New Forest Road Map Out

A Washington State Road and Recreation map has just been received at the U. S. Forest Service Portland office, and is available for distribution to the traveling public. This is the new and revised map which proved so popular with the automobile public last summer. The new map contains the latest road and campground data, and other useful information. All paved and gravel roads are shown in color, as well as truck highways and other auto roads. Other information includes directory of forest supervisors, national forest boundaries, forest service recreation areas and national parks. There is a complete list and tabulated description of the 110 municipal camp grounds of the stat, compiled by F. W. Mathias, secretary of the Hoquiam Chamber of Commerce. There is also a complete list of Washington state parks, with a brief description of each.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

The democrats finally came to their senses and nominated John W. Davis, former U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain, for president. They are to be congratulated on their choice as Mr. Davis is a Virginian gentleman of learning and culture, who will fill the position, if elected, with dignity and good sense.

Charles Bryan, the governor of Nebraska and brother of Wm. J. Bryan, was chosen for vice-president. The two will make a good team and if the country is democratically inclined they will give the republicans a good run for their money.

Wants Oregon Dairy Stock

The reputation of Oregon dairy stock has attracted California dairymen and farmers who must go into the markets to restock, following their severe losses in the recent foot and mouth epidemic. The plan is for cooperative buying under the auspices of the university extension service with W. M. Regan, head of dairy husbandry at the Davis farm, in charge.

Mr. Regan has asked Paul V. Maris, director of the Oregon college extension service, and P. M. Brandt, chief of dairying at the station, to help locate stock growers with dairy stock for sale. The word has been passed along to county agents who will help put their growers in touch with this new market, and to breeders with the right stock for sale.

The cows may be either high grade Holsteins and Guernseys or good grade Jerseys and Ayrshires. They must be good cows or heifers capable of producing 300 pounds of fat a year when they are mature. They must be sound in health, good breeders and free of tuberculosis. Unless from herds tested under federal or state supervision, every animal in the herd must be tested with the agreement that if 10 per cent or more react to the tuberculin test, none from the herd will be accepted.

At least a trainload is wanted and probably several trainloads. Owners are asked to report the breed, number in each breed, and approximate average price, with such other data as are indicated in the order. They will report through their county agent if any in their county, and to Professor Brandt at the college, Corvallis, if their county has no agent.

Oregon is in a favorable position to fill the order. Her cows led all cows in cow testing associations in May as per latest report of the federal division of dairying for the eleven western states.

Mrs. P. S. Stamp and sons Harold and Roger left yesterday for North Beach, Wash. They will later go on to Tacoma.

COUNCIL APPOINTS NEW CITY MARSHAL

The city council met in regular session Tuesday night, in the city hall, with Mayor H. C. Stephens presiding. T. H. Morton, Roy Wilcox and U. S. Morgan, members of the council, answered to roll call by Recorder J. K. Ely. Those absent were John Osborne and J. F. Lovelace.

After the reading of minutes of two previous meetings, a number of bills were allowed. In the matter regarding hiring a marshal, the question was again taken up and resulted in the nomination of J. H. Denning, which was seconded and Mr. Denning was unanimously elected.

S. E. Wooster being present, announced that he had found a place for a city dumping ground and the council gladly accepted his proposition. The place is located north of the Crawford garage, on some swampy lots, which would be more valuable if filled up.

Members representing the Library Association and the Eastern Clackamas band, were present and stated that they were talking of a celebration on Labor Day, and asked the council to appoint a committee to assist. This was promptly done, the committee being, S. E. Wooster, J. F. Lovelace and Roy Wilcox.

A representative from the Fairbanks Co. presented a proposition of putting in a pumping station, for a case of emergency, should the present water supply become exhausted during the summer. Nothing was done, however, at this time, but a more thorough examination into the situation will be made.

New School Head
