UPPER EAGLE CREEK

Kermit Beshul returned last week from Yakima where he had been picking apples.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woodle and son Leslie were surprised last Saturday evening, when several of their friends and neighbors gathered to spend the evening with them. A pleasant time was had by those present and along about midnight a delicious luncheon of sandwiches, pie, potato salad, cake, pickles and coffee was served, after which the company departed for home.

E. Naylor butchered three hogs the first of the week, shipping them to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benson Sunday.

Mrs. Ethel Lansdowne, school supervisor, visited the school here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duus, Mr. and Mrs. N. Kirchem and daughters were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglass Sunday.

Laundry to Open

Estacada will have a new industry, as a laundry will be opened next Monday in the building at the corner of Main and First streets, which was formerly occupied by William Dale several years ago, before he moved his store where the Square Deal Twins now are. The proprietors are Mesdames Jacob Moss and Tom Martin, who have had a number of years experience in this line. See their ad in this issue of the NEWS which gives their rates for family and wet washes. They should meet with a good patronage as a laundry in town will meet a decided demand, besides filling up another vacant store building.

Exposition Notes

Fear expressed in some parts of the state that if the Constitutional amendment to permit Portland to tax itself for the 1927 exposition is approved, a move will be made to get the legislature to levy a large tax or make a big contribution to the exposition has been set at rest by a statement from Mayor Baker, director-general of the exposition campaign, in which he says no direct tax is to be asked from the state and no more financial is to be asked outside of Portland than is necessary for the state to make a reasonable showing in the form of an exhibit or building equaling the showing made by the other states.

UPPER BARTON

Mrs. Earl H. Odell called on Mrs. Fred Werner last week.

Miss Grace Ferrel visited the high school at Estacada one day last week.

Albert Hoyger was up to see his mother Mrs. Hoyger of Eagle Creek, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ferrel and family were up to visit the Heiple and Githens families of Eagle Creek, last Sunday.

Albert Hoyger made a business trip to Portland Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ferrel and Grace went to Gresham Tuesday.

An Excellent Remedy

Old Scotch liniment, which is advertised in this paper, has proved to be an excellent remedy for rheumatism and kindred ills. Our fellow townsman, G. A. Masse puts it up and has placed it on sale at the Estacada Pharmacy and at A. C. Cogswell's store at Eagle Creek. This liniment is well known around here, as many can testify to its value from personal experience. But Mr. Masse can show a hundred or more testimonials from all parts of the country. It is made up from a formula of which he alone is in possession, and inherited it from his father who was a physician of some repute. It is a good remedy to have in the house in case of sore throat or of the chest, and will ward off an attack of threatened pneumonia.

Howard Givens was run into and badly bruised and shaken up by an auto driven by H. D. Thomas last Wednesday evening in front of the Givens store on Gilsan. Howard was playing with some other boys when the accident occurred, he was hit on the head and bruised about the body, being unconscious three-fourths of an hour, but he is about again apparently as well as ever.—Montavilla Times.

Howard is well known here, as he is the son of former Estacada residents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Givens.

Christian Church

Bible School every Lord's Day at 10 a. m.; Preaching 11 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The theme for Sunday morning, Oct. 29, will be "Fleeing from God." A cordial invitation is extended to all, who do not attend services elsewhere.

E. F. Atchley, pastor.

Dinty, like the Gump family, sometimes is down but never out.—Kum in. 10-12tf

MANURE SHOWS GREAT VALUE

Where Applied to Clover Fields It Increased Yield Threefold—Phosphorus Helps.

Due to the cool weather of the spring and the freeze which occurred early in the season, the Iowa agricultural experiment station has had an opportunity to show the value of common barnyard manure on clover. It has been found that where manure was added to the fields only once in the rotation the stand has been increased three times over the plots where no manure was used.

Eight tons per acre were added to the manured plots and here the leaf surface and root development are heavier and better. Where phosphorus was added at the same time as manure, plants are even more vigorous and have a greater height.

CARE FOR LATE VEGETABLES

To Store Late Products Nothing More Is Required Than Use of Existing Facilities.

The storing of late vegetables is often profitable for those who grow them in sufficient quantities for marketing, giving the grower the direct benefit of the winter price. To care for the surplus vegetables in many cases requires nothing more than the use of existing facilities in the form of a storage room in the basement of a dwelling or under an outbuilding or to build an outdoor cellar of wood or masonry. If permanent facilities are not available, late root crops can be kept in outdoor pits or banks, requiring no cash outlay except for labor.

SHEEP GOOD AS SCAVENGERS

Feed and Care Are Essential to Develop Flock for Mutton—Animals Keep Down Weeds.

Sheep possess great ability to renovate the soil, keep down all kinds of feed that would otherwise often be weeds and to consume odds and ends totally wasted, but the man who undertakes to develop a really profitable flock of mutton sheep must get away, as far as possible, from the idea that they are kept because of their ability as scavengers. He must like his sheep and plan to give them the most painstaking care and the best food that his farm affords. Unless he does this he is likely to have trouble.
