Car Collision

While out riding last Sunday afternoon, members of the Lichthorn family had their first automobile accident, but must have had a "rabbit's foot" along with them, for all escaped without serious injury. Johannah was driving and the other occupants of the car were her mother Mrs. G. H. Lichthorn, her grandmother Mrs. Stiner, and Mrs. Albert Lichthorn and baby. When turning the corner by the Eagle Creek Grange hall, they collided with a car coming from the opposite direction. Both machines were damaged but the Lichthorn machine's damage was the worst.

S. S. Picnic

About twenty young people of the Invincible and Crusader Sunday school classes of the M. E. church had a picnic at Eagle Creek last Friday evening. The affair was the closing feature of an attendance contest between the two classes. The boys were hosts and made the evening a delightful one to all present.

Cattle Owners Attention

A government veterinary will be in Springwater, Monday and Tuesday, July 24 and 25, for the purpose of testing cattle. All those who wish their cattle tested, please notify Edward Shearer. Cow owners in Estacada who want their animals tested, can leave their names at the NEWS office and arrangements will be made to have them tested by the veterinary on his arrival on the noon car, Monday, July 24, before he goes up to Springwater.

Heavy Oregon Travel

Tourists, according to Sydney B. Vincent, the manager of the bureau, are coming into Oregon from all sides. The greatest travel at this time is from California. On a recent trip to California Mr. Vincent stopped at a number of cities and found that the Oregon-California maps issued by the commission were wonderfully well received and were being given splendid circulation. En route to the National Park to Park Highway Association convention at Sacramento, tourists in large numbers were seen consulting road maps issued by the bureau. The bureau is in receipt of scores of letters of appreciation of the maps and service rendered, many inquiries for maps coming from far eastern states. Garages, hotels and service stations in all of the coast states are requesting additional supplies of maps, and in the opinion of Mr. Vincent these requests indicate that Oregon will have a heavy tourist travel this season.

CANNERY AFFORDS OBJECT LESSON

A visit to the cannery of the Estacada Packing Company affords a striking object lesson in the importance and value of thorough cultivation of berries. From the fruit received it is evident at once in its size and color, which have received care and which have not. At present the pack is of logans and blackcaps, and it is a sight worth looking at to see the crates of berries as they come in, the deep crimson of the juicy logans and the black purple of the caps, are of a richness which an artist would find hard to reproduce in pigment. The cannery is patronized by nearly all the fruit growers in this vicinity, and its output should certainly constitute a telling advertisement of this region as a small fruit district. Last Tuesday 2300 cans of logans were packed.

An enterprise of this kind is of great value to a town for it is distinctly a home and family industry. It means also that the growers will obtain better prices for their fruit than otherwise would be the case, besides furnishing employment to a number of women and children. It is said on good authority that no industry distributes so much ready money among the masses of the people, and especially the home builders and home sustainers as the canneries—the greatest employers of home and family labor.

Benefit for Home

Manager Cleworth has two special attractions this week at the Gem Theatre. On Thursday Bill Hart will be featured in "The Whistle." As he has not been seen on the screen here for some weeks, this should draw a record attendance, especially as the Children's Farm Home will benefit from the receipts of the evening. Saturday, Betty Compton will appear in "The Little Minister," based on Barrie's well known story. Manager Cleworth has taken especial pains to have clean pictures of a high class order, and his efforts should meet with appreciation from the public.

Record Exchange

Those who have phonographs often wish they could have certain records, but do not feel like paying 85 cents and up for them. J. K. Ely has arranged with the National Record Exchange to keep a full supply of the latest records on hand, size 10 inch double disk. Anyone buying a record for 75 cents can exchange it for another by paying 10 cents and this in turn can be exchanged by paying another 10 cents. New releases will be made every month so that the latest records will always be on hand. This should appeal to all phonograph owners.

School Election

The school election last Friday night did not arouse much interest as the attendance was small. Gerald Wilcox, the new chairman of the board presided. After reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, names were called for to fill the unexpired term of George B. Weatherby. Messrs. G. P. Rose and L. C. Posson were nominated. On a vote being taken by ballot the former received 18 votes and the latter 10. Mr. Rose was declared elected, and no other business being on hand, the meeting adjourned.
