MODERN MAGIC

The picture which was shown Saturday night at the Gem theatre, "The Modern Pioneers," might well have been named "Modern Magic." For the conducting of the various mountain waters into one channel and transferring their mighty volume through steel conduits to dynamos, for producing electric power to supply a vast territory extending for hundreds of miles in circumference, exceeds all the feats of magic performed by the magicians of antiquity.

As the moving panorama was depicted on the screen, the spectator was aroused to amazement and wonder at what the skill and ingenuity of modern engineering can accomplish. The Oak Grove power and light extension project of the P. R. L. & P. Co. is stupendous in thought, conception and execution. Electricity has become so common in actual use that the younger generations who do not remember the days before the electric light, the telephone and the motor operated by electricity were known; and the telegraph was in its infancy, take it as a matter of course, and have slight conception of what its harnessing for their convenience entails.

Such a picture as "The Modern Pioneers," which portrays the vast expenditure on a colossal scale of work and money to obtain the necessary power to generate and transmit the electric juice which lights the metropolis and the village, the palace and the cottage; carries the voices of speakers thousands of miles away, thus annihilating time and distance; hauls the heaviest train loads across the mountains and over the prairies; turns the whirling machinery in the mammoth mills, or the sewing machine of the busy housewife; is of immense educational value.

The writer of the scenario, George J. Kelly is to be warmly congratulated for the way in which he developed and pictured his theme. But another thought comes, and that is that those who are at the helm of affairs in the P. R. L. & P. Co. are men of vision and enterprise to foresee and grasp the opportunity which latent in the present is to materialize in the future. Big business encounters big criticism. Complaint is made that it is grasping and exorbitant in its charges, but seeing the millions of expense and the prodigiousness of the work expended before any return is possible, the marvel is that the rates are not higher. The head officials of the P. R. L. & P. Co. receive high salaries, but if such projects as the Oak Grove extension are due to their talent and initiative they are worth every dollar they are paid.

Will Be at the Gem Theatre

"When Knighthood Was in Flower," the elaborate cosmopolitan production starring Marion Davies, which has been the talk of motion picture circles for months will be shown on the screen at the Gem Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 12th and 13th. The picture is said to mark an epoch in screen production. Not only has more money been spent on it than on any other picture ever made—a million and a half dollars—but the settings designed by Joseph Urban, are said to be the most faithful reproductions of gorgeous court life ever made, and the quality of the big cast out-ranks anything yet seen on the screen.

Max Sagner is working for the Telephone company.

The New Star Car

The new STAR car is as great an advance in the progress of motor transportation as the original Star car which it succeeds.

You find in the new model not merely a variation of the original Star which was the lowest priced standard automobile in the world, but a new creation which makes for itself a new place in the progress of motor transportation, a car selling as low as any standard make which gives more value than any other at its price, a car selling well under a thousand dollars, as perfect in proportion and as well appointed as cars selling well over a thousand dollars.

All the new Star car models are mounted on the improved Star car chassis with its Durant Tubular backbone, famous motor and other mechanical features of advanced design and accessibility. W. C. Bacon is the local agent for this attractive car.

SITE SOUGHT FOR CITY AUTO CAMP

"There can be no life in any community without a civic organization, an organization got together for the improvement of the community." So Herbert Cuthbert of the State Chamber of Commerce opened his address to the Community Club last Friday evening. He emphasized the fact that where people band themselves together for the uplift of the community, growth and advancement must be the result. This town can grow just as large as the people want it to grow. Proper advertising begins at home. Good streets, flower gardens, neat homes, and well kept lawns tell to the people of the town and to strangers who pass through that here is a desirable place to live. However to get a large number of visitors it is necessary to advertise away from home. Advertising should always adhere strictly to the truth, nor is it wise to induce people to come to a community and engage in unprofitable occupations.

Mr. Zink of the railroad company spoke briefly on the relations between railroads and the prosperity of the country. He asserted that the P. R. L. & P. Co. desired to cooperate with the communities which it serves.

The desirability of an auto park was next opened for discussion. It was pointed out that the railroad company owned land which was suitable for such a camp. Mr. Wooster then moved that a committee be appointed to arrange with the company for the establishment of an auto camp on its land. The following committee was appointed: S. E. Wooster, H. C. Stephens, W. F. Cary, Dinty Moore.

Mr. Cary moved that a committee be appointed to wait on the mayor and council for setting apart a dumping ground. Mr. Stephens expressed the hope that the committee would come prepared with a practical recommendation. W. F. Cary, Harry Kitching and James Denning were appointed members of this committee.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served and all present had the opportunity to sample our excellent logan berry juice.
