PRUNE INDUSTRY HINGES ON COST OF PRODUCTION

The Oregon prune grower who knows his production costs and where to reduce them is shown in the recent cost survey by the college extension service to be the one most likely to survive. The survival and growth of the whole prune industry in the next decade will be largely governed by accurate knowledge of costs and efficient production derived therefrom.
The survey sought to determine as fully as possible the following points:
1; Cost of producing prunes and all elements thereof.
2; Cash and non-cash costs of producing prunes.
3; The specific cost of drying prunes.
4; Yield and minimum price per pound necessary to pay the cost of production.
5; Major factors in prune production influencing costs and profits.
6; Most efficient practices in prune production.
7; Requirements in units of labor for each operation in producing prunes.
8; Economic relations of the prune enterprise to the whole farm.
9; The final purpose of the study is to furnish the growers with sufficient facts to enable them to make profitable changes in the practices on their individual farms and to represent their industry intelligently whenever occasion arises.
To eliminate seasonal variations affecting yield, practices, amount and cost of labor, and other factors the survey is to run through three seasons ending in 1925. The latest report covers only some major findings of the 1923 survey.—Industrial Journalism.

Ford News Story
Detroit Mich.—Christmas this year will bring automobile ownership to thousands of persons who never before even thought they would ever enjoy such a thing.
Of course, the giving of an automobile at Christmas time has been a practice for years. Families have bought new automobiles to replace old ones, the thoughtful husband has surprised his wife with a new car and indulgent yet practical father, to retain larger cars for family use, have played the role of Santa Clause and presented sons and daughters with Ford runabouts or Coupes as personal cars, a practice which, by the way, is becoming quite popular.
But for those to whom the ownership of an automobile has heretofore seemed impossible, the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan is now playing the role of Santa Clause. Thousands of persons who enrolled under the plan early in the year and made their weekly payments will this Christmas take delivery of their cars, and receive a Christmas gift that gives year 'round pleasure.
Approximately 150,000 persons already have secured their cars under the Ford Weekly Purchase plan and this number will be materially increased before the close of the approaching Christmas season.

The convenient manner in which payments may be made under the plan and other attractive features connected with it, make it possible for most anyone to purchase a Ford car. Dealers throughout the country already have begun to report enrollments of persons who plan on a Ford for Christmas next year and it is expected that similar enrollments will show a large gain during the next month or so, for people of limited means everywhere are finding this an easy and practical way to purchase a car.
Rural patrons of the Estacada postoffice who have recently located in this locality should send a list of all the names of their families to the postmaster.
Mr. and Mrs. James Denning had as their guests last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bell and baby, Helen Beaver of Sandy, Mr. and Roy Douglass and children, Mr. and Walt Douglass and Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass of Douglass Ridge.
Mrs. E. T. Jones spent the week-end visiting friends and relatives in Portland.
Chas. H. Duncan of Garfield was a Gresham visitor last Saturday.
