

Local Nine Lose to St. Johns

It was a dandy ball game for 7 innings and then things happened. Bronson who had pitched good ball, weakened in the 8th, hit a batter, issued a pass and allowed 3 hits, and these assisted by a passed ball and two fielding errors brought in 4 runs more for the visitors. At this stage Duncan was called to the rescue and 2 more runs came across before he could get under way and retire the side. It was a game replete with base running, hits, errors, passed balls, wild pitches and a close score for 7 innings. From the fans' standpoint it was a good game to watch, but a hard one for the scorer. Scherner was in the lineup and greatly added to the infield, as well as dropping 2 over the fence for 2 bases each. Too bad they were not a little more to the north. One or two more games and the fans who stay away because they imagine this year's team does not compare with the 1923 aggregation will miss something.

Arnold Lovelace had one of his very good days even playing out of his regular position, handling his 9 chances at first perfectly and garnering 2 nice hits out of four times up.

	Runs	Hits	Errors

To Surprise Mother

Last Friday morning the sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hall with their families motored out from Portland to give their mother a birthday surprise party. After spreading her table with good things to eat they gave her some very nice presents. Mrs. Nettie Carson also presented her with some beautiful flowers. All returned home in the evening having spent a very happy day.

Suffers Dizzy Spell

While H. L. McKenney was returning home from Portland Monday noon, and a little this side of Eagle Creek, he was seized with a spell of vertigo, to which he is subject, and rendered unconscious. His car overturned on its side, and the driving wheel was pressing against his breast. Passers by came to his rescue and brought him home. Neither he nor his car, fortunately, was seriously hurt, although he was considerably shaken up.

OBITUARY

One good coyote died by gunshot wound near the home of E. T. Davis, in Garfield, at 5 a. m. Wednesday, May 28, 1924. The date of its birth is not known but on good authority it is placed between the years of 1850 and 1923. Her habits were not good until lately, but now she is considered reformed and gone to the limbo of good coyotes. A half dozen puppies mourn her loss. The county will pay five dollars towards her funeral expenses and support her orphans.

It had been rumored that the "wedding bells" would ring today for a well known couple, but as yet there has been no verification of the rumor.
