DISTRICT RELIGIOUS EDUCATIONAL RALLY

Members of the Sunday schools and churches of the Eastern Clackamas county and their friends united in a very successful meeting of the Oregon Council of Religious Education, held in the Guttridge grove at Springwater, Sunday July 26. There was an attendance of 256 in the various departments of the Sunday school, a session of which was held just after the opening of the conference, and this number was largely increased during the day. The basket dinner and social hour at noon added to the pleasure of the day and much interest and enthusiasm was shown throughout the conference.

Speakers of the day and their subjects were as follows: Rev. B. F. Clay, Estacada, "The Book"; Rev. T. L. Kirkwood, Springwater, "The Sunday school for the Young People and the Young People for the Sunday School"; Mrs. Jean M. Johnson, State Secretary, "Our Reasonable Service"; and Mr. H. W. Stone, general secretary, Y. M. C. A., Portland who spoke on the present day conflict in the Church and how it should be met.

The members of the Eastern Clackamas Band were much appreciated contributors to the program, and were very generous with their selections. Mr. Fred and Mr. Harold Horner gave a beautiful vocal duet, "Watchman, What of the Night?"; "Gloria in Excelsis"; "Radiant Morn" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" were given by the choir under the direction of Mr. David Horner and a number of beautiful old hymns were greatly enjoyed by both choir and audience, under the same able leadership.

The report of the committee for nomination of officers for the coming year was adopted in its entirety and the officers declared elected as follows:

President, Edward Shearer; vice-president, M. C. Glover; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Betty Weatherby; executive committee, M. C. Glover, Mrs. J. G. Hayman and G. E. Lawrence.

The committee on resolutions offered the following: "WHEREAS, the tendency of the times is toward the lowering of the crime age, due to the breaking down of discipline in the Christian homes, Therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Eastern Clackamas District of the Oregon Council of Religious Education, in regular session assembled at Springwater, Oregon, this 26th day of July, 1925, that we do earnestly deplore the use of Sunday (which is commonly used for religious instruction and worship) for dances, rodeos and similar activities, and that we do respectfully urge the City Council of Estacada to take such action as may be necessary to prohibit the same; and be it further

RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Estacada City Council, and a copy furnished the Eastern Clackamas News for publication."

Another resolution expressed the appreciation of the very fine work done by the people of Springwater in arranging for the entertainment of the Conference was read. Both resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Conference.

Announcement was made of other District conferences to be held soon, and particularly of the County rally to be held at Colton, August 30. The program closed with all present feeling that this had been a very helpful and inspiring meeting.

BABY PEGGY HAS STRONG HUMAN ROLE

As the "proof of the pudding lies in the eating," the proof of dramatic aptitude for motion pictures lies in the reflection of one's talent on the screen.

When Baby Peggy, the tiny star of "The Family Secret," the Universal-Jewel production which opens Sunday night at the Liberty Theatre, was doing small parts in comedies, rumors used to float out of the movie colony in California that the child was due for great things. She was called a "Baby Bernhardt" and other complimentary things. The child has a naturalness that is winning, and a knowledge of mimicry that is cleverly utilized. She can look sad and cry, too in a manner that touches the heart strings. In addition to her ability the child has an unusually charming "baby personality and beautiful eyes."

DELPH CREEK HATCHERY DELIVERS MANY TROUT

J. C. Moreland, superintendent of the Delph Creek Trout Hatchery is busy sending out 500,000 fish which are being used in stocking the lakes in eastern Clackamas county along the Skyline trail which will be opened to the public at a later date. There are approximately 55 or 60 lakes lying between the snow clad peaks of Hood and Jefferson which are receiving a portion of these fish. These lakes are all within a radius of four or five miles and should prove an interesting and profitable recreation spot for fishermen in the years to come.

The problem of transporting these small fry from the hatchery to their new home has been solved by means of the automobile truck and the pack horse. The fish are transported from the Delph Creek hatchery to ponds which are used as temporary homes until they are placed in large cans and loaded onto the pack cans and delivered to the place which will be their permanent home. About 300 fish are placed in a can and it is planned that the fish will reach their destination before the extreme heat of the day makes it inadvisable to carry them farther. Sixteen horses and two packers are now at work delivering these fish.

All precautions possible are taken in regard to the care and handling of these fish in order that they reach their destination in first class condition. A record of the growth made by fish planted last year under the same conditions shows that the fish have in that short period grown to seven and eight inch lengths. The natural food of these lakes together with the excellent condition of the fish when planted is largely responsible for the rapid growth made.

The same variety of fish that are dying in such large numbers at the Oakridge station are reported to be in splendid condition at the Delph Creek hatchery.

Several improvements have been planned recently for the Delph Creek hatchery. In order to secure a greater flow of pure water, 746 feet of 12-inch wooden pipe is now being laid and other changes are planned.

BORING HAS A DISASTROUS FIRE

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home and place of business of S. E. Waller and the home and garage of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan about 3 A. M. Monday. Other property nearby was threatened for a time.

The places destroyed were the living quarters, store confectionery, pool room, barber shop and a dancehall containing a player piano and a motion picture machine.

Mr. Waller received painful burns in attempting to save a portion of his personal effects. Mr. Morgan was confined in a Portland hospital and Mrs. Morgan was a guest of Gresham friends.

The absence of a wind and the timely efforts of fire fighters saved nearby property from damage. It is understood that a portion of the loss was covered by insurance.

"CODE OF THE WEST" IS A ROARING WESTERN ROMANCE

The direct and drastic methods of the West were never better illustrated than in the absorbing photoplay in which a sturdy son of Arizona teaches a flapper daughter of New York the a-b-c of living and loving.

The young westerner, unused to the ways of the East, falls an easy victim to the charms of Georgia, who flirts outrageously with him but laughs at him when he proposes to her. The realization that he has only been playing with her infuriates Cal and he forces her to marry him.

This is the beginning of an unusual series of events that reach a terrific climax during the height of terrific forest fire. Owen Moore has the strong role of the cowboy-caveman, and Constance Bennett gives a good account for herself as the flighty, flirty flapper. Others in the cast are Mabel Bullin, Charles Ogley and David Butler in the Liberty Theatre on Saturday, August 1.

A. Smith drove to Stayton, Monday on business, returning to Estacada on Wednesday. He was accompanied home by Miss Stella King of Union Hill.
