NOTES AND COMMENT

Chad Alton in Sutherland Sun

The Chinese may be accused of another case of nature faking. They are putting fish eggs under hens to hatch out. The spawn is put in empty egg shells, sealed, and then put under the hen who does the rest. It would be interesting however to see the look on friend rooster when his mate brings forth her brood and well might her comb turn red with blushes at this seeming evidence of her infidelity.

The Stillmans whose sayings and doings and activities in the courts for some time past over the legitimacy of a child and other matters of a nasty nature, causing a bad taste in one's mouth, have made up and flown to the arms of each other. Alright! Good luck to them! Forget it!

PETER RABBIT WILL VISIT ESTACADA

Once upon a time four rabbits, whose names were Flopsy, Mopsy Cottontail and Peter lived in a sand bank under a big tree with their mother.

One morning the bunnies went out to play and Mrs. Rabbit told them to be sure and stay in the lane and not to go to Mr. McGregor's garden.

Flopsy, Mopsy, and Cottontail went out into the lane to pick blackberries, but Peter Rabbit went straight to the garden. He ate some lettuce and some radishes and some carrots. Then Mr. McGregor saw him. Away they went. Round and round he chased Peter. Away went Peter's shoes and still he ran. He had almost escaped when he ran into a gooseberry net. The buttons on his coat got caught but just as Mr. McGregor was ready to catch him, he slipped away and left his coat behind.

He hopped into a tool shed and hid in a watering can. The farmer looked everywhere for him and was just ready to give up when Peter sneezed.

Of course he had to run again but Mr. McGregor was so tired that he didn't follow him very long out went back to work.

Peter rested for awhile and then decided to go home. He searched and searched for the gate but could not find it. Then he sat down and started to cry. Suddenly he heard a noise. He peeked around a big cabbage and saw the farmer hoeing, and wonder of wonders, beyond him was the gate. Mr. McGregor's back was turned, so Peter made a dash for the gate. He did not stop until he reached home.

He was sick that night and had

OBITUARY

Mrs. Nova Smith Matson was born July 30, 1905, at Boring, Ore. and departed this life at her mother's home in Oak Grove, Ore., at 2:00 p.m. February 21, 1926, age 20 years, 6 months and 22 days.

The departed had graduated at the Estacada high school in 1923, and on April 15th, 1925 she was united in marriage to Walter A. Matson of Portland.

Her grand parents, both on her mother's side, and on her father's side are still living. On the Smith side there were 9 children and 22 grand children, and this is the first death to occur in the family.

Mrs. Matson leaves to mourn her departure her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Oak Grove, Oregon, two brothers, Warren and James junior, her husband, Walter A. Matson, and an infant son, besides many other relatives and a host of friends.

Death came very suddenly as a result of pneumonia. She had only been sick about four days, and her condition was not considered dangerous even up to within three hours of her death.

Funeral services were held from the Estacada Methodist church, with H. H. Tucker of Milwaukie, funeral director.

Rev. Rankin preached from Job 8:14 and Rom. 5:5 on "The Two Kinds of Hope." Mrs. Harry Kitching and Mrs. Geo. Lawrence sang with Mrs. J. G. Hayman as accompanist. The pallbearers were former classmates of the deceased in the Estacada high school. Interment was made in the Estacada cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thanks to all who have been so kind during our recent sorrow, to those who assisted so beautifully at the funeral services, and for the lovely floral offerings.

(Signed) Mr. Walter Matson.
Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and sons Warren and James
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Matson and daughter Lydia.
