OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Briefly Sketched for Information of Our Reader.

Portland's second annual music week is to be observed November 5 to 12.

The county court of Union county has begun a campaign of retrenchment.

City Health Officer Pickel has issued a warning to the Medford public to boil all drinking water until further notice.

The prune harvest in Douglas county is at its height and the packing houses are receiving hundreds of thousands of dried prunes daily.

Owing to the lack of houses in Stayton several families are living in tents, while some are occupying store buildings that have long been vacant.

The reports of the four banks in Astoria, just issued, shows that since the former report on June 30, the deposits have increased in excess of $1,000,000.

Fourth class postmasters have been named in Oregon, as follows: Mabelle A. Grant, Harlan; Lelah I. Blodgett, Hult; George F. Allen, Point Terrace, and Henry O. Ilmar, Quincy.

Right Rev. William P. Remington, suffragan bishop of South Dakota, was elected bishop of the missionary district of eastern Oregon, to succeed Bishop Robert L. Paddock, resigned.

Charles Hall, defeated in the recent republican primary for nomination for governor, and who later filed as an independent candidate, Friday announced his withdrawal from the race.

Bend property holders are demanding hard-surfacing if any new street improvements are started by the city council. An extensive program of paving is expected to be initiated next spring.

The Southern Wasco county fair was held at Tygh Valley. Agricultural and horticultural exhibits, displays of the work of school children and a good livestock show were the predominating features.

An appeal was made by the city of Portland to the Oregon congressional delegation in Washington for intervention with the interstate commerce commission for a decision on freight rates on cement.

Harry Bailey of Lakeview was appointed by Governor Olcott as a member of the board of regents of the Oregon Agricultural college to succeed H. von der Hellen of Jackson county, who died recently.

The suits involving the validity of the so-called interest rate amendment, graduated income tax measure and the salmon fishing amendment probably will be carried to the supreme court for final determination, it is said.

The lumber industry of the Pacific northwest, particularly of the lower Columbia river district, is enjoying one of the most prosperous periods in many years. All the mills and logging camps are running to their capacity.

Contracts for the erection of two buildings on the University of Oregon campus at Eugene to replace those destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, one as a home for the school of Journalism and the other to house the school of architecture, have been awarded.

Portland was host last week to a party of mining and metallurgical engineers from eastern states, who passed through the city en route to the 126th meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, held at San Francisco September 25 to 29.

The execution of Russel Hecker for the alleged killing of Frank Bowker, a musician of Portland last April 17, which was to have taken place at the state prison at Salem Friday, was automatically put off, owing to an appeal having been taken to the supreme court in Hecker's behalf.

The constitutional amendment which proposes to allow the city of Portland to tax itself for $3,000,000 to defray the cost of the world's exposition in 1925 was attacked in the Marion county circuit court at Salem through a complaint filed by S. S. Johnson and Roger MacVeagh, Portland attorneys. The complaint asks that the secretary of state be restrained from placing the amendment on the ballot at the November election.

Among the week end visitors in Estacada from Portland, were Misses Lydia Matson and Irene Saling.

GARFIELD ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Alderfer, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Eash, left for their home in Kankakee, Ill., Sunday.

C. V. Sandstone and son Virgie spent a couple of days on their ranch in the Porter district last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Moreland of Portland, spent Sunday at the J. C. Moreland home, celebrating the birthday of their son.

Gilbert Weatherby had his foot badly hurt last week, by having it caught in the spokes of a bicycle. His sandal was torn to pieces, which undoubtedly saved his foot from being broken.

Our new pastor will be with us at Nora Memorial church next Sunday, S. S. at 2 p. m., preaching at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Minnie Eash spent Saturday with friends in Portland and a trip up the Columbia River Hyway.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Wooster of Portland, were visitors in Garfield Sunday.

Dr. J. Hewitt is visiting his ranch and prune orchard this week.

Married Thirty Years

Thirty years ago last Friday, September 22, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tannler of Viola, were united in Portland, in the bonds of holy matrimony.

To celebrate the anniversary, their children gave them a surprise on Sunday, by all assembling at their home, and bringing with them the provisions for a sumptuous wedding dinner, which was served at one o'clock, with Mr. and Mrs. Tannler as the guests of honor.

The latter to mark the occasion, wore her wedding bonnet. A general good time was enjoyed by all. Those present besides "the happy pair" were Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Forbes and children of Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartholomew and children of Estacada, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jubb of Viola, Ben Tannler, Jr. of Portland, Henry Tannler of Viola and Norman A. Forbes of Gresham. The editor of the NEWS begs to extend his felicitations to this estimable couple.

Community Club Meeting

The first full meeting of the Eastern Clackamas Community Club will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall on Friday evening, (tomorrow) beginning at 8 o'clock. Important business in regard to roads and other matters will come up for consideration, and an interesting program will also be rendered. A good attendance is greatly desired, as plans for the year will be discussed and formulated. This club is capable of doing a great deal of good for this end of the county in protecting and furthering its interests, so it should be well supported.

New Pastor Arrives

The Rev. H. F. Mort who was appointed to the Estacada church at the M. E. conference arrived last week with his wife, and preached his first sermon Sunday. He is a young man and made a favorable impression. This is his third charge, and he will attend the Willamette university during the week, continuing his studies there.

By Request

Several requests have been made for Gloria Swanson's great picture, "The Great Moment." The picture is still in great demand but will be secured at the earliest possible date. Watch for it.

Estacada vs. Montavilla

(Reported by W. C. Bacon)

Last Sunday witnessed one of the best ball games it has been our fortune to see. Bronson pitching for the local club was as liberal with hits as Harry Lander with his money. He came within two hits of pitching a no hit, no run game, the two hits coming in the ninth inning after two men were out. His support was excellent also, everything being handled elegantly fast, with the exception of an error by Skinner and one by Kelly, neither being costly. One of the Montavilla players tried to steal on Boland, but his peg to second took the heart out of them for the rest of the game. Boland also outguessed them in the ninth, when they had a man out on second and third, by throwing the latter out, which was a little dangerous when the score was nil.

Hauser started to umpire the game but they got under his skin, so he vacated in favor of Rheaberger, with whom the Montavilla catcher started a little argument, but Rheaberger soon let him understand that his goat was not to be had. Barring these instances the game was cleanly played.

Montavilla made one neat double play and their pitcher, Moore, was going good, while Estacada garnered eight hits off of him. They were well scattered until the last half of the ninth inning, when a double by Moger followed by a long single by Kelly, put over the winning run, the score being 1 to 0 in favor of Estacada.

Next Sunday, Corbett, with whom Estacada played earlier in the season, at Corbett, will play a return game here which will be the final one. Our boys have played a good game all season, too good for the support they received. There are no salaried players on the team, so why not all come out and help them finish a successful season?

(An analysis of the above game by innings was furnished, but we have not sufficient space to publish it.—Ed.)

Have you Registered?

Registration books will close on October 7 until after the November election and persons desiring to vote at that time who were registered but have not voted at a general election within the past two years, who have moved from the precinct in which they were registered, or have neglected to register at all should lose no time in getting their names on the poll books which may be found at the office of W. F. Cary.

Our fall and winter line of Rubber Footwear is now in. It will be to your interest to make your selection from this stock fresh from the factory, as you know new rubber goods give you better service. At Rose's.

P. T. A. RECEPTION TO NEW FACULTY

Last Friday evening a very successful reception for the new teachers was held in the auditorium of the High School. This is the fourth one we have attended and the only one which was not cut and dried. There was a delightful informality about it which prevented it from becoming tedious. In the first place the attendance was greater by a good deal than that at the preceding ones. Mrs. R. H. Carter of River Mill, president of the Parent Teachers Association, presided and called the meeting to order. Mrs. Einarson of the high school faculty and wife of the superintendent, then inaugurated a game to make those present acquainted with each other. Slips of paper were handed each one on which to get as many names written of those forming the company. The one who procured the most names on a slip was to receive a prize. Miss Retha Ames had the most names, eighty, and was presented with a large stick of peppermint candy. Mrs. A. T. Elott favored next with a reading and then Miss Ivy Peterson started an alphabet game, which was a form of a spelling match. Two sides, numbering twenty-six each were chosen, under the leadership of Mrs. Mae Reed and L. V. Cleworth respectively. Each member was given a letter of the alphabet, and the two rows stood facing each other. A word was called out and those representing the letters composing it stepped forward and arranged themselves in order. The leader of each side watched to see that they spelled the word correctly, shifting them around if not in the right order, or leading them back if they were the wrong letters. The side which thus spelled the word first, correctly, scored. At the close the one which scored the most won the contest. L. V. Cleworth's side proved the victors. Adjournment was then taken to the basement where refreshments were served.

Mr. Peters Will Sing

Mr. Cleworth has secured a fine tenor to sing at the show Saturday night. He is Mr. Louis Peters from Portland. He has a voice that will thrill you when he hits the high ones in the harmonious songs, the words of which will be thrown on the screen.
