Just two things have made it possible for us to give you this 20% reduction on Tuxedo:

1. A reduction in the cost of Kentucky Burley tobacco and in package materials, as well.
2. The consolidation of three of our big plants into one. (Mr. Ford may not be in the tobacco business but he is right about consolidation.)

You know that it is the desire and policy of The American Tobacco Co. to extend to its customers the maximum of service.

Reducing the price of a great favorite like Tuxedo is our idea of delivering this service.

Tuxedo is always FRESH. Every package is—

Former Resident Writes

Holyrood, Kansas, Jan. 23, '24.

DEAR EDITOR:
Have been wanting to write you several times, and always too busy for personal letters.

The paper has been going to Black Wolf, Kansas, but our son Frank has been getting it there as he is managing a wheat elevator there for the Mullins Milling Co. of Denver, so it did not make much difference, even if he did bring it over to us a little out of date.

We now live at Holyrood, Mrs. Somer and I managing a large general store for the Farmers Union. When you get at leisure change the paper to come here.

Find $5.00 to put us in good standing.

Yours truly,
J. A. SOMER.

STATE MARKS AGENT DEPARTMENT

tween the farm and the home. Products go through far too many hands. If farmers received fair profits for their products today, and the middle interests added their present profits and expenses, food products would go to consumers at such high prices that they could not buy. So, in order that this middle toll system may continue, products must be bought at cost, or less, from the farmers.

What farmers must do is to organize against this middle profit system, break it up and deliver their own goods. They must be their own middle men. They must handle their goods all the way from the farm to the retail store.

It looks like a big undertaking and many are discouraged before they start. They declare that such a movement must be national to be effective; that it will need large financing and farmers are not in a position to stand the expense.

They are looking at the wrong end of the movement. Such organization must start locally. Let the counties organize first and when they are organized a state union comes naturally. And how long would it take to have a powerful national organization if each state would walk into the movement of uniting the farmers of each county into strong selling agencies?

If the brokers, commission interests, speculators, wholesalers and retailers can organize strong enough to force farmers to sell their products for less than their production costs, cannot the producers themselves organize strongly enough not to sell to these middle-profit takers?

Have you filed your federal income tax return? Better do so before March 15 or you will be liable to heavy penalties.
