

A Delightful Evening

Mr. and Mrs. H. LaBarre of Log LaBarre, gave an informal party Tuesday evening, in honor of Mrs. W. E. Essick of Los Angeles, who with her daughter, is a guest at this well known hostelry. Mrs. Essick is the daughter of Mr. and E. H. Bennett of Portland, old friends of the LaBarres. Mrs. Essick will soon leave for Seattle to visit her sister. Her husband is the manager of the Vernon baseball club.

The invited guests from Estacada and vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sparks, Mrs. Mae Reed and Miss Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ahlberg, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lovelace, Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jacques, and Fred Hebding. Other guests were Q. Dean Langworthy and son of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, and Mrs. R. G. Morse of Portland, and Mrs. Tom Carter.

The affair was most delightful, the main feature being a number of songs by Mrs. Essick who has a well cultured voice and is a trained singer. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ted Ahlberg. After a number of songs, the floor was cleared for dancing, which included an old fashioned Virginia reel, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ammacker furnishing the music.

Evangelistic Meetings

The meetings being held at the Springwater Presbyterian church by the young lady evangelists have been very successful and are expected so to continue.

Miss Helen Duff spoke last Sunday evening to a full house on the subject of "Heaven." The young people's choir helped to make the song service a rousing and a lively one. Miss Evangeline Duff sang the beautiful piece "Sometimes I grow homesick for Heaven."

Miss Duff certainly uses her Irish wit and humor in her evangelistic work and the good congregations show this is appreciated. The coming Sunday is to be the big rally of the series. The speaker will give the story of her life and of the Young People's work of which she is now director. Special music will also be a feature of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Sines and family, late of Wisconsin, moved out from Portland last Saturday, and are occupying one of A. E. Sparks' places across the river a short distance. Mrs. Sines is a niece of Mr. Sparks.
