PORT OF PORTLAND REPORT

During the first two weeks of May, 1,000 boxes of canned apples with a value of $2,734.00 and 7,382 cases of pears valued at $15,735.00 also 340 cases of loganberries with a value of $1,394.00 was made to United Kingdom ports.

Oregon is noted as a fruit growing state and its reputation is world wide. The European markets are using larger quantities of canned fruits grown in the Northwest due to superior quality.

Belgium received another shipment of zinc concentrates weighing 3,817,773 lbs. with a value of $75,900 the movement of this commodity through the port shows a healthy growth.

Portland to Philadelphia shipments for the calendar year of 1925 show large increases over 1924. 32,945 tons of cargo were shipped in 1925 from Portland to Philadelphia an increase of 7,618, or 30 per cent.

Shipments of the famous Oregon pickles reached a total of 543 tons during the same year, an increase of 23 per cent over the previous year.

Nearly all articles that entered the commerce between these ports showed increases. Cross arms which are manufactured in Portland increased 362 per cent, manufactured doors increased 249 per cent. The demand for Oregon made doors is steadily increasing on the east coast of the United States as well as in foreign countries.

PRESIDENT WILL PRESENT YOUTH, TEACHER AWARDS

President Coolidge will present gold medals to the winners of the American Youth award and the American Teacher award, being conducted by the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition to be held in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1. Thus the boy and girl and teacher from each state who are chosen as representing the highest ideals of American youth and teacherhood will receive from the hands of the president mementos which they will carry among their prized possessions during their entire lives. The presentations will be made at the White House.

The American youth award and the American teacher award have been established by the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition as a tribute to the teachers and youth of America. Heroism, courage, sacrifice, leadership and patriotism will be taken into consideration when the youth of each state take up the task of selecting the boy and girl to represent them at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia for the week of June 28 to July 5. Official entry forms are now being distributed from Sesqui-Centennial headquarters, at Philadelphia, to those who request them.

The boy and the girl and the teacher from each state who will be chosen as recipients of the award will be guests of the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition and all of their expenses will be paid from the time they leave home until they return. The governors of the states are now organizing the State Committees of Award which will have charge of the administration of the award in each state. Governor John E. Erickson, of Montana, has won the distinction of being the first governor to complete the organization of a state committee.

Miss Helen Linde, a New York school teacher who lives at Gouverneur, New York, was the first teacher in the United States to ask for a teacher entry form. The first boy to receive an entry form was Harry Little, of Bridgboro, N. J., a fifteen-year old boy who saved four lives last summer and who has already been awarded the Ralston hero medal. He is also to receive a Carnegie medal for his heroism. The first girl to request an entry form was Miss Billy Appleby, of Polo, Ill. Miss Appleby is sixteen years old and is proud of her state. "If I don't win," she wrote, "I would be proud to help Illinois all I can."

The National Honorary Committee in connection with the award already includes the names of leaders in many sections of the country. Among them are Vice-president Dawes, members of the United States Supreme court, the President's cabinet, United States senators, Clergymen, and men high in industry, education and finance. All have written enthusiastically of this plan to honor the youth and teachers of America.

AMERICAN PEOPLE DEMAND HIGHEST TYPE SERVICE

The World News of Roanoke, Va. in a recent editorial said: "The telephone is only one of many things that the modern American takes for granted. When he calls his friend or business acquaintance a dozen times a day and gets his call through in a flash, or when he puts in a business call and gets his party in a few minutes, he gives little thought to the inventive genius or the tremendous development which has made this service possible.

"The newspaper, for instance, is dependent to a huge extent on telephone service. The various press association services come in over leased telephone wires. A large part of the news of the surrounding territory comes in by telephone. A newspaper without good telephone service would be completely at sea. "In nearly every other business the same situation exists. Likewise, in nearly every home, the whole family has become dependent upon the telephone. "Teddy Roosevelt used to talk about good trusts and bad trusts. Today, it is quite as pertinent to talk of good public utilities and bad ones. The telephone system is an excellent public utility and the public generally recognizes the fact.—Manufacturer.

THROUGH POWER TO PROSPER

The Day is approaching when practically all the hard manual work of the United States with its 118,000,000 people will be done by electricity, and done far more swiftly and cheaply than human labor could accomplish it. These benefits, and greater ones which lie in the future for America, are due to the energy and vision with which a few leaders have grasped and solved the problems of power supply on a national scale.—H. S. Harmsworth, Pub., London Daily Mail

WOULD YOU STEAL THE CHILDREN'S PIE

A cartoon in the Wallace, Idaho, Press-Times, shows little Lord Fauntleroy the taxpayer receiving a splendid fat pie from Aunty Federal taxes; the pie being the 387-million dollar federal income tax reduction. Behind a nearby tree is Local Taxes, a hulking, whiskered, grimed hobo, with his tomato can and his smacking lips ready to gobble up the kid's fat pie.

We vote most of our taxes with our eyes wide open. The government does not take away our money—that is, not much of it; we throw it away on baubles, hobbies, political theories, boards, commissions and thousands of useless laws and regulations, all of which cost the taxpayer money. We ourselves are the burly tramp who robs the tax-till.—Manufacturer.

A MOVE TO REDUCE AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

It has remained for the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters to propose one remedy which should prove to be an effective deterrent for reckless drivers. In the future when licenses have been deemed automobilists, or when the right to drive has been revoked by duly authorized public officials, the persons thus affected will be unable to obtain automobile insurance through any of the principal casualty and surety companies which comprise the National Bureau.

Motor vehicle commissioners in different states will furnish immediately to the National Bureau the names of all persons whose licenses have been revoked. This information will immediately be distributed to the companies, and further insurance to reckless drivers will be refused and existing insurance cancelled.

It is an established fact say Bureau officials, that many serious accidents are caused by criminal and careless motorists who continue to operate even after their licenses have been revoked for good cause.

Insurance carried by an irresponsible and reckless driver simply makes him more careless. The action of the casualty companies is a move in the right direction and if all states would co-operate with these companies in weeding out the undesirable drivers, the ultimate result would be fewer accidents, and insurance at lower cost for careful drivers who are entitled to it.

EXTENDING SHIPPING UNDER AMERICAN FLAG

While the nation is regaled with various plans for extending ocean shipping under the American flag, the McCormick Steamship Co., of San Francisco quietly goes ahead and establishes a service from the Pacific coast to the eastern coast of South America.

Already the West Notus, the first of the McCormick freighters will follow the old Magellan route, down the west coast of South America, and through the straits of Magellan. This saves 1,200 miles and cargos are not injured by the heat of the tropics.

Instead of going through the "Hot Belt" via the Panama Canal, the New McCormick freighters will follow the old Magellan route, down the west coast of South America, and through the straits of Magellan. This saves 1,200 miles and cargos are not injured by the heat of the tropics. The McCormick steamship company is part of the McCormick Co., one of the West's largest industries operating in sawmills, ocean shipping, logging railroads and allied industries. Its latest venture in establishing an east coast South America line will be a great boon to Western industries whose products are sought by South America.—Manufacturer.
