

Sunday Evening Concert

The M. E. Church was packed to the doors last Sunday evening by an expectant audience to hear "The Holy City," an oratorio by A. R. Gaul, which was rendered by the Colton Oratorio society, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Anderson-Huit. The choir numbered about fifty voices and their rendition was one to elicit the highest praise. The theme of the oratorio is the heavenly Jerusalem, and the words of the score are taken mainly from the book of Revelation of St. John the Divine. The whole piece is most devotional and of a very fitting character for a Sunday night service. Estacada has heard in the Chataqua and the Lyceum courses some fine musical compositions, but on the whole none have been more favorably received than this one. We hope there will be another engagement of these sweet singers, most of whom have come, or their parents, from the land which sent forth Jenny Lind and Christine Nilsson, known as the Swedish nightingales.

We have a broken line of children's dresses that we will close out at 1.49 formerly priced at 2.50 at Rose's.

An Apology Received

Last Thursday, just after the NEWS had been taken to the postoffice, a letter was received from the manager of the Portland Colts, the team which failed to materialize the Sunday before, in which a profound apology was made to the Estacada baseball fans. In it Manager Wallace was exonerated from all blame for the non-appearance of the Portland team, which was due to a mix up among themselves and the failure to notify Mr. Wallace in time.

The strawberry season is almost over. Better get yours at headquarters before it is too late at McKenney's.

Notice to Stockholders

Bible Lecture

C. W. Field of Portland, representing the International Bible Students Association, will deliver a lecture Sunday afternoon in the Christian Church at 3 o'clock. In it he will show that the end of this world's age is drawing to a close, and that the establishment of the Messianic kingdom is near at hand when The Lord Jesus Christ will come and reign upon this earth and restore all things. He points as evidence that Jesus predicted the end of the world would be preceded by wars, pestilence and revolutions, in various parts of the earth, which has been the case since 1914. Then the return of the Jews to Palestine would be another sign, which is now taking place. The time, therefore is definitely located and the evidence conclusive of the Lord's presence. The World War marked the legal end of the gentile dominion, the end of the world; and there it began to pass away and will terminate with the greatest trouble yet. But then will begin according to the promise, the restoration blessings. 1925 is the year that will mark the end of wars, revolutions and anarchy on the earth under the rule of the great Messiah. See announcement of lecture on page three of this issue.

A Request

The Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective Society kindly asks friends to remember the girls, mothers and babies when canning. The society, on an average, provides for fifty girls, seventy-five babies and a staff of thirty-five workers and attendants. Any one wishing to donate canned fruit and vegetables please communicate with the general office, 195 Burnside St., Portland so that jars may be shipped prepaid. The society will also pay the freight charges for their return.

The Faith Healer

Manager Cleworth has secured the above exceptional picture for Saturday night at the Gem Theatre. Wherever it has been run, it has drawn phenomenal crowds. Estacada is fortunate in being able to see it without advance of price of admission.
