

Don't Trust Your Butter To Luck

Market men and consumers are insisting on uniform color, now-a-days, and no real dairyman can afford to trust to luck any more. Keep your butter always that golden June shade, which brings top prices, by using Dandelion Butter color. All large creameries have used it for years. It meets all State and National Food Laws. It's harmless, tasteless and will not color Buttermilk. Large bottles cost only 35c at all drug and grocery stores.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic; or constipation; or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

THE STORM PARTY

"COME on, Sir Freeze-the-Ponds," said King Snow. "Come on, Mr. Wind," he added.

"We're waiting for you, too, Lovely Snowflake children," he called.

"And we hope you'll not be late," he shouted to the Jeweler Brothers known as the Diamond-Snow Jewelers.

"I want to have a storm party," King Snow said, "and I'd like to have you all come."

"Of course the jewelers don't have to come right away. But I hope they'll come soon after the party and won't be late in taking their places in the great winter reunion.

"You all know that a reunion means a gathering together once more so we all want to gather together to show that Old Man Winter is here."

"I'm here," Old Man Winter shouted. And Mr. Wind blew through his long fingers a great cold breath of air and whistled as he said:

"He's here all right. Old Man Winter is here."

"Oh, it's so nice to have a reunion," said King Snow.

"Would you like me to come, too, Your Majesty?" said an icy voice and there was Prince Storm dressed in lovely jewels of icicles and a crown of little snow peaks which had been frozen into shape by Prince Sleet's friend, Mr. Freezing-is-Fun.

"We want you, of course we want you," said King Snow.

So Prince Storm joined the party.

"And we want Mr. Freezing-is-Fun, too," King Snow added. "He is always such a nice one to have at a party. Some creatures go to a party and never say a word and don't make the slightest effort to help have a good time."

"For those who don't get into the fun of things don't enjoy themselves either. That is only fair, of course. But it is so much nicer when they do enter into the fun of a party and enjoy it themselves and help others have a good time."

"Mr. Freezing-is-Fun is a splendid creature at a party."

"And we must ask Prince Sleet. Prince Sleet would help a great deal."

"I'm here," said Mr. Freezing-is-Fun, for Mr. Wind had offered him a free ride to the party and Mr. Freezing-is-Fun had accepted with great eagerness and pleasure.

"Well, well, well, this is nice to see the old friends again."

"How do you do, Snowflake children?"

"Why, hello, Old Man Winter. I might have known I would have seen you here. This is nice, ha, ha, ha, this is nice."

"And I'm powerfully pleased to see you, Sir Freeze-the-Ponds. I'm such an admirer of yours."

So Mr. Freezing-is-Fun went around greeting all his friends and they were all glad to see him, too.

Then along came Prince Sleet.

"I met some one on the way who people want to come to the party," said Prince Sleet.

"Tell me who wants to come," said King Snow.

"It's the whole Blizzard family. Old Boy Blizzard wanted to know if he could come and bring the others. "He said it was the nurse's day out and there was no one with whom to leave the children if all the older ones went off, too."

"As a matter of fact I think they sent that word as an excuse to bring the whole family, but they don't mind if you know how very anxious they are to come—so long as you will let them come."

"Oh, yes," said King Snow, "have them come."

"I'll tell them they're invited," said Mr. Wind.

"Thank you kindly, thank you kindly," said King Snow.

And soon, oh so soon, the Blizzard family came and such a snow-storm and blizzard and wild time as there was at the big reunion of King Snow and of Old Man Winter and their friends!

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

THE LUCKY AGE

NO VISION of the millenium formed in the Fifteenth century could have equaled the realities of 1927.

A great part of the things which people were most hopelessly trying to accomplish then has been done today.

People who talk about "the good old days" are either ignorant or silly.

Civilization has been set back in its progress from time to time.

The Dark ages succeeded the grandeur of Rome, which, after all, was only the grandeur of the nobility. The common people of that city did all the work, got all the cuffs and kicks, and shared all the poverty.

But children born today find the world on the upgrade, and, as far as opportunity for enjoyment is concerned, getting better and better.

We are not yet free from war, or sure that this plague has been exterminated.

But the busy inventors of war machinery are arranging for the next war to extend far behind the battle lines, into the interior cities, and into the meeting places of the statesmen who usually make wars.

And when that is possible, wars will become fewer and fewer.

THE WHY OF SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

GERANIUMS

THERE is a rather common belief in the rural districts of the United States that snakes will not go where geraniums are growing and geraniums growing in a window box will prevent flies from entering the window. This superstition attaches to the plants cultivated in gardens and as house plants, which are not geraniums at all, but belong to the genus pelargonium of South Africa. The magical qualities of this plant were transferred to it along with the name from the true geranium, the word geranium being a Greek word meaning crane's-bill, a name given to the true geranium because of the long, projecting beak of the seed capsule. In fact, crane's-bill is the common name for the true geranium.

Now the crane was for long ages a bird of mystery. At a certain season the crane disappeared and at a certain season he reappeared, always flying in a V shape. This mystery as to the crane's place and manner of breeding, and the weird dances they indulge in at the time of their love-making caused a wealth of mythology and folklore to grow up around them. It was not until 1853 that it was discovered that the crane sought the shores of the Arctic sea to lay its eggs and rear its young.

Among the ancients there was a belief that forms of plant life were in some cases transformed into forms of animal life. In the mystery which hung over the propagator of the crane the peculiar form of the seed capsule of the geranium caused it to be looked upon with suspicion, and to the plant were assigned some of the mystic attributes which pertained to the crane which was known to be antagonistic to snakes and flies. When the pelargonium came to be called in popular parlance "geranium"—crane's bill—the superstition went with the name. This is a curious example of a superstition surviving by means of a name though the name is not given to an entirely different object from that by means of which the superstition had birth.

Democracy Born of Old Nordic Customs?

American democracy is derived from the social and governmental institutions of the ancient Scandinavians, the original Nordics, declares Charles J. McGuirk in an article in Liberty. "American institutions are Nordic," the writer asserts. "Congress is an echo of the Scandinavian 'Thing,' an assembly of the people about the mounds of their dead at which they listened to the advice of the Old Man of the tribe. Our state legislatures follow the 'Heralding,' a local assembly.

"Democracy was not born in America," the writer continues. "It had its birth in Norway when Harald Fairhair destroyed the power of the 'herms' (kings) and placed the leadership of the people among the 'jarls,' high-born local chiefs who had won to leadership of the host and certain districts by their warlike qualities."

The Right Sound

A little boy came to the desk of the Brightwood branch library and requested that the librarian give him "a book called 'Silence Mournful'" for his high school brother.

"Are you sure that you have the name right?" the librarian asked dubiously.

"Well, it's something like that," the boy replied. "It's by the same person who wrote 'The Mill on the Floss.'"

"Oh, you must mean Silas Marner," the librarian smiled, running to get the book.

"Well, I had the right sound, anyway, didn't I?" the boy asked defiantly as by-standers laughed.—Indianapolis News.

Made Bee-Keeping Pay

A woman is the champion "bee king" of South Dakota. She is Mrs. Charles H. Blackwell of Rapid City, who ships 50,000 pounds of honey from her bee farms annually. As a child Mrs. Blackwell was mortally afraid of bees. Seeking a business career after her mother died, however, she invested $75 in her first bees. She now has 375 colonies. Some swarms contain as many as 75,000 bees.
