VISITORS ECSTATIC ABOUT ESTACADA

Estacada is growing in grace as it wore in the mind of the overworked professional man and woman.

During the past week "Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Becker, San Francisco," as the Hotel Estacada reveals, were visitors during Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Mine Host Moore delivering them at a Portland hotel during the evening of Sunday.

It so happens that Mrs. Becker is recovering from a serious surgical operation, and that her husband is superintendent of the southern division of the American Red Cross society. Worn out with professional duties and grief sustained in watching our shell shocked and gassed soldiers fighting—and losing—their battle for life, he and Mrs. Becker sought quiet. By mere accident Estacada was learned of and they came here.

"In all our travels, and we have journeyed many thousands of miles," this couple tells The News, "we have never found a spot to compare with your beautiful little city." We have, as a matter of course, had more elaborate hotel apartments, more modern conveniences, if you will, but never has such rare hospitality, such bounteous good will, such a home, been our good fortune. Nor have we ever been closer to nature than in the wild canyons of your neighboring mountains where, as Mine Host Moore says: "The river runs standing on edge."

Dr. Becker assures The News "We are coming again, and our friends are coming. Also, I shall suggest to the United States government that some of the money being wasted on undesirable hospital sites should be diverted to Estacada, where we can have dear old Nature as an ally in behalf of the poor fellows who gave their all for us and who are spending their last few days at sanitariums where medicines have no ally and where, as a matter of cold fact, the doctor himself cannot hope."

WILL LOCATE HERE

Another move forward in our civic affairs was made when Dr. W. G. Zurbuchen of Portland, a chiropractor, was induced to establish a part-time office in our city.

He plans on locating his headquarters at Linn's Inn, where he will be at your service Thursday and Friday evenings for the time being.

Dr. Zurbuchen is on the staff of the Beneficial association of the P. E. Co. and is considered to be a competent and conscientious practitioner.

ATTENTION ODD FELLOWS

Every member of Estacada lodge I. O. F. is expected to report at the lodge room Saturday evening of this week and be ready to take part in the drill squad which is to put Estacada lodge on the map at the grand lodge sessions in Portland.

SPRINGWATER NEWS

Sunday guests at the George Perry home were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Benham and children from Lents. The Benham children Jean, Frances and Virginia, remained for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallie McMurphy and son of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Smiley Lovelace of Estacada were Monday callers at the J. F. Moger home. The McMurphys will be remembered as having lived here a few years ago on the Gable place.

Those from here attending the Clackamas county Sunday School rally at Colton Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shearer and Gilbert, William and Edward, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson and Clara and Everett, Elva Shibley and Art Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood had as their guest for a few days last week an old friend, Mr. Moorhouse.

Mrs. Annie Hull was visiting for a few days last week at the home of her son Clarence.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald the past week were Mr. and Mrs. McPherson and daughter of Los Angeles. Mrs. McPherson is a sister of Mr. McDonald.

Included in the number of huckleberry pickers going from here recently were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horner and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hansen. All report plenty of berries.

George and August Genserowski left Sunday for Sheridan, Oregon, to help in the hop harvest at the home of their brother Ernest.

CAN WE GIVE THEM UP

George Fairchild, publisher and close friend of General Leonard Wood, advances the interesting theory that the United States would have no right to cut loose from the Philippines, even if it desired to do so.

Mr. Fairchild aired his views in the form of a statement issued at White Court, where he had gone to deliver a personal message of greeting from General Wood to President Coolidge.

"I do not believe that under the constitution congress would have the right to relinquish territory once acquired," Mr. Fairchild said. "The islands have been taken over by the United States and we have no right to alienate them unless it were done in war time."

Mr. Fairchild's statement was provoked by an inquiry as to whether he agreed with Representative Chas. Underhill (Rep., Mass.) who recently called at White Court after touring the Philippines and declared that the country would not be ready for independence for many years to come.

Here is something interesting to think about. Just where in the constitution can you find any provision for giving up territory belonging to America and abandoning citizens of the United States?

ONE THING WE DO NOT NEED

When a spokesman for the president declares that he sees no reason why a special session of congress should be held in the fall he has the agreement of just about everybody except those who have an ax or two to grind in a special session. We are all doing quite well without congress and doubtless can stagger along at the present rate until it comes time for a regular congressional session. —Springfield Union.

CALIFORNIA BUYER CONTRACTS LOCAL CROP

With all her boastful advertising of the excellency of California prunes, our neighboring state has no hesitancy about coming to Clackamas county, Oregon, for a supply.

A California buyer last week purchased the Springwater crop of prunes at an average price of $30.

GEORGE ITEMS

School began Monday, August 31, with 21 pupils present, and some of the parents were there too. There are seven beginners this year and in all nearly double the number of pupils attending last year. Mrs. Elsie Dew is again teacher.

Quite a number of people from this neighborhood were in the mountains last week after huckleberries.

Mrs. Harold Joyner and children visited in Portland last week with her sister, Mrs. R. Maxwell.

The Christian Endeavors will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Zwirman on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sr. and son, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ross and family, Mrs. Bateson and daughter Marian, and Miss Dora Voderberg, all of Portland, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson Sunday.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Hallie MacMurphy and little son were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smiley Lovelace Monday, returning to Portland Monday evening to visit with relatives before returning to their own home in Los Angeles. They were former residents of Springwater, having resided on the John Reid place. About four years ago they left for Los Angeles, where they have since resided.

In a letter to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sagner, Max and Erven report that they are very well pleased with the community of Floristan, California, and are hard at work. Mr. and Mrs. Max Sagner and family arrived there after a delightful trip overland.

George Pointer has improved the appearance of his building at the corner of Second and Zobrist by giving it a new coat of paint. The signs on The News office are attracting considerable attention and he is at work on a new sign for the Furniture Exchange.

The vacation Bible school which has been meeting each Tuesday afternoon throughout the summer at the Methodist church under the direction of Mrs. Rankin, closed their work with a lively picnic at the Estacada park last Tuesday afternoon.

George Geil, proprietor of the Dependable auto repair shop, has just equipped his shop for reboring, grinding, acetylene welding and electric drilling, and is prepared to handle any and all work along these lines.

Mrs. E. Steiner, mother of A. Sagner, is reported to be seriously ill at the home of a daughter in Yakima, Washington. Mrs. Steiner was a resident of Estacada for a number of years and has a large number of friends who regret to learn of her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Wooster had a beautiful display of choice dahlias in their office window Tuesday of this week. The blooms are exceptionally large and of a wide variety of color. They were grown in the Wooster yard on the boulevard.

Ernest Rynning is enjoying a short vacation in southern Oregon with a party of friends. They planned on angling for some of the fine trout reported to be in the Rogue river.

Anyone wanting radio parts inquire at the Electric Store. adv

VIOLA

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Jubb are the proud parents of a baby boy, who has been named Tommie Kenneth.

Mrs. Griffith and her son Bear left for their home in California, after spending two months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lankins, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibb of California and Mrs. Gibb's brother, Mr. Hall, and family of Portland were out here Sunday. They still own their farm here. Elmer Lankin has it rented at the present time.

Mr. Beech and Brother Everett, Patton of Oak Grove were out this way calling on old friends last Sunday. Rev. J. J. Patton, their father, had charge of the church here for three years some years ago.

Mrs. Theorin Olson and little son of Portland were visiting at the Randolph home and Miss Bookout, a friend of Miss Randolph, was also a guest at the same time. Miss Bookout is a teacher in an Eastern Oregon school.

C. Lynde and son Millard are moving on to the old Morgan place at Redland, which they have recently rented.

UPPER EAGLE CREEK

Last Tuesday Mrs. S. J. Eddy, son and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lightfoot and daughter, motored out from Portland, being the dinner guest of Mrs. B. Gibson.

Orville Douglass, son of Bert Douglass, is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass. He had the misfortune to break an arm some two weeks ago and he was brought to Portland to have it set. After staying at the hospital for a few days he came out to make his relatives a visit.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Will Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Denning.

Several from this neighborhood went to the mountains Sunday to pick huckleberries.

Virgil and Glenn Douglass, of Montgomery, Alabama, surprised their folks Sunday evening by coming to see them. They motored from Montgomery to Eagle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rehberg have moved to lower Eagle Creek.

Roy Douglass purchased a new drill recently.

Mrs. R. B. Gibson attended church at Dover Sunday afternoon.

ESTACADA SCHOOLS TO OPEN

The Estacada schools will open Monday, September 14, one week earlier than last year. In the high school five of last year's teachers are returning. They are O. T. Olson, principal; Miss Lillie Homedew, home economics; Miss Alta Kershner, English; Paul C. Giddings, manual training and athletics; Charles Wilson, mathematics. Three new teachers have been elected: Miss Belva Beebe of Dallas, commerce; Miss Claudia Plank of Portland, history and languages; Ralph Baker of Gaston, science. These three instructors were graduated from the Oregon Agricultural college last June.

In the grades three of last year's teachers were retained, being Miss Lillian Schmidt, Miss Lyla McKenney, and Miss Maude Sherman. The other grade teachers will be Mrs. Nellie Gardner of Portland, who has taught in the schools of West Portland; Miss Rowena Hermann of Albany, who has been teaching in Shedd, Oregon, and Miss Thelma Sunderland of Portland, who has taught in Hood River county.

FINED FOR LEAVING FIRE

Mrs. Tucka, Warm Springs Indian woman about 70 years old, was brought before Justice of the Peace S. E. Wooster last Tuesday night, charged with leaving a fire burning near Squaw mountain. She was fined $5.00 and costs but the fine was remitted.

Agent Mooreoff of the Warm Spring reservation brought the aged woman to Estacada following her arrest on the reservation.

FLORAL EXHIBIT MONDAY

The floral exhibit planned for Labor day will be held in the Estacada Pharmacy and all persons exhibiting flowers are urged to bring containers.

M. J. Kerkes, manager of the Index Produce Co. of Portland, and Jas. Smith of Oakgrove were in Estacada last Saturday on business.

SPORT OF KINGS AT SPRINGWATER

According to the report of the Springwater Fair board an added attraction has been secured for that enterprising community this year in the form of horse racing. Considerable excitement prevails, as seven horses have already been promised and seven or eight more are expected to enter as the contest draws nearer.

At a well attended meeting held last Saturday at the Grange hall plans for the coming Springwater fair were discussed and committees were appointed to carry out the program as outlined in the various departments.

Keen interest was manifest in the discussion relative to the livestock, agricultural, culinary, fancy work and juvenile exhibits; but when it was proposed to put on a horse race enthusiasm was unbounded. Peter Erickson and Ed Shener, the only two surviving members of the Old Dobbin class, with their faithful friends and allies tied alongside the ill-smelling tin buggies of today, or munching the newmown hay out of the Grange stable mangers, felt just a little bit too stiff to challenge the boys to a horseback race, but felt that they might be able to make it a bit interesting for them in handling the ribbons in a driving contest.

The races will be held in the afternoon, after the governor's address, in one of Mr. Guttridge's stubble fields. The track will be staked off and put in shape beforehand.

Right now is the time for all to get their horses in shape for this event. An entry fee of $1.00 will be charged each horse entered. The money derived from entrance fees will go to the winners.

Remember the date, Friday, September 18. A basket dinner will be the order for the noon hour. Sandwiches will be sold during the day by the Ladies Aid of the Springwater church, in addition to the regular ice cream stand. Coffee will be furnished free to all desiring it.

Make your plans now to spend the day at Springwater.

CLEVER CARTOON

Master Robert Gerke, aged 12, is the guest of the Fred Wilhelm family at Dinty Moore's park, has presented the popular proprietor of this newest tourist camp with a remarkably clever drawing depicting Jiggs at a phone with Dinty listening at the opposite end of the wire. The colloquy:

"Is this Dinty Moore's?"

"You told 'em! Stop!

Master Bob's family will do well to keep tab on the youngster or one of those Portland dailies will have the lad on the staff of illustrators.

SANDY-ESTACADA GAME

The Estacada baseball team will meet the Sandy nine on the local diamond Monday, September 7, at 3:00 p. m.

Sandy is planning on a large delegation in attendance. Your home team needs your support.

Mrs. Harry Smith and daughter and a nephew left last Friday morning for a visit with relatives and friends at Bellingham, Washington.
