STORKS will live ONLY in REPUBLICS

—Or so people used to think in the 16th century.

This is the 20th century. But we are still superstitious; for example, when we pay fancy prices for eastern lubricants in spite of the fact that the best crudes so far discovered for the manufacture of a motor oil are obtained from wells on the Pacific Coast.

Experience explodes the anti-western oil superstition

Zerolene actually lubricates better—and because it does it lubricates more cars in the Pacific Coast states than any other oil made—low and high priced cars alike. The most advanced refining process is this Company's patented high-vacuum process, during the use of which Zerolene is submitted to 15 positive checks for quality. Zerolene's special filtration through 40 tons of Florida Fuller's Earth gives you an oil that's absolutely pure and safe.

A longer working life for your motor

Zerolene will increase the gasoline mileage of your car, reduce carbon accumulation and lengthen its working life.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene—ask for it by name.

Get the Facts!

A series of independent and impartial reports showing the experience of large users with Zerolene has been collected in our booklet, "Why Pay Tribute to a Superstition?" Ask any Standard Oil Company representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

Insist on ZEROLENE even if it does COST LESS

SANDON-WARD WEDDING

A wedding of interest to many in this community occurred last Saturday evening in Astoria, when Miss M. Dorothy Ward of Knappton, Washington, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Sandon of Warrenton, Oregon. The ceremony was performed by the Presbyterian minister and was attended by the intimate relatives and close friends of the young couple. Mrs. Sandon is a graduate of the Oregon Normal School and was a teacher in the Estacada grade school for two years and last year was employed in the Astoria grade schools. Mr. Sandon is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College and a member of Phi Sigma Kappa. The young couple will reside in Warrenton.

HISTORIC RUSH OF '76 REPRODUCED IN NEW FILM

Two great "rushes" across the continent marks the history of the West's development. The first was the rush of the forty-niners from the East to the gold-fields of California and the free lands of Oregon. The second was the rush of '76 by the farmers of the Mississippi valley to the buffalo fields of Montana and Wyoming.

It is this latter rush that forms the theme of Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd," which William K. Howard directed for Paramount. It will be the chief film attraction at the Liberty Theatre where it opens next Saturday for a three day's run.

The picture vividly recreates the old west of fifty years ago. Throughout the plains of the mid-west, huge herds of buffalo roamed at will. Then, in the spring of 1876, news spread that hides were bringing as much as three dollars each in the east. Immediately there was a rush. Persons from all over the country and from all walks of life started for the buffalo fields. Perhaps the greatest influx was from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The story of "The Thundering Herd" tells of the journey of a group of hardy men and women from their farms in the east to the vast, uncivilized territory of the far west, of the hardships they suffered, of the dangers they encountered, the obstacles they overcame and of their ultimate success when they arrived at their destination.

The picture is packed from start to finish with thrilling incidents and dynamic action. Two of the mighty scenes in the production show a terrific battle between five hundred Indians and a handful of white men, and a mad stampede of two thousand fear-crazed buffalo.

A talented cast has been assembled which is headed by four featured players—Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton.
