Former O. A. C. Graduates Hold Picnic At Estacada

On Sunday, June 27, in the Estacada park, a most delightful time was enjoyed by a party of sixty, made up of O. A. C. graduates and ex-students and their families.

This reunion was brought about by the graduates of the class of 1902, with Miss Maude Sturgeon acting as hostess who invited their friends of earlier and later classes to join them.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS CHOOSE OFFICERS

Clackamas county Democrats, ever hopeful and enthusiastic, met Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and formally organized for the campaign that is approaching.

Several speeches were made, in which it was held that the party can be successful if it will show the needed aggressive confidence. Speakers who sounded the key-note of confidence were H. G. Starkweather, O. D. Eby, C. N. Waite and Mrs. Madge Fortune.

In making his swan song A. A. Price, retiring chairman, who is now a candidate for the legislature, urged that the only means that will lead to sure success is through organization and a display of party zeal.

George F. Johnson, county auditor, was chosen county chairman; Mrs. Emma Aldredge, secretary; M. D. Latourette, treasurer; H. G. Starkweather, state committeeman; Gilbert L. Hedges, congressional committeeman.

It was announced that it was the purpose to organize in every precinct and attempt to put over all the men who have accepted the Democratic nominations for office. These include O. D. Eby, for the state senate; A. A. Price, Louis Kohl and E. G. Robinson for the legislature. Governor Pierce was active in securing pledges to make the race, and is expected to assist the candidates in the campaign. CLOVER MILDEW

Clover mildew is showing up again rather seriously in some districts. Last year it was demonstrated that this mildew could be controlled by dusting the plants with sulphur at the rate of ten to twenty-five pounds per acre when the disease began to appear. In some cases a second application was necessary. In other fields, lime and sulphur was sprayed on at the rate of one and one-half gallons of lime and sulphur to one hundred gallons of water. This latter method, however, is some what more complicated than is the use of the fertilizer sulphur which has been ground up very finely. It is more satisfactory if the temperature is fairly high for dusting the plants, with sulphur, but the reverse is true of the lime and sulphur spray. Persons wanting further information on this subject may get into touch with the County Agent's office at Oregon City.

Will Douglass went fishing Sunday, and on his way home he met a skunk in the path, which was on the fight—for he said he had a fight with it. He had nothing to kill it with, and didn't like to strike it with his fishing pole, so it got away after scenting him up some.

MR. AND MRS. STEPHENS RETURN FROM TRIP EAST

Sunday, June 27, Mayor and Mrs. Stephens returned from a trip to the East during which they visited with friends and relatives and encountered many of nature's wonders among which was the Yellowstone National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens started on their trip May 29, and their first stops were at Pendleton and Baker, Oregon, where they visited a short time with friends. From there they drove to Boise where they spent a half day before starting across the desert country in Idaho and Wyoming. At Kearney, Nebraska, a reunion was held for three of the Stephens brothers who had not been together since they were young boys.

A week was spent in Denver, Colorado, visiting friends and relatives after which they motored to the Yellowstone National Park where they found many beautiful and interesting things.

"The geysers are wonderful," Mrs. Stephens reported when she explained about "Old Faithful," and the "Minute Man," but the mountain scenery does not excel that in Estacada and vicinity.

He is resting as well as can be expected considering the seriousness of the accident. His mother is with him constantly.

Quite a number of things were saved, but it was quite a dreadful loss to the Tenny's after all.

They carried a small amount of insurance.

All who can possibly go to the institute are urged to plan to go.

State Brings Charge Of Cruelty To Animals

Arguments and pleadings made by A. A. Warr, defendant, did not convince the jury of his innocence at the trial at the town hall at Estacada, Tuesday, June 29.

A. A. Warr was accused of cruelty to animals and was held by A. L. Cross of the State Humane Society.

The animals involved in the case were four wild horses belonging to W. W. Smith, attorney of Estacada, which had been brought from the Portland Feed and Fertilizer company to Warr's ranch with orders to break them for pack horses.

C. B. Boyer, witness for the plaintiff and W. W. Smith, stated that they had seen Mr. Warr jacking one of his horses with a pitchfork. The defendant, however, stated that he did not have a pitchfork when Mr. Boyer and Mr. Smith called at his place.

The jury found Warr guilty but decided leniency and A. A. Warr was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. His case may be appealed to a higher court.

Attorney for the plaintiff was Levy Stipp, of Oregon City, and attorney Beattie of Oregon City pleaded the case for the defendant, W. W. Warr.

The East Portland team has taken one game from Estacada but the locals are confident that the game July 5th, as well as the game with Gillis will end with the heavy score on their side of the board.
