The new warehouse at the rear of the People's store has been completed. 24 x 70 feet in size, ample room is afforded for the large stock of feeds which this firm carries all the time. A movable runway extends from the back entrance to the depot platform so that freight can be expeditiously conveyed directly to or from the car.

Mrs. Hillman Passes

The many friends of Mrs. J. C. Hillman were grieved to learn of her death in Portland last Friday, October 27th. She had been taken a few days previously to the Good Samaritan hospital for treatment. The remains were taken to Walla Walla, Washington, for the funeral service and interment. She was 62 years of age and is survived by her husband, J. C. Hillman, her daughter, Miss Bertha, and her son, Haldon. Another son died about three years ago in a railroad accident.

State Monopoly of Schools would cost—
In taxes—
Over $1,000,000 a year for operation
Over $3,000,000 for buildings and grounds

THE first cost of state monopoly of schools would be something over three million dollars for new buildings and grounds. We would have to pay a yearly tax of over one million dollars for operation in addition to what we are paying now.

They propose that Oregonians pay this bill for "Real Americanism." But it is not Americanism to take away the right of the parent to control the education of the child.

They propose that we pay this bill to have "Compulsory School." But we actually have compulsory school right now under the present law.

Be not deceived. What this burden of added taxes will go for is an experiment in education along communistic lines—the substitution of state monopoly in education for parental guidance. Russia is trying this experiment. Let us profit by her failure. Let us maintain our democracy and save millions of dollars.

A New Feature

We print today at the head of the editorial column a number of questions with the reference to their Bible answer. This is a feature which has proved to be exceedingly popular and been adopted by thousands of papers throughout the country. Some give instead a Bible thought or an extended quotation. We have adopted the questions rather than the thoughts because they will cause the reader to "search the scriptures," for the answer, and so thereby, become more familiar with the arrangement of the books, and the extra trouble will heighten their interest.

Sunday morning there was a white frost, which nipped the tender plants but did no particular damage.

Go ye also and make disciples of all nations.—Matt. 28:19.

Should Be in Every Home

There is one paper which no home which contains children should be without, and that is The Youth's Companion. It is not only highly interesting and amusing, but also greatly instructive. It appeals not only to the young members of the family but their elders as well, as many continue to subscribe for and read the paper long after their children have left home. Look up the reading notice to be found elsewhere. It will make a splendid Christmas present, but if subscribed for now, the numbers for the remainder of this year, will be included free in addition to all the numbers for 1923.

One Way to Get an Education

Some time ago, writes a subscriber to the Youth's Companion, I was traveling in Europe with a young lady who lived in a small town way Down East in Maine, and who was more generally informed in the history, literature, art and music of the countries we visited than those who had lived in and had the advantages of a large city. "Where were you educated?" I asked. "I was brought up in my home town and on the Youth's Companion," was her reply. And this same liberal education is in The Companion for anyone who will seek it. Try it a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.
2. All the remaining issues in 1922.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1923. All for $2.50.
4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

For rheumatism, lame back, sore throat, soreness of the chest use Old Scotch Liniment. For sale by Estacada Pharmacy, Estacada, and A. C. Cogswell, Eagle Creek, Ore., at $1.00 per bottle. A strong recommendation: "I never could find any remedy to do much good until I got to using Old Scotch Liniment. I won't be without it, it has cured me of a lame back, also relieved me of rheumatism wonderfully. I lived in the vicinity of Silverton and Salem the most of my life. I will answer all questions."
