Trap-Nested WHITE LEGHORNS

Bred for Vigor and High Egg Production.

Our primary aim is to produce vigorous, husky chicks; healthy, rugged breeding stock, and first class hatching eggs. Hence, in many cases, our customers roll up bigger egg records than we do. But we hold our mature stock back as long as possible after the moult and bring them into laying as near the hatching season as possible. Thus are our customers assured of strong, rugged chicks and high quality hatching eggs.

Prosperity Here

Any one who has traveled across this country recently must be impressed by the fact that all sections, all industries, all units large and small, are experiencing the greatest industrial activity since 1919.

The readjustment period is undoubtedly over and the solid business expansion being shown this first quarter is recognized by bankers, manufacturers and men in every part of the country. The automobile industry, which is the barometer of the buying power of the people, shows unprecedented activity.

If the incoming congress can refrain from harassing the country with uncalled for and unnecessary legislation there is every reason to believe that the next few years will witness the greatest prosperity and growth that this nation has ever known.—Ex.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I respectfully announce to the people of Estacada and vicinity that I have bought the restaurant and rooming business of Dinty Moore, which will be known in the future as "Ed's Place." Just at present I am busy renovating and improving the equipment and increasing the stock. When this shall have been completed, I shall be in position to satisfy the most fastidious. I take pride in my former reputation as a caterer, which is well known to my many friends, who know that with me they will receive quick and courteous service and good cooking. Ladies and children will at all times receive special attention. Hoping to meet and greet my old patrons as well as many new ones, I am,

Yours to please,

W. E. LINN.
Estacada, Ore. April 5, 1923.

EASTER SERVICES

WELL ATTENDED

Easter was fittingly observed by the Estacada churches. At the Christian church there was an appropriate program given by the children at the morning service and Rev. E. F. Atchley delivered a sermon, taking as his theme, "The Resurrection and its Value to Mankind." The church was very prettily decorated with spring blossoms and crowded to its capacity. In the afternoon the ordinance of baptism was administered.

At the M. E. church the morning services were as usual, the pastor H. W. Mort, giving an Easter chalk-talk to the children before the regular eleven o'clock service. This part of the program was enjoyed by the older people as well as the children, as Mr. Mort is very clever with the chalk. There were two addresses at this service by Revs. Demoy and Mort, both being very interesting and inspiring. An Easter musical was given at the seven-thirty service, "From the Triumphal Entry to the Resurrection" with scripture readings by the pastor. "O for a Thousand Tongues" was sung by the congregation followed by prayer.

By special request, "The Palms" was sung by Robert Linn. The musical numbers following were, "There is a Green Hill Far Away" by the chorus, "Calvary" by Mrs. Harry Kitching, "Low in the Grave" male quartet, another selection by choir, and "God Hath Sent His Angels" by the ladies trio. The concluding number was an anthem entitled, "All Hail the Power." This program was the musical event of the season and all present thoroughly enjoyed it. The choir was composed of Mesdames Mort, Dawe and Kitching, sopranos; Miss Anna Dillon and Mrs. Mort, altos; Messrs. Ely and Mort, tenors and G. E. Lawrence and Percy Dawe, bass. The attendance was so large that the Sunday School was had to be thrown open to accommodate the overflow.

Road Contract Let

Contract for the construction of the Barton-Eagle Creek-Estacada market road have been let to J. C. Compton of McMinnville the total amount being $118,398. The stretch of road is to be paved with a two-inch surface of bituminous concrete on a two-inch base, 16 feet wide. The work is to be completed October 1, 1923.

Grandma's Boy

SYNOPSIS

The Boy is a coward—the boldest thing he ever did was to sing out loud in church. He loves the girl and his rival is a bully who makes the boy's life miserable. While the sheriff brings word that one of the village storekeepers has been shot by a tramp, a rough customer with whom the boy has already had one encounter.

Every man is sworn in as deputy. The boy gets lost from the posse and the dark night is full of things that frighten him. In terror he runs home and hides. His grandfather tells him how his grandfather had been a coward but, he had covered himself with glory in the Civil War.

Grandma gives the boy the charm, and he goes out, captures the tramp and fights the bully to a knockout. Grandma then tells him the charm is only her umbrella handle. All he needed was self-confidence! He proves he really has it by winning the girl—without the charm.—To-night and tomorrow night at the Gem Theatre.
