OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Following a general soaking rain all over Umatilla county, crop experts declare that the grain crop is practically normal. Small yields were expected, due to a backward spring, but the prospects are now good for a 5,000,000-bushel wheat crop.

Grain crops throughout the state are advancing in good shape although there is a shortage of moisture in some sections according to the summary of weather and crop conditions for the week ending May 29 issued by the department of agriculture.

Reports received at the governor's office indicate that the state prohibition department is operating satisfactorily and that arrests and convictions have been numerous the past 60 days. The department was created at the last session of the legislature.

Charles Caldwell, employe at the Drager prune packing plant at Roseburg was injured when he was buried under a huge pile of prunes. He was shoveling dried fruit out of one of the large bins, when a portion of the top of the pile slid down and fell on him.

W. S. Workman, section foreman at Weatherby, was killed, and A. R. Bruce, signalman of Pocatello, Idaho, was seriously injured when a speeder in which they were returning to Weatherby was struck by westbound Oregon-Washington limited train No. 19, near Weatherby.

The Carlton & Coast Railroad company has resumed train operations, according to information received at the offices of the public service commission. The railroad suspended operations a few months ago, pending the reconstruction of a number of bridges and other improvements.

Judge Bingham of the Marion county circuit court at Salem dismissed the case brought by S. R. Diefendorf of Portland to restrain the secretary of state and state treasurer from issuing a certificate remitting to the city of Astoria its taxes for 1923, under an act of the last legislature.

The California Packing corporation, with headquarters at San Francisco, has filed application with the public service commission for a postponement of 30 days for the hearing on freight rates on fresh and dried fruits and vegetables. The hearing had been set for June 14 in Portland.

The taxpayers of Medford are not only faced with a special election on June 15 to vote on a bond issue of $160,000 for the construction of a new high school building, but it is understood that soon the people will be called upon to vote a $600,000 bond issue for a new city water system.

Marked reduction in the number of cattle thefts in the Oregon interior is due in a large measure to the fact that the large majority of these offenders have engaged in the more profitable occupation of manufacturing and selling moonshine liquor, according to a report prepared by Dr. W. H. Lytel, state veterinarian.

The recent decision of the United States supreme court, in which parts of the so-called minimum wage law for women in the District of Columbia were declared to be unconstitutional, does not affect the hours and conditions of labor under the Oregon minimum wage statute, according to an opinion by the attorney-general.

The lumber business in Oregon and the entire Pacific northwest will be ten times as great in ten years as it is now, predicted Colonel William B. Greeley, chief forester of the United States, while in Eugene on his way to Oak Ridge to inspect the tract of 685,000,000 feet of fir timber which the forest service is offering for sale.

Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, Friday issued a check in the amount of $38,795.53, representing the first half of taxes paid by the city of Astoria for the year 1923. This check was turned over to the Astoria officials under an act enacted at the last session of the legislature authorizing the state to remit the taxes paid by the fire-stricken city for a period of seven years.

The Idaho Power company, in a brief filed with the public service commission, voices its objection to providing electricity for pumping purposes to the Payette-Oregon slope irrigation district. The company alleges that the district already owes more than $26,000 for power, and that there is no indication that the amount will be paid for some time. The public service commission recently ordered the power company to furnish electricity to the district.
