Grange visitor Saturday.

Eagle Creek Grange met on Saturday at the Grange hall, but owing to the absence of the Worthy Master F. W. Bates, who was ill, a very short meeting was held, M. L. Trullinger acting as Master. Mrs. E. B. Andrews of Oregon City, the W. C. T. U. worker was present and gave a talk on the Boys' and Girls' Farm Home, which they are planning to establish near Corvallis.

Tommy McKay is at home for a few days.

J. W. Cahill commenced the building of Dick Gibson's garage on Monday.

Valentine Party

The Slip-a-week club of Garfield entertained their husbands at a valentine party and supper Tuesday evening, February 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reeher. Red and white hearts, festoons, and greens decorated the house. At the supper table the center-piece was a small wishing tree decorated with red and white hearts bearing fortunes. Games, music and original stunts by the guests furnished plenty of entertainment up to the midnight hour. Those enjoying the affair were, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lamberson, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Weatherby, M. and Mrs. Wm. Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. T. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dillinger and Mrs. Z. R. Daune and E. F. Gunter.

H. S. SENIORS IN THE LEGITIMATE

The annual senior class play was presented last Monday night to a large and attentive audience which filled the auditorium. It was a comedy in three acts entitled "Molly's Aunt," and replete with mirth provoking situations. Molly's Aunt was an elderly female who had been brought up in the strict proprieties of the mid-Victorian period. Feeling the need of being herself for once, she goes to visit relatives whose ways were the reverse of mid-Victorian. Unfortunately these think they must reform and become painfully proper. The result is that all are dreadfully bored until by a fortunate combination of circumstances, they discover their mistake.

The title role was taken by Pearl Fantz who fitted into it very gracefully. The others in the cast were Vernon Hassell a manufacturer, Mary Ely his gay wife, Irene Saling his gay young daughter, Ray Miller a politician who instructs the aunt in slang and jazz, Walter Matson a millionaire's son trying to earn a living by art, and Elsie Deardorf as the maid-of-all-work garrulous and reminiscent. The parts were well sustained, Mary Ely showing an aptitude for hers which may prove prophetic while Irene Saling as the gay daughter had only to be her natural self.

Elsie Deardorf who on short notice took the place of Rose Trachsel who was sick, rose to the occasion. The boys played up to the girls, but it would have been better if the make up of Hassell and Miller had been more in accordance with their parts. Musical selections by Nova Smith and Ruth Akrom were given between the acts.

You Can Bank On It

The closing up of the State Bank of Portland, caused a little flutter here, on account of our local bank having once been connected with it. But with the exception of using it for a depository for part of its funds, the Estacada bank has had no dealings with it, for some months. Ninety per cent of its stock is owned in Clackamas county. We understand that the funds formerly in the State Bank have been transferred by President Stephens to the U. S. national bank of Portland, which is one of the strongest in the U. S. There need be no anxiety about the stability of the bank. Mr. Stephens is most conservative about its management and cautious in safe guarding its funds, as witness the absolutely burglar proof safe of manganese steel, time locks, alarms and the heavy burglar insurance, which is carried, a remarkable showing for a bank of its size. The public may have absolute certainty that the bank's motto "Safety and Service," is fully maintained. Our people have now an opportunity to show their appreciation and confidence in the local bank and its efficient and vigilant officers.
