

VIOLA

VIOLA, Jan. 5.—(Special).—A Christmas dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ficken. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Miller, J. E. La Croy and daughter Esther, Mrs. M. M. La Croy, Mrs. H. Brown and children and the Ficken family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Larkin were at a Christmas tree and program at Dodge last week.

The McComb family spent Christmas with relatives in Portland.

Mr. Randolph has built a plank road from his buildings to the main road so now the neighbors will be able to visit them during the rainy season as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Landers of Clackamas spent Saturday visiting with Mrs. Landers' mother, Mrs. M. M. La Croy, who is very low.

Little Esther La Croy spent Christmas eve with her dad, J. E. La Croy, where they had a large Christmas tree and were visited by a short, fat Santa Claus, not over 4 feet tall.

Mrs. Shackelford has been reported to be laid up with a very bad hand.

A short program and Christmas tree was given at the school Friday. Miss Rose Frachsel is the teacher. They took a week's vacation.

Miss Ethel Ficken left for Portland Tuesday after spending the Christmas holidays at home.

Mr. and Mrs. La Point motored up from Los Angeles to spend the holidays with Mrs. Lo Point's brothers, Emery and Elmer Powers, being a business and pleasure trip combined. They went to Portland on Christmas day where they held a family reunion at the home of Dr. W. Bruce, Mrs. Bruce being also a sister of the Powers. Those present were their father, Mr. Powers of Baker, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. La Point, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Powers, son and daughter Junior and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Powers, son and daughter Charley and Velma, and Dr. Bruce.

The annual Christmas tree and program given by the M. E. Sunday school brought out a packed house. The church was decorated with cedar bows and red Christmas bells. The most important event for the kiddies was the arrival of Santa Claus. Presents were exchanged and a large bag of candy and nuts was given to all. The program consisted of: "It Came Upon the Midnight," instrumental; song, "To God Be Glory," by the choir; "My Place on the Program," by Lois Hubbard; Scripture reading and prayer by Mr. Hamilton; "A Christmas Wish," Junior Powers; "A Christmas Story," Helen Powers; song, "Guided by Glory," choir; recitation, Jack Mattox; exercise, "Little Lights," junior girls; "Helping Santa," James Tenny; "What I'd Rather Be," Charley Powers.

"Marching on to Canaan," instrumental; A Christmas song, Phyllis Brown; "A Little Star," Velma Powers; song, "The Lights of the World," choir; dialogue, "Father Time's Dilemma," junior boys; "Why I Like Christmas," Esther La Croy; "A Christmas Tree," Lester McComb; "Dad's Present," Dale Brown; song, "Glad Christmas Morn," choir; "A Christmas Carol," Lucille Swaggert; shadow pictures with reading to correspond; "Starbeams Shed a Glory," instrumental.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller and daughter Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Miller, Mr. Hamilton, Sr., and J. G. Hamilton were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton New Year's day.

The Hicinbotham family were visitors at the Sevier home last week.

Miss Norma Randolph, who has been spending the Christmas holidays at home, will return to Lakeview on Monday where she will resume her duties as teacher.

John Mattox has been reported ill the last two weeks.

Housing the Dairy Cow

The main essentials in housing dairy cows in the winter seems to be to keep them dry and out of the wind and drafts, and to provide plenty of fresh air and sunlight. Apparently the matter of temperature in itself is not a vital consideration, except, perhaps, in the most severe portions of the United States. It has been noted at the federal dairy experiment farm at Beltsville, Maryland, that cows do their best in the coldest weather and the poorest during the hot summer months. Probably there is no advantage in keeping the stable temperature much above freezing, and there may be a disadvantage if the temperature rises above 60 degrees F.

Go to Eugene

Mrs. Walter Lemon accompanied some friends to Eugene the first of the week to attend a wedding. The trip was not pleasant on account of the storm.

FIRE DESTROYS OLD HOTEL BUILDING NEW YEARS NIGHT

Effective Work of Fire Department Holds Flames Under Control in Lingelbach Blaze.

On New Year's night about 7:30 fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the old Lingelbach building on Zobrist street just north of the News office building. Notwithstanding many difficulties in getting through the snow and water, the volunteer fire department soon had the hose carts to the scene and were playing heavy streams of water on the fire and adjoining buildings.

The place destroyed was unoccupied but is said to have been used by George Pointer occasionally for the purpose of storage, which the old paint cans and remains of furniture in the lower part of the building verified.

By the aid of the heavy coating of snow and ice on the buildings across the alley, and also that of the Pointe building, the fire boys soon had the flames under control and only the old hotel building was destroyed.

Mrs. Minnie Hanson, who occupies the rooms over the print shop, moved out as quickly as possible. Last summer she had the same experience when the Yocum lumber office and yards burned, which were just across the street. The buildings across the alley were blackened considerably, but not damaged to any great extent.

At the time the River Mill power plant burned this old building which burned was used as a hotel and was an old landmark. It was built in 1904, W. F. Cary, says, who furnished the material for the construction of the building.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Some seem to believe that it was caused by people who used it for games and had left cigaret stubs lying around. Others believe that it was due to a shortage in the electric wires.

The loss was totally covered by insurance, it is reported.

As soon as the fire was located the electric lights were turned off, which left the city in darkness. Some people hurried to their repose, but many others commenced to skirmish around for candles and coal oil lamps which had been gracefully hidden away for years, and just about the time they were comfortably, or uncomfortably located again, the lights were turned on.

FARM REMINDERS

(Dept. of Journalism, O. A. C.)

Spraying with oil emulsion in February, or to the time apple bud tips show green, controls European red spider mites in Oregon, says Don C. Mote, entomologist of the experiment station. An 8 per cent oil emulsion is the standard spray. When commercial miscible oils are used dilutions are made according to directions on the can.

Fertilizer needs for the coming year may be determined now. Poor results are often caused by too late an application where they do not have sufficient time to be dissolved before the rains.

Scale insects on juniper are controlled by sprays of lime sulphur, 10 to 12 gallons of concentrated solution in 100 gallons of water, according to Oregon experiment station authorities.

Applications are made in the dormant season. This pest is not serious in Oregon but is often hard to control.

Very early spring application of land plaster on legumes has been giving good results at the Oregon experiment station.

The strawberry root weevil can be controlled by poison bait, says the entomologist of the Oregon experiment station. This bait is made up by mixing 95 pounds of dried apple refuse with five pounds of calcium arsenate, or by a bran bait developed at the experiment station.

Many seasons of the year are suitable for clover seeding. February planting usually gives the best results. About 12 pounds of red clover or 8 pounds of alsike are the recommended seedings. The most common practice and a good one is to seed the clover on fall grain sown, particularly barley.

Spend New Year's Day in Portland

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grabel spent New Year's Day with friends in Portland. Their daughters Lavina and Jean accompanied them and remained in Portland until Monday evening.

Arrive From Long Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson and children arrived Monday from Long Beach, California, to visit at the home of Mrs. Nelson's brother, Roy Beck. They report that they experienced no trouble in making the drive in their car.

EAGLE CREEK

SPRINGWATER, Jan. 5.—(Special).—School opened on Tuesday morning after the week's holiday.

The warm rain was very welcome after the few days of severe cold weather.

Mr. Cogswell was called to Spokane the last of last week to attend the funeral of his stepmother.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have been staying at the Art Cogswell home in Eagle Creek for a couple of weeks during the absence of Mrs. Cogswell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shibley visited a couple of days last week with Mrs. Shibley's brother Jack Mars and family near Mulino.

Mrs. Burnett and son Ronald of Eagle Creek were Thursday evening visitors at the Byron Cogswell home. Mrs. George Perry visited Mr. Perry for a few days last week at his work near Tillamook.

Mrs. George Guttridge of Estacada was a Friday visitor at the Joe Guttridge home.

Mrs. Wiley Howell and son and Mrs. Andy Swanson were Sunday afternoon callers at the John Park home.

College students returning to their schools following the Christmas holidays were Helen Perry to O. S. C., Mary Cogswell to U. of A., and Gilbert and William Shearer to Albany. Lucille and Ronald Guttridge came home Saturday from Portland where they had been visiting relatives for the past week.

Mrs. Nettie Grable returned to her work in Portland Monday after spending a week with her son Harry and family here.

Rev. T. I. Kirkwood was a dinner guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Moger. A meeting of the church officers and trustees was held at the Moger home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wiley Howell and daughter Edith and Miss Mary Cogswell were Monday afternoon callers at the Madden home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenny and children and Mr. and Mrs. Dibble and daughter were dinner guests Sunday at the William Bard home.

Mr. Jarvis, a former resident of Springwater, is visiting for a time at the Pete Brickner home.

Mr. Walker returned to his work in Portland Monday after a few days spent at his home here.

Vernon Marshall, who is employed at Marshfield, visited his parents here during the past week.

Kathleen, Elwin, James and John Beck visited Thursday with their sister, Mrs. Everett Shibley.

Schools Reopen

The Estacada public schools reopened Tuesday morning after the Christmas holidays with almost the entire enrollment. The school bus is running on time and notwithstanding the late storm, everything is getting back to normalcy again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sparks went to Portland Sunday to visit relatives, returning Monday night.

Dog Returns After Two Months

About two months ago the little fox terrier belonging to the J. S. Osborne family disappeared. They looked and inquired all over for him but could get no clue as to his whereabouts. Tuesday of last week the dog came home and seemed greatly pleased to see the family.

Mrs. Osborne Ill

Mrs. John Osborne missed most of the pleasures of the Christmas season on account of illness. She is somewhat improved at this time.

Celebrates 85th Birthday

Ed. Bates celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday one day last week. There was a family gathering at the home of Fred Bates near Barton and Mr. Bates was the guest of honor on that day.

Mrs. Bruner Very Ill

The condition of Mrs. Elizabeth Allen's mother, Mrs. Bruner, is about the same. It was thought Tuesday morning that she was slightly improved.

Visiting Mother and Sister

Mrs. G. W. Kiger of Tillamook is here visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. S. Sturgeon and Miss Maude Sturgeon.

Fail to Arrive for Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Sarver expected their daughter Mrs. Violet Starr and family to spend the holidays with them here at Estacada, but were disappointed. However, Mrs. Starr called by telephone her mother on New Year's and wished her and other members of the family a "happy new year." Mrs. Starr lives at LaMoine, California, about five hundred miles from here. Mrs. Sarver said she could hear distinctly every word her daughter said.

Mrs. Nannie L. Hurst

Mrs. Nannie L. Hurst, wife of Burt M. Hurst, died in Portland on January 2. Funeral services were held from the Holman & Son mortuary Wednesday.

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR AN EMERGENCY?

When the weather is fine, and you and the children are all in good health and enjoying life, do you not often neglect to prepare for your rainy day? When baby gets the croup, or Bobby smashes his finger, you then are reminded of those remedies you should have purchased the last time you were in town. Come in and let us suggest a few of the first aid remedies you will need that you may be prepared for the many occasions arising when they are needed, and when you can't get to the store to get them. It will save you many inconveniences, suffering, and, possibly, serious complications later.
