ESTACADA, OREGON, THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1927

NUMBER 34

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION AND CARNIVAL

For several years the Estacada Band and the Estacada Library Association have sponsored a Labor Day Celebration. This has been primarily for the purpose of giving the people of this city and the surrounding community an interesting and entertaining celebration. Secondly any surplus over expenses has gone to the support of the two most worthy organizations putting on the celebrations.

Usual Committees have been appointed and are hard at work on the days program, which will consist of music and speaking in the morning sports and games in the afternoon, dancing afternoon and evening and the band will give concerts all day time to be announced later on the program.

Besides the program put on by the Library Association and the Band the Pioneer Day Celebration will also be held on this day and there is bound to be plenty of fun and excitement for every one. The speaking will be of interest and very interesting.

The committees are hard at work getting the program in readiness.

"Genseng Lane" is a new and novel feature on the program and this alone is going to create a lot of fun and merriment and you will have to attend to find out what this all about. The Band will be there with their music and we will say that the Estacada Band will take care of the music end of the program for that day. The Library Association is the other worthy institution behind this program and if you can come and spend the day with them you will be helping two things that are worthy of help and also be getting a big, full days enjoyment and pleasure for your self.

Mrs. A. E. McBroom and daughter Carol, of Oakland, Cal., have returned to the home of her father Mr. W. R. Reed in Garfield after attending the wedding in Portland of her sister, Elizabeth to Jesse Dale Frantz, which was held at the Central Presbyterian church, Saturday evening, August 6. Dr. O'Dell of the 1st Presbyterian church of Los Angeles officiating. The bride was given away by her father and Carol McBroom, daughter of Miss Reed's sister, Mrs. A. McBroom acting as flower girl and proceeded the bride on the arm of her father to the altar. After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors and was attended by about 150 guests. None of the guests were told where the bride and groom would spend their honeymoon, but it is rumored that they will spend a month at Hotel Coronada, at San Diego, Calif. after which they will be at home at 836 Montgomery Drive in Portland.

Rev. Kenneth Susley,
Pinchot Was Wrong

Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, has issued letters to hundreds of newspaper editors commendatory of the decision of the Massachusetts department of public utilities in the orcester Electric Light company rate case. He declares that the commission followed the "prudent investment" rule in making its decision. Careful study of the opinion shows that Mr. Pinchot is incorrect in his views. The original investment in the company claimed a present value of about $18,000,000; the commission fixed a rate which it decided would pay a fair return (six per cent) on $10,000,000, which it finds is a fair valuation of the property for rate-making purposes, "based upon the principles enunciated by the supreme court." While the commission had kind words to say for "prudent" investment, it followed the theory of "present value," in accord with the view of the United States supreme court in actually deciding the case and determining the rates.

Miss Ethel Hodges from Bismark N. D. arrived in Estacada Tuesday morning on her way to Camp 8 to visit her friend, Mrs. W. B. Davidson at that place.

PROGRAM OF THE GRANGE IN 3 STATES

Grange organizations of Oregon, Washington and Idaho are working to a common end according to reports received of a conference held this summer between prominent representatives of the granges of the three states. There has been considerable speculation over the attitude of the grange toward economic questions, but it now appears that a definite program has been agreed upon, and that the granges of the northwest states will bend their energies to obtain the adoption of the following legislative program:

- Severance tax.
- Debutment plan of farm relief.
- Graduated state income tax, with uniform provisions for the three states.
- Water power.
- While the farm relief program is one of federal procedure, the others could be undertaken by any state, and it may be expected that measures will be presented to the people dealing with water power, income tax and severance tax. The first two have been defeated decisively in Oregon, a state-wide hydro-electric measure having been rejected last November by a vote of more than four to one.

The northwest granges affirm their opposition to further development of reclamation projects, until agriculture has been restored to a position of parity with other industries, this position being counter to that prevailing in central Oregon and in many sections of eastern Oregon.

Weekly County Agent News

By John J. Inskeep, County Agent

Clackamas County potato growers have entered thirty potato fields for certification. Diseased plants are being rogued or pulled out by the growers in preparation for the first of two field inspections.

County Agent J. J. Inskeep has been busy the past month helping the growers to distinguish mild and rugose mosaic, wilt and other diseases. Most of the growers planted certified seed and their fields are exceptionally free from disease.

Prof. G. R. Hyslop of the Oregon Agriculture College expects to visit Clackamas County in the near future to inspect potato fields for certification.

Mr. Mickle the State Dairy and Feed Commission has personally notified the County Agent that no sprayed apples could leave Clackamas or any other county in Oregon for interstate shipment without first being washed to remove the spray residue.

Experiments at the Oregon Agricultural College have shown a weak solution of hydrochloric acid to be best for this purpose.

Although the crop is light this year this regulation in the future may prove to be quite a burden.

That Clackamas County soils respond to fertilizer for early potatoes has been demonstrated on several farms this year. F. E. Price, Soil and Crops Specialist from the Oregon Agriculture College and J. J. Inskeep, County Agent, recently harvested potatoes from fertilized and unfertilized rows on the Geo. Kohl farm, at Upper Logan.

Fifty hills in adjoining rows were dug and weighed. The rows with no treatment produced 42 lbs., while the rows receiving 400 lbs. of a complete fertilizer produced 79 1/2 lbs.

The fertilized hills graded 6' lbs. of U. S. No. 1, while the check hills graded 30 lbs.

Ten dollars worth of Commercial fertilizer per acre produced .00 per cent increase of marketable potatoes by August 5th.

Additional samples will be taken when the crop is harvested in September, as the fertilized rows are yet green and make more growth.

To our many friends, neighbors and fellow club members we wish to extend our sincere thanks for all help contributed and the assistance rendered in building a barn to replace the one we lost by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ruhl and family

Last Sunday Morning a party of about fifty stockholders of the P. E. P. Co. from various points in the Willamette Valley were taken up on the speeder to inspect the power plant returning to Estacada Hotel for dinner that evening.

NEW BAKERY TO OPEN TUESDAY, AUGUST 16

Estacada is going to have a bakery that they will be proud of. It will be located in the Masonic building and the proprietor, Wm. Weingart has been a very busy man the past two or three weeks painting and installing his machinery and putting in other fixtures that goes to make up a first class bakery.

He has installed an electric oven that will turn out 120 loaves of bread at a time. The store is equipped with two up-to-date bakery show cases and you will be able to see the pastry that he has to sell. They will handle everything in the bakery line, baked fresh every day.

The materials that is to be used in the making of his bakery goods is to be nothing but the best and his bakeshop will be kept in a clean, sanitary condition at all times.

Mr. Weingart says that he will be open for business and inspection Tuesday, August 16 and invites you to come in and look around and get acquainted with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurst have taken rooms at the J. T. Irvin home.

Mr. Joe Douda has finished picking loganberries and returned to his home in Portland Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilcox returned Sunday from a four day visit at Antelope, Oregon.

The dance given by the Estacada band last Saturday night was well attended and everyone that was there reported an evening well spent. The band officers were well pleased with the crowd that they had and the music was the best that could be obtained for a dance.

Self Service

Many good folk are lamenting the passing of the era when men and women consecrated their lives to unselfish service and prepared themselves to become ministers, missionaries, teachers or country doctors that they might administer to the spiritual, mental and physical needs of humanity without thought of large worldly gain. They are not in error when they charge that modern men and women are choosing vocations today in which they can do the greatest service to themselves.

People today are coming to the belief that the best way they can help others is to produce much that their profit shall be large and that they shall never become dependent upon society. The old idea of service was direct. The new service is indirect. Twenty years ago it was still thought that only ministers, doctors and teachers served humanity. Today every workman who carries his whole day's wage home is known to have earned that wage in service to society.

Elbert Hubbard's version of the Golden Rule was, "Do unto others as though you were the others," but an even more up-to-date version is "Do yourself much good and no bad to others." Getting something for yourself is reprehensible only when it is gotten at the expense of another.

Vernon Anderson having a short leave of absence from the Navy is visiting with his relatives in the Garfield district.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sparks enjoyed a drive to Bonneville last Sunday.

Mr. Ernest Amacher, who has been assistant at the Delft Creek Hatchery for some time, left this morning with his family for Bingham Springs, near Pendleton, Ore., where Mr. Amacher will have charge of the hatchery.

They will be missed by their many friends in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luhammer are away on a two weeks vacation visiting relatives and coast resorts. They expect to visit Creator Lake also before they return.

The Estacada Public Library closed last Saturday a week ago for the annual vacation and will be opened again September 1. Mrs. Eker the librarian expects to visit her daughter and family at Glendon on the coast for a few days and to make other visits in different parts of the state.

The public safety and the health of Oregon people requires the immediate provision of more hospital beds for tuberculosis patients is the official opinion of the board of directors of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association, as expressed at a meeting of that body Thursday afternoon in Portland. The meeting presided over by Leslie Butler, of Hood River, vice president of the Association, took official action to authorize the President and Secretary to lay before the Oregon State Board of Control the facts regarding the urgent need of proceeding with the construction of the Eastern Oregon Tuberculosis Hospital which was authorized by a majority vote of 82,000 at the November election last year.

The waiting list for admission to the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Salem is almost twice as great as it was a year ago, according to Dr. G. C. Bellingier, superintendent of the hospital. At this time last year, there were 42 patients waiting for admission, while on July 26th of this year there were 71 tuberculosis patients waiting their turn to be admitted. Of this number, 31 are residents of Multnomah County.

Other members of the board attending the board meeting were Dr. Marr Disaillon, Dr. F. D. Stricker, Dr. E. A. Pierce, Mr. T. J. Gray, Miss Mary Campbell, E. N., Rev. W. G. Eliot, Mrs. S. M. Blumauer, Mrs. Mary Caulfield, and Mrs. P. R. Whiteside.

Booklet Printed by Brake Lining Firm Recently.

Mortalist who do their own repairing will find practical help in a booklet recently published by the Russell Manufacturing Company of Middletown, Conn. Photographs and lucid directions giving instructions on the proper method of relining internal and external brake bands are included, as well as full directions for the care and adjustment of brakes. The mortalist is told how to cut the brake lining to be sure of a perfect fit, what rivets to use, how to fit them to avoid scoring the brake drum, and the order in which they should be applied to prevent buckling or stretching of the lining.

The Russell manufacturing Company say they will be glad to mail this booklet entitled "Russco Brake Lining, Its Application and Care" to any autoist who wishes a copy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Froehlich and Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy of Portland were Sunday guests at Log La Barre.
