DODGE NEWS

Sunday School commenced on Sunday last with a fairly good attendance and a promise of more next week. We need your help.

M. Pedersen made a business trip to Portland on Friday.

Tom Watson and family of Viola, and formerly of Dodge, were visitors at E. Lacey's on Sunday.

School commenced on Monday with Miss TenEyck taking the upper grades and Miss Funk teaching the pupils of grades one to four. We are proud of the accomplishments of last term and are hopeful of as good success this term also.

Ralph Enquist is attending the Estacada high school. He was one of the successful eighth grade pupils at Dodge last term.

J. Reichle has sold his place and expects to leave this week.

A Fine Pup

W. J. Moore received, Saturday, a pure bred, three months old, Irish setter pup, from the Richwood Kennels of Peoria, Illinois. In color it is a mahogany red and answers to the name of "Paddy Whack," indicative of its gender. The little fellow is very affectionate, and is glad to be among friends after his long trip from the east, which was rather bewildering to him.

Tree Falls

A tree fell on the cabin of Ed Douglass near his sawmill on Eagle Creek, Monday afternoon, crushing in the roof, wrecking a bedroom set and destroying a large quantity of canned goods. Fortunately the family were not in the building.

A Musical Treat

The Estacada Library Association, through the efforts of Mrs. F. J. Robley, has again secured Dr. Emil Enna of Portland, to give a lecture recital in Estacada Monday evening, Oct. 25. This talented musician appeared in Estacada two years ago and all who heard him will testify that it was an evening of rare musical enjoyment. Dr. Enna has exceptional ability and is a master of the piano when he plays. He will be accompanied by a talented reader.

In the Nick of Time

When Cleworth started to Portland Saturday to bring cut Mr. Peters to sing at the show, little did he realize the adventurous time he was going to have, which seems to always come to the driver of a car when he is in a hurry. With two hours to make it, it seemed like time to burn. They ran out of gasoline when three miles from Barton, and forty minutes was consumed getting gas. Then at Eagle Creek with twenty minutes to spare, battery leaped from place and no lights. A change to Smith's car, ten minutes to go. Then all seemed lost when a skunk crossed the road at Eagle Creek bridge and paused. But they were spared, and then Smith's lights burned out. If it hadn't been for the moon it would have meant finishing the trip on horseback or on foot. But Mr. Peters sang to the largest part of the evening crowd and the day was saved. Such a trip can be expected by a moving picture man who throws events of equal excitement on the screen.

Library Benefit

The "Father Goose" entertainment for the benefit of the public library, will be a rather unique affair. It is to be given by children, assisted by a few of the older people. The program consists of "Father Goose" rhymes in music, tableau and songs and the children give promise of doing their parts well, being coached by Mrs. W. J. Moore. Remember the date, Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, at the high school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 and 15 cents, no reserved seats.

FIRST FALL MEET OF THE E. C. C. CLUB

About thirty were present at the first fall meeting of the Estacada Clackamas Community Club, last Friday night in the dining room of the I. O. F. hall. The first proceeding was the reading of the minutes of the June meeting by Miss Gertrude Dillon, secretary. Then the new president, Fred Bartholomew, briefly introduced the topic of the evening, a road program, urging that steps should be taken to insure this part of the county getting its share of the bond money for road purposes.

"America" was then sung by the entire audience, standing, after which the Rev. H. W. Mort, the newly appointed Minister to Estacada, was introduced and responded with a short speech, expressing his sympathy and interest with the purpose of the Community Club. Further discussion then followed of the road question led by E. L. Myers of Eagle Creek, who said that the Eagle Creek district was in favor of the special tax for making the base of the road between Estacada and Barton, which is necessary to obtain the road bond money from the county.

Miss Ruth Dillon then favored the audience with a song, and further discussion of the road question again ensued, in which several people took part. It was decided to make the October session a mass meeting, and invite the county judge and commissioners to be present. A committee from each road district concerned, Currinsville, Eagle Creek, and Barton, was appointed to look after the matter.

The president appointed as the standing committees; on program, Mesdames W. J. Moore, H. C. Stephens and J. E. Gates; on refreshments, Mesdames C. S. Allen, Julius Krieger and J. R. Hug'es.

The last number was a piano solo by Mrs. J. E. Gates; and then a number of new members were taken in, after which adjournment was taken to one of the restaurants for refreshments.

Football Rally

The High School had a high old time last night at its rally. Jupiter Pluvius was kind and refrained from putting a damper on the proceedings. Led by three riders on horseback, the pupils marched in chain formation to the beating of a base drum, from the school house to Broadway. After going through several marching evolutions and giving the school yell led by Ted Howe, the various classes put on their respective stunts.

The seniors reproduced a mirroring camp scene of the days of '49, the boys garbed in jeans and the girls in calico dresses and sunbonnets. Over a campfire flapjacks were fried and flapped, and the stunt was concluded with a realistic brawl and killing. The juniors then had their turn, putting on what proved to be the winning number, which was a clever take off of members of the faculty and pupils past and present. When this was over the "freshies" in dark green elfin caps, paraded in formations, and then all went to the city hall plaza where the big bonfire was touched off and the sophomores conducted the obsequies by cremation in effigy of the Hillsboro football team in anticipation of the outcome of the game on Friday afternoon. The remainder of the evening was passed around the bonfire.
