

CURRINSVILLE ITEMS

The Currinsville school closed Friday, May 23, and marked the most successful school term ever taught at this place. The teachers with the help of the parents, gave the children a picnic on Saturday. All had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kitching have gone to Independence to visit their daughter and to take treatments.

Our road supervisor is doing some good work on the roads.

Charles Hively is back from work for a ten days stay with his family.

Charles Frantz is reported as much better and it is now believed that he will regain his eyesight.

L. Hale seems to be improving right along.

J. H. Looney shipped a truck load of fine hogs to Portland this week.

J. H. Looney (or Jake, as his friends love to call him) is still confined to his bed, but we hope to see him out soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cahill and daughters of Seaside, were in Currinsville Tuesday.

C. E. Looney shipped another carload of telephone poles from Currinsville station this week.

COLTON ITEMS

Charley, Fred and Clara Meilike of Oregon City, drove out to the home of their mother, Saturday evening, returning Sunday.

Chris Bittner who is working on the Plug dryer at Sandy, for his son Frank, came home for the week end. His grandson, Lloyd Boylan came with him.

J. Nelson who recently lost his house by fire, is building another.

The rock crusher was run last week and quite a stretch of road rocked by volunteer labor.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Jackson of Portland spent the week end with the latter's mother, Mrs. Knoll. Little Dick Jackson is staying a few weeks with his grandmother. The Knolls expect to prove up on their homestead this summer.

Ed Hodgkiss has gone above Estacada to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stahlnecker went to Oregon City, Sunday.

VIOLA

Wm. Hicinbothem came here Friday evening from Stevenson, Washington and took his wife to the Oregon City hospital on Saturday to have some teeth extracted and her tonsils removed. She had quite a serious time and although quite weak, he brought her home Wednesday. She is improving slowly and will return to Stevenson.

Mrs. Virgil Purcell has had quite a time the past two weeks nursing a sore foot, caused by a nail running into it.

The new wire fence that has been put up around the Viola cemetery grounds makes quite a needed improvement. A number of people who have relatives and friends buried there, are improving the place cleaning up the lots and graves.

Alice and Leslie Hicinbothem of River Mill spent last week with relatives here while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hicinbothem, were at Hood River to attend the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah convention.

Glen Mattoon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mattoon, has been troubled with the asthma lately and is now taking treatment from a doctor in town.

Misses Dorothy and Minnie Craft were out here on Sunday visiting old neighbors. Their home is now in Portland.

A. C. White and family are getting ready for a trip to Tillamook for the summer.

Miss Hazel Lankin who has been teaching in Eastern Oregon since in September, spent two weeks visiting friends and relatives in Stevenson, Washington, returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lankin, Sunday evening. Her brother Elden brought her home, also her grandmother, Mrs. Simmons.

HARM DONE BY LEAFHOPPERS

Small Insects Inflict Immense Damage on Vineyards, Greatly Lessening Quality of the Fruit.

Grape leafhoppers, tiny, greenish insects always present in greater or less numbers in vineyards, occasionally do considerable damage to foliage and reduce the quality of the fruit, according to entomologists at the New York agricultural experiment station at Geneva. Most of the damage is done by overwintering adult insects which in the early spring feed largely on strawberry and raspberry leaves, although they are also found on blackberry, currant, gooseberry, catnip, Virginia creeper, burdocks, beech and sugar maple, declare the station specialists. Neglected fence rows, brush, weeds, tall grass, etc., furnish ideal winter protection for the pests, and vineyards in the neighborhood of such places usually suffer most from leafhopper injury. The adults lay their eggs on the grapevines and the young hoppers hatch out in large numbers, usually about the beginning of summer.

Cleaning up the hibernating places is one effective step toward combating leafhoppers, while very good results have been obtained from spraying over the young hoppers with nicotine sulphate in water or in bordeaux mixture.

ESTACADA HOTEL

LAST week we were busy building a Baseball Park, but from now on we will do our utmost to run this Hotel just a little better than ever, but we must have your co-operation to make it a success. People, do not feel backward about coming in. There is always a high power welcome awaiting you.

This is the house of personal service, we think it is very nice and clean. Won't you look it over

Yours very cordially,
M. J. MOORE.

Library News

The librarian is pleased to announce that it now has several of the latest books, which will be loaned out for 5 cents a week until they are paid for, then they go on the shelves with the other books. Being unable to purchase these books while they are so high in price, and wishing at all times to make the library popular and to please the patrons, the association has adopted this method, as many other libraries have done.

Other new books are constantly being added to the already nice selection, which are donated by friends of the library. In fact the space for books is becoming limited; we are outgrowing our present quarters.

The library yard has been made more attractive, by the president of the association, Mrs. W. J. Moore, and the living rooms renovated.

The librarian surely appreciates the gifts of flowers and to those who have presented them, we extend thanks.

The annual meeting of the association takes place July 1, and it is sincerely hoped that there will be a good attendance. All members of the association are expected to be present.

Nina B. Ecker,
Librarian.

GOT EVEN ON THE CHICKENS

Parrot Had Learned Its Lesson and Was Determined Others Should Do Likewise.

A man had a parrot of which he was very proud, and which he had instructed to say many interesting things. An uncle from whom he had expectations was coming to stay with him, and he thought it would please his relation if he could teach the parrot to say, "Good morning, uncle." Accordingly, he said to Polly: "Say 'Good morning, uncle.'"

The parrot said: "Good morning." "Good morning, uncle." The parrot simply said: "Good morning."

Over and over again the man repeated: "Good morning, uncle." The parrot, however, refused to say the word "uncle."

The man lost his temper and seizing the parrot by the neck took it into the garden and threw it in the chicken house.

Later, when he calmed down, he went to get Polly and restore the bird to its cage. To his dismay he found all the chickens dead except one, whom Polly was clutching, saying: "Say 'Good morning, uncle.' Say 'Good morning, uncle.'"
