BIBLE QUESTIONS

What is necessary before we can lead others into the paths of righteousness? —Psalm 51:12-13
 What breaks the connection between God and man? —Isaiah 59:1,2
 What is the promise if we stay with the Lord? —2 Chron. 15:2,7

THE WANDERING JEW

According to an old legend, as the Savior was on the way to Calvary, overcome by the weight of the cross. He wished to rest on a stone in front of the house of a Jew, who drove Him away with curses. The Savior calmly replied, "Thou shalt wander on the earth until I return," and so it is said, he roams the earth seeking death but finding none. There are cities in Europe which exhibit relics of this wandering Jew.

But the legend to a Christian mind, is singularly fulfilled in the subsequent history of the Jews, as a people. They have been and are wandering on the face of the earth. Settling among all nations, and becoming politically incorporated, yet they have retained their peculiar characteristics, for they seldom have intermarried. The Jews constitute a great mystery for they are a peculiar people, with a peculiar lineage and heritage, a peculiar existence and a peculiar destiny. What constitutes the main peculiarity is, that they alone of all peoples have a religious origin as a nation, which was raised up for a definitely religious purpose and end. Their history throughout is a religious one, and whatever fate has happened to them it has a profound religious significance. Their wonderful preservation from extinction due to oppression and persecution which would have wiped out any other race shows that they have yet to fulfill their destiny.

Here are some peculiar distinctions which they enjoy: They are the one people who have records tracing their descent back to Adam. They are the one people God chose to serve as an object lesson of His dealings with mankind. They are the one people to whom the oracles of God, were originally committed, and entrusted for preservation and promulgation. They are the one people of whom, according to the flesh, the Savior of the world came. They are the one people whose history, past present and future, is preserved and indicated in the Holy Scriptures.

The wandering Jews shall not wander for ever, but are to be gathered together to their own country again, from out all the countries whither they have been scattered, and then an era of unparalleled prosperity and peace will follow, in which all nations of the earth shall share and rejoice, and Jerusalem become the religious center of the world.

SPECULATIONS

We sometimes wonder when this mortal coil will have been shuffled off, and we have gone to that "undiscovered country, from whose bourn no traveller returns," whether the controversies which so bitterly engage us here, will be continued there.

Let us hope that if so, they will be carried on in a better spirit than now, especially in religion and politics.

There is scriptural warrant for holding that as we leave this earthly sphere, we retain the characteristics we acquired here. If so, is it thinkable that a radical change in our method of thought will immediately be effected? We shall first have to get accustomed to our new environment and learn of its ways and conditions. Granted that the truth will be more clearly manifested, yet its apprehension will depend on our ability to perceive and comprehend it.

How will the white and colored races adjust themselves, or Jew and Gentile, Roman Catholic and Protestant? Coalescence is effected in and through the truth, for what causes division, is prejudice, ignorance and error. If the truth is there more clearly manifested and apprehended, this will tend to bring these together, but how long will it take? Will it not require a course of education?

A famous English clergyman several years ago, preached a sermon which made a wide spread sensation. Its subject was, "The First Five Minutes After Death." It is something certainly worth thinking about, and should not arouse any morbid feelings.

Hearty congratulations to Walter R. Taylor, editor of the Mollala Pioneer, who took unto himself a better half last week.

STATE MARKET AGENT DEPARTMENT.

Washington has put its cooperative hay association over and has 75 per cent of the alfalfa hay signed up to be handled through pool selling. The organization will finance through the Intermediate Credit Bank. The same movement is now under way in Oregon and there is little doubt, say the promoters, but what it will go over easily, when there will be cooperation of the two state associations, and 75 per cent of the hay grown in the northwest will be committed to a definite selling plan. When Oregon's 75 per cent is signed up joint price fixing and selling will be worked out. This is a demonstration of farmers operating their own business, rather than letting the brokers run it for them. It can be applied to almost any product grown in sufficient quantities to warrant organization.

A few years ago the poultrymen of Oregon shipped their eggs to the different commission houses and packing concerns and asked, "How much will you give?" Today the poultrymen have a strong cooperative association which fixes the price on the eggs and the dealers have to meet it. Further, the dealers consider the price of the cooperative association in quoting prices to those who are not members of the organization. The association fixes the egg price of Oregon.

Industrial prices are abnormally high and agricultural prices abnormally low. This puts the farmer in a tight hole and it would seem that through group action lies his only hope in adjusting these conditions. The cotton growers, tobacco raisers and fruit growers of the South have pulled their industries up from loss to profit by united action. In this era of combinations and price fixing, the industry that throws its products on the market and takes the buyers, price, stands a slim chance to succeed.

The potato inspection and grading law is being generally observed by growers and shippers and the sentiment over the state is very favorable to the new act. There is of course the usual opposition on the part of some to this law, as there is to any law that would guarantee a standard product. Farmers may obtain sack stencils, post paid, 25 cents each, by applying to George R. Hislop, Experiment Station, O. A. C. Corvallis, Oregon.

Slowly the farmers of Oregon are realizing that they must combine with the producers, then will the great middle-profits and expenses be lowered to the benefit of the three classes.—Market Agent.

We regret to learn that C. A. Jacques of Garfield, severely hurt himself last Friday, and has to keep in bed. We hope he will soon be himself again.

"I purchased several cakes of RAT-SNAP from Erwin-Craig Hardware Company, this place, and find the same the most effective exterminator of mice and rats I have ever used. WHERE LIVESTOCK IS SHOWN AT ITS GREATEST

MANY have not yet come to realize the size, importance and influence the Pacific International Livestock Exposition wields for the welfare and upbuilding of livestock raising in the Northwest. Nor does every stockraiser appreciate the opportunities offered for his own development and profit.

In 13 years the Pacific International has grown to be one of the greatest livestock exhibitions in the world, the largest under one roof in America, until this year, November 3 to 10, it will exhibit about 4000 head of purebred dairy and beef cattle, hogs, sheep, goats and horses; also 2500 chickens and rabbits, offering $90,000 in premiums and showing many world's champions as well as other notable stock. The exhibition combines:

- Gigantic Livestock Exposition
- Dairy Products Show
- Land Products Show
- Northwest Grain and Hay Show
- Western Winter Poultry Show
- Night Horse Show
- Industrial Exhibits
- Daily Auction of Dairy and Beef Stock

More than 100,000 people attended last year. Why don't YOU attend and come in contact with the breeders and purebred animals that are doing so much for livestock development in the West? Then come in and tell us of your impressions here at the

To the Farmers of Clackamas County:

We are now in a position to offer you through the Union Central Life Ins. Company, a new TWENTY YEAR term of RURAL CREDIT LOAN (sometimes called the AMORTIZED LOAN), which is the best loan from every possible standpoint that is offered today.

The company has worked a long time perfecting all of the details in connection with this new loan but feel confident that it will take so well with you that the time has been well spent.

We have realized just as well as you have that the only real objection to our former plan was the payments during the early years of the loan very often worked a hardship on some borrowers. Then too, some rather strenuous objections were raised, mostly by competitors, to the fact that we took two mortgages. These objections are both eliminated entirely in our new loan. The payments are the same each year during the full 20 years and there is only one mortgage and that in favor of the Union Central Life Ins. Company.

There is absolutely no commission to be charged, or expense notes to be executed by the borrower.

Formerly a fee for examination of land and abstract of title, was charged, this has been discontinued and is a strong feature as this is the only company in the field that will not make these charges.

Some of the strong advantages of this loan are, the rate of interest is low, you select the best time of the year for your payments, it is an inurance against the necessity of frequent renewals, it eliminates the danger of foreclosure, you have absolute control of your money as you may pay up the loan at any time securing a discount.

We will be pleased to have you call and talk this loan over with us or upon request will mail you a circular describing the loan in detail or will gladly call upon you at the earliest possible moment.

Very sincerely yours,
 WOODLE-WOOSTER CO.,
 Estacada, Oregon.
