RELIEF FOR GERMAN CHILDREN SOUGHT

Work of Committee in Oregon Directed By Hoover Campaign Head.

Robert H. Strong, of the Portland firm of Strong & MacNaughton, who directed the campaign for funds for starving peoples of Europe for Herbert Hoover here in 1921, has accepted the chairmanship of the Oregon state committee for the relief of starving German children. This is affiliated with the American Committee for Relief of German Children, of which Major-General Henry T. Allen, who commanded the American forces on the Rhine during the occupation, is chairman for the United States. It is backed by Herbert Hoover, former Oregon boy, now secretary of commerce, and is endorsed by President Coolidge and was likewise endorsed by the late President Harding.

ROBERT H. STRONG
State Chairman, American Committee For Relief of German Children.

The Oregon committee is to launch soon a campaign to raise $100,000 in this state, half in Portland and half in the out-state districts. Headquarters for the work have been opened in 715 Corbett building, Portland, with H. L. Eddy in charge as director. It has been endorsed locally by the Portland Council of Churches, the business interests of the city and by the Central Labor Council, all of which have declared that, whatever may have been done to bring about starvation conditions in Germany, certain it is that the little children there should not be blamed and that they must be fed and clothed.

Loses Three Relatives

William L. Palmer of Estacada, had the misfortune to lose three relatives within a few days. First a brother dropped dead suddenly, and then an uncle died shortly afterwards, and last Sunday his father. His mother is reported as being very low. His late brother and father were resident at Boring.

Boner Starts Up Again

Ed. Boner, who lost all his stock in the late fire, has arranged for temporary quarters at Linn's Inn. He has just received a new consignment of Eastman kodaks and supplies. Leave your films with him for development. He has an ad in this issue.

Carol Lake of Oregon City, attended the party Saturday night.

Cross Addresses Club

Judge Cross was the principal speaker at the Community Club last Friday evening, and spoke on the road situation.

He said the outlying country districts are or should be connected with Estacada by good roads. This town is the natural marketing place for a large and naturally rich country. It is a natural road center. The roads are improving and becoming more numerous every year. If we have good roads, it is our duty to do all in our power to keep them good. People should not abuse the roads. No road has yet been built that can stand the continued passage of heavily overloaded trucks.

Judge Cross announced that after the first of January, a traffic officer will be on duty, who will give his entire time to enforcing the road regulations in the county. He will enforce the speed regulations and see that overloaded trucks do not pass over the highways.

In order to get good roads, we must organize and work together, as a small group may defeat a good road plan. That part of the loop road from Portland to Estacada which lies along the south bank of the Clackamas River has been delayed because the people of Logan would not vote a special tax. In a year or two the six mile stretch between Barton and a mile beyond Carver will be completed. There will be then a first class paved road between Estacada and Portland. When this is done and the other side of the loop is completed, tourists will come to Estacada by thousands and leave good dollars here. In a few years there will be 240 miles of first class roads in this county.

"Stand by those who have helped build Estacada," said the Judge with emphasis. "Stand by the railroad; it stood by you even when it lost money. Stand by the hotel, it is the best in the county. Stand by your banker and your merchants. We need to make Estacada a road center, a market center and an educational center, if we want to bring people here. Of greater importance than any other crop is that of our boys and girls."

Joe Woodle is sick and confined to the house today, not seriously but he has to be careful. He could not get his copy in for the Gem theatre this week, but an attractive program will be run on the usual nights.

The Mission Study class had a watch party at the M. E. parsonage. This class is composed of young people who meet with Mr. and Mrs. Mort every two weeks, and after the study period they play games and conclude the evening's festivities with refreshments. There were 22 present at this last meeting and all report a most enjoyable time.

Birthday Celebration

Friday, December 28, was the birthday of Mrs. E. Crawford of Garfield and also of J. C. Duus of Estacada, a former neighbor of Mrs. Crawford. To celebrate the joint event, a party was given at Mrs. Crawford's in the afternoon, when a number of friends came to pay their respects and offer congratulations. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duus, Fred, Lester and Frank Crawford, Mesdames A. W. Botkin, C. A. Jacques, H. M. Duus, G. De Shields, D. M. Marshal, N. M. Tracy, E. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Gibson, Henan Gibson and Sam Wilson, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gibson on Christmas.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Paddison gave a party at their home. There was a fair attendance, about 45 being present including the babies. The house was in holiday attire, being prettily decorated in evergreens and Christmas bells, and a tiny Christmas tree gracing the china cabinet. The time was very pleasantly spent in social chat, playing cards and dancing. John Irwin of Estacada, with the assistance of Miss Naomi Paddison and Mrs. Brickbealer, furnished the music. Along about midnight refreshments were served. Everyone enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. Kati Douglass was calling at the home of Walter Douglass, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Emily Bergen of Portland was the guest of Miss Naomi Paddison during the weekend.

Geo. Judd was out Monday circulating a petition for a Market Road between Eagle Creek and Sandy.

Dick Gibson butchered two hogs Monday.

Fruit Growers to Meet

To every one interested in the fruit industry in this community:

As intimated in last week's Eastern Clackamas News, the meeting of fruit growers will be held at the Estacada hotel on Monday, Jan. 7, at 8 p. m. sharp. The following representatives of the Growers Cooperative Association will address the meeting; Messrs. H. C. Miller, president; M. J. Newhouse, assistant general manager; W. I. Staley, secretary, and Earl Percy, district manager Willamette valley, on subjects of vital importance to our local growers, which will include Reorganization, The Prune Situation, A Planting Program, Community Dryer, etc., etc.

The local committee is anxious that every fruit grower in this community should be present. This means that those who are NOT members of the association are very cordially invited to attend. We are all laboring for the betterment of conditions in producing, handling and marketing our products. If there is any grower who has questions to ask and would prefer to hand them in writing to the committee before the meeting, they will be gladly received. It is desirable that you should feel that this is your meeting and that it is being called for the benefit of every one interested in the production of fruit. Remember the time and date, Monday, Jan. 7, 8 p. m. sharp. Please make it your business to let this meeting be known.

A. W. Botkin, J. S. Osborne, W. Tucker, B. Schonberg, W. K. Corbin, Committee,
C. A. Jacques, director,
J. G. Hayman, local manager.

An Elfin Dancer

Little Estelle Hansen, at the close of "My Wild Irish Rose," at the Gem theatre Tuesday night, danced a pas seul, which she did in a very pleasing and graceful manner. She seemed completely at home on the stage.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT CLUB MEETING

One of the most successful meetings of the Community Club was held last Friday evening in the Estacada Hotel. The crowd, which, due to the rainy weather was smaller than usual, was very enthusiastic and the program was excellent. The band was present and as usual contributed to the pleasure of the evening.

A number of interesting communications were read, among which was a communication from the Chamber of Commerce of the State Agricultural College at Corvallis. Our club was invited to select a student representative from our community to that institution. The representative is expected to conduct a booth at the Educational Exposition to be held at the college, February 23rd and 26th, 1924, which will exhibit products of this community, and furnish information about Estacada and vicinity. Miss Irene Saling was unanimously elected to be our representative. It was also unanimously voted that the club should do all in its power to make it possible for our community's booth to capture the prize offered for the best exhibit. As a definite start a committee of three was appointed to supply Miss Saling with the products to be exhibited and otherwise assist her in conducting the booth. President Ames selected Mr. John Osborne, Mr. Earl Day and Mr. Jacques to serve on this committee. It is hoped that any person in the community who has suggestions, or articles for the booth will communicate with the committee.

The club was honored by the initial public performance of the "Estacada String Band." This is an organization of girls under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph E. Gates, and the enthusiastic applause which followed their selection proved that those present appreciated something different in the way of music.

The meeting was essentially a road meeting. A delegation had come down from Viola to enlist the support of the club in getting better roads in that section of the county. They were particularly interested in the construction of a market road about six miles in length which would connect two existing market roads. A loop road would thus be formed around the Viola district connecting that section with Estacada. This road would also facilitate the settling of the rich, but now not really accessible foothill country. Mr. Ames promised on behalf of the Community Club that, if the people in the district served by the proposed new roads would meet in Springwater or some other convenient place, a large delegation from the Community Club, including the band, would be present to "drum up" enthusiasm. Mr. Lewellen agreed to arrange for such a meeting at Springwater.

County Judge Cross gave a splendid address on the road situation.

But even road discussion did not diminish the interest in music and two violin numbers by Mr. Theodore Ahlberg accompanied by Mrs. Ahlberg, selections by a quartet, and community singing lead by H. W. Mort, all brought enthusiastic response.

It is clear that this community wants music for it was unanimously voted to observe the National Week of Song, which is the week of Washington's
