A. R., declared: "The thought is that each post in the state will arrange with the ministers of the churches in their town for a union service of all the churches in the name of the Legion, one of the ministers preaching the sermon, the Legion attending in a body."

It is barely possible that if more of the children were BROUGHT up, fewer would have to be SENT up! Bring them up in the Sunday school.

Palm Sunday should mean something to you. We hope it will mean that you will worship with us at the 11 o'clock hour unless you are attending other services at that time. There is always a sermon for the children.

The League services as usual at 6:30 p. m.

We have been pleased to see you so regularly at the evening services of late—isn't it a fine habit; don't it make you feel lots better? Haven't you lost that feeling of duty and come now because you enjoy it? And the seven-thirty service this week is no exception. A duet with congregational chorus is one of the features. Another is, "Why Criticise Peter?" The Big Half-hour Sing and—well, come Sunday evening for an hour. We'll meet you there. Your church and mine!

GOOD REASON FOR QUITTING

Bob Fitzsimmons May Have Been Wrong in Judgment Concerning "Gameness" of His Son.

The best story observed in print for some time is told by Joe Vila in the Sun about young Robert Fitzsimmons. Young Fitz is considerably bigger and stronger than his father ever was, he is quick with his hands and with his head, he knows the science of the game. But it seems he can't stand up and take it. Mr. Vila continues:

Ten years ago Old Fitz introduced Young Fitz to a party of friends at the former champion's New Jersey home. The father put on the gloves with his son and the latter surprised the visitors with a dazzling exhibition of science.

"He's very clever, ain't he?" remarked Old Fitz during a short rest. "Well, now I'll show you something!" Resuming the tilt, Old Fitz suddenly took his right to Young Fitz's chin with terrific force. Young Fitz, staggering, pulled off his gloves and threw them on the floor, as he walked hurriedly out of the barn.

"He can box well," said the ancient Cornishman, "but he can't take a punch. He ain't game!" "I stopped because I didn't want to lose my temper," explained the kid at the dinner table. "I didn't care to slug the old gent!"—New York Times.

LIGHT ON ANCIENT HISTORY

Discoveries Made in Old Tombs in Syria Reveal Important Facts Not Hitherto Known.

Two tombs about 4,000 years old have been discovered at Byblos, Syria, by the excavations being carried on under the direction of General Gouraud, the French high commissioner, according to the Paris correspondent to The London Times.

The age is established by the discovery in one of them of a harpy; a curved sword with a gold handle; a seat of gold on which is engraved the Egyptian sparrowhawk; a gold scarabaeus ring beautifully carved, and a balm box of obsidian, found in gold and bearing the name of Pharaoh Amenemhat of the twelfth dynasty. This is stated to be the oldest inscription discovered in Syria, and proves that commercial relations between Syria, Greece and Egypt were already active 2,000 years before our era. The first recorded conquest of Syria by Egypt was made by Thothmes I (Tethmosis) of the eighteenth dynasty during the Sixteenth century, B. C.
