LEE
CORDS

Methodist Episcopal Church

The heart of the church has filled with sadness. God has gathered one of our choicest flowers for His heavenly bouquet. We shall miss the fragrance of the life just departed but we are thankful unto God for the loving and rich memory of such a beautiful life.

And to our brother, Percy Dawe, goes out the prayer of the whole church in this saddest hour of loneliness at the loss of his life chosen helpmate. May God strengthen him for a continued life of service from which we have so greatly benefitted in the past year.

All the services will be as usual on Sunday.

HOWARD W. MORT, Pastor.

Patrons of the Gem Theatre never know when Manager Cleworth will spring some extra entertainment between pictures. Be sure and attend all the shows or you are liable to miss some highly entertaining feature which is not down on the program.

Mrs. W. Fink will leave Saturday, accompanied by her daughters, Elsie and Gertrude, and son Walter, for Portland, where they will stay for the summer. Mr. Fink will go to his farm at Springwater to do some work, but will remain in the employ of the P. R. L. & P. Co.

Bequests by Class of 1923

The last will and testament of the class of 1923 is an interesting document, and contains certain individual bequests.

Walter Anderson leaves his nurse's diploma earned by attendance at the professor's sick bed, to Ralph Wade. Ralph Burnett's profound knowledge of physics is bequeathed to Sol Tucker. The pleasure of Martha's company is bestowed on Lyle Smith, and to Martha the little car he kept in his desk, by Ervin Cadoneau. Neil Weir inherits from Clyde Davis, the latter's oratorical ability, while Harry Woodworth is made the recipient of Waldo DeMoy's fancy for curly red hair. Melba Harmon leaves her unique accomplishment of going to bed and getting up the same day to Nadine Andres. Ted Howe's growth, height and position go to Lester Bateson. His affinity for black curly hair is left by Andrew Janssen to Roy Miller. Arnold Lovelace bequeaths to Ted Saling his athletic ability in the terpsichorean art and minor sports. George Linglebach turns his many girl admirers over to Arlie Coop. The vamping ability and long bob of Violet Marshall are handed on to Marie Welch. Gladys Miller's maiden name is given by her to Verlie Coop. Norma Randolph leaves her long hair to Etta McWillis, and Constance Richmond her surplus fat to Helen Johnson. Pauline Rose, who wrote and read the will, generously bestows the sunshine of her smile on Virginia DuBois, for altruistic purposes. Mae Smith leaves her beautiful black curls to Ethel Beebe and Nova Smith her position as private secretary to the superintendent to Floy Harlen. Marion Tucker bequeaths his oratorical talent to George DeMoy, and Elizabeth Weir her extreme popularity to Ardine Byers, while Gilbert Shearer leaves his manly voice to Lilo Tompkins.

It is to be hoped that the legatees will be duly grateful, and show it by making good use of their legacies.

Saturday's specials: 6 large packages of corn flakes 50 cents, 6 large cans solid pack tomatoes $1.00, 6 large cans Grimes golden sweet corn $1.00 at Rose's.
