NOTICE

When I came here I found posted in the barber shops a price list (?) which the barbers had agreed to charge for their services.

After being here 4 days I learned that two of the barbers had broken their agreements, words of promise, and had cut the price of hair cutting from 50c to 35c.

This looks as though it was directed as a personal injury and so I am making this announcement.

Jess Denny from Main street has incorporated with me and will be located in the barber shop near Ely's store. We have a new shipment of regular 50c haircuts, while they last we are selling them for 25c. Come, bring your family. Women and children's haircutting a specialty. Good, clean sanitary service. Look for the sign in the window. Adv. JACK STULTZ.

PAGEANT IMPRESSIVE

There was a large attendance at the Methodist church last Sunday evening to witness the pageant as produced by the church and Sunday school. W. H. Grabeel and Miss Kershner were cast for the main parts. The scenes were very impressive and interesting and the music was excellent. Of course an entertainment of that kind is handicapped for lack of space in the church, also for curtain fixtures. However, those who took part did very nicely under the conditions existing.

nine little folks invited and after childish games were played in which Miss Pauline joined, they all found their places at one long table by dainty and unique place cards where a most delicious luncheon was served. The birthday cake was white with decorations of seven candles. The rooms and tables were decorated in Christmas colors and presented a most delightful appearance. The little folks present were Jean Grabeel, Phyllis Cary, Ruth Barr, Pauline Moore, Wanda Krieger, Mayrose Bartholomew, Lester Kiggins, Theodore Ahlberg, Bob Cooke and Richard Rose.
