WHITE LEGHORNS
Bred for Vigor and High Egg Production.

Our primary aim is to produce vigorous, husky chicks; healthy, rugged breeding stock, and first class hatching eggs. Hence, in many cases, our customers roll up bigger egg records than we do. But we hold our mature stock back as long as possible after the moult and bring them into laying as near the hatching season as possible. Thus are our customers assured of strong, rugged chicks and high quality hatching eggs.

We Win Another Ball Game

(CONDENSED)

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Estacada	17	17	0
Stafford	15	9	5

It was good to watch the boys work. At no time this season have they shown better form. They hit, they fielded, they did everything they should have done and they played errorless ball.

The batting order was the same as usual but the lineup quite different. King worked behind the bat, Boland on second base, Jack Smith in right field and Scott in the box; (fans will please read our last week's write-up). Boland handled himself in dandy shape on second. He robbed G. Rabrick of a hit in the fourth inning when he speared that gentleman's red hot grass-cutter and made an easy out at first. Boland told King he was showing him how second base should be played, and Guy to get even caught a foul fly in the next inning, and so it was a perfect day and everyone was happy. Jack Smith hit a homer in the sixth and that ball sure did travel when it left the bat. We can only say that the whole team played good ball and earned their victory.

Next Sunday Carus comes for the last game of the season. Remember that Carus is the championship team of the southern Clackamas league while Estacada is that of the northern. They beat us at Canby, but—well come out and see Sunday.

Hymeneal

Mr. John C. Hillman announces the marriage of his daughter Bertha Lynn to Mr. William B. Wilson on Monday, September 24, 1923, Seattle, Wash. They will be at home in Portland, after October 5, at 720 East Grant Street.

The editor of the NEWS begs to express his heartiest felicitations.

Band Concert Planned

The Eastern Clackamas Band is preparing to give a big concert in the near future. The date will be announced later.

Community Club.

A good sized gathering assembled in the lobby of the Estacada hotel last Friday evening, for the initial fall meeting of the Eastern Clackamas Community Club. J. K. Ely, vice-president, presided in the absence of Fred Bartholomew, the president. The main business of the meeting was for the election of officers. A number names were suggested for president, but none of their owners were willing to serve in that capacity. Finally A. G. Ames was mentioned, and he expressed his willingness to accept, so he was chosen. J. K. Ely was elected to succeed himself as vice-president, and Phil Adams as secretary and treasurer. The club voted to recommend H. C. Stephens to the city council, as its choice for filling the unexpired term of G. E. Lawrence as mayor. Refreshments were served at the close of the discussions.

Reception of Teachers.

The reception given by the Parent-Teacher Association for the Teachers of the Estacada schools, was held last Thursday night at the I. O. O. F. hall. There seemed to be a larger attendance than usual, and all enjoyed themselves. Entertainment was furnished by giving out slips on which numbers were written. These were in pairs, and those who had the corresponding numbers were to talk to each other for three minutes and then write an impression of each other. These impressions were subsequently read out loud and caused much amusement. Another stunt was, two sides being chosen, each was given a suit case packed with certain articles of apparel, then in turn each one was to open the case, don the apparel, walk to a chair and back, then doff the costume and pack it back in the case. The side which got through first won. Refreshments were served at the conclusion.

Tree Nursery for Estacada.

E. P. Smith, who for several years has had a nursery at Gresham, last spring leased four acres from John Page on the hill east of town, adjoining the W. L. Baughman place, and across the road from the A. S. Hassell place. During the summer this land has been broken up and Mr. Smith will plant it to tree seed and young trees, both forest and fruit, and will also raise flowers. It will be known as the Eastwood nursery. He will arrive next week and is having the lumber hauled to put up a house for his occupancy.

"Why I Put Up With Rats for Years," Writes N. Winsor, Farmer.

"Years ago I bought some rat poison, which nearly killed our fine watch dog. It so scared us that we suffered a long time with rats until a neighbor told me about RAT-SNAP. That's the sure rat killer and a safe one."

Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by the Estacada Pharmacy.

POPULAR PASTOR GIVEN RECEPTION

The reception at the Methodist church last Monday evening, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Mort's return to Estacada for another pastoral year, proved to be a very happy affair. Not only his own people but others were present to extend their felicitations to him. He is now a full fledged elder having been ordained at the last conference. J. G. Hayman presided over the meeting, and after the hymn, "Blest be the Tie which Binds" was sung, he called on Rev. B. F. Clay, of the Christian church, to offer an invocation. Then the orchestra played a selection which was followed by the Rev. A. DeMoy, who spoke for the parish and pledged support to Mr. Mort in his work. Miss Ruth Dillon then sang a choice selection, and Rev. U. H. Gibbs was the next speaker, who dwelt on the three fold character of the ministry. Misses Irma Gates and Thelma Wilcox played a duet, and then the Rev. B. F. Clay spoke in praise of Mr. Mort. A playlet in one act caused much amusement, in which Mrs. M. G. Weatherby and Thomas Carpenter, of Garfield, were the leading characters, assisted by G. E. Lawrence, M. G. Weatherby and Walter Smith. Mrs. B. H. Zimmerman gave a brief reading, the band rendered another selection. The Rev. H. W. Mort was the last speaker and expressed his appreciation of the evening's doings. The ladies of the church served refreshments as a suitable finale.

Mr. Mort starts out very auspiciously on his new year as pastor of the local church. Both he and his good wife have endeared themselves to the community. As he said in his response, he was pastor of the M. E. Church first and next a citizen of Estacada. It is very generally conceded that in both capacities he has proved his worth.

UPPER EAGLE CREEK
