

STIPP UP FOR RE-ELECTION AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY

District Attorney Livy Stipp has formally announced that he is a candidate for re-election. He has made the following statement to the voters: "I have concluded to submit to the people my candidacy for the office of district attorney to succeed myself. In doing this, I wish to call attention to the record made in that office. "All matters have been properly taken care of and long delays have not been tolerated. The percentage of convictions in cases tried has not been exceeded by any other county in the state. In the last year out of 21 cases tried in the circuit court involving 24 defendants, only one was acquitted. Thirty-one others pleaded guilty to charges against them. "This shows that improper indictments are not often brought by grand juries and that the cases tried have been well presented. Useless expense has also been avoided and the interest of taxpayers kept in mind. "Our records show that crime has been on the decrease constantly for several years and the number of prosecutions are likewise decreasing. The co-operation of the people of the county has assisted greatly in bringing this about and the hard work done in the district attorney's office in the recent past has undoubtedly had its effect. The verdicts of the jurors in the trials of cases, reflect their faith and confidence in the conduct of the office. "My relations with the courts and the officers of the county are pleasant and many calls are made upon me each day for consultation and advice. "I am satisfied with the progress that has been made in bettering the conditions of our county in respect to criminal matters it is pleasing to every one, and that no one wishes to interfere with the progress by making unnecessary changes."

FINED ON BOOZE CHARGE

Oliver Chowning of Portland, who was arrested here last week on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, plead guilty in justice court in Oregon City Monday and was fined $150 and the car used in hauling the booze is being held for confiscation.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

(By County Agent J. J. Inskeep) Kudzu, a legume advertised extensively by some eastern seed houses has no place in Oregon, according to Prof. G. A. Hyslop of the Oregon Agricultural college. The crop has been tried extensively in Oregon, but fails to grow successfully. Prospective purchasers are advised to purchase seed in limited quantities if at all.

Soil fertility, one of the most important problems in Clackamas county agriculture, will receive major consideration in the county agent's program of work for 1923. The increasing demands for recommendations for the proper use of various kinds of commercial fertilizers has led to placing of demonstration plots on several Clackamas county farms, presenting various soil types.

CHURCHES

Methodist Church
The influence of the church is a big factor in the life of any community and counts for the best of living. Statisticians compute the number of denominations, the number of church edifices, the number of seminaries, church schools, ministers and teachers, church school members, the value of church property, etc. But there is one thing they cannot compute and that one thing is by far the most important of all—it is the influence of the church. There is no nation, no community, and probably no human being in the world who has not in some measure directly or indirectly come under the influence of the church of God.

Regular church attendance brings you under the direct influence of the church. Its influence will make you a bigger and better person.

There will be two good sermons next Sunday that will help you. The 11 o'clock sermon, "Christ the Door." At 7:30 p. m., Rev. A. S. Hisey, district superintendent, will preach.

The Sunday school has good teachers, and meets at 10 a. m. The Epworth League meets at 7:00. Prayer meeting each Thursday evening at 7:30. All are cordially invited to attend all services.—C. T. Cook, pastor.

Christian Church
Morning service: Sunday school at 10 a. m., Mrs. D. E. Dent, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a. m. Evening service: Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. A hearty welcome is extended to all.—D. E. Dent, Minister.

Catholic Services
Holy Mass will be celebrated at St. Oloysius church on the first and third Sundays of each month at 10:30 a. m., Father Bernards of Milwaukie officiating.

Notice of Constable's Sale of Personal Property
By virtue of a lien upon your chattels filed in the office of the county clerk of the State of Oregon for the county of Clackamas, on the 19th day of March, 1923, duly attested the 19th day of March, 1923, I have levied on the following personal property of the defendant, L. W. Fox: One yearling black Jersey grade cow and calf.

Notice is hereby given, that on Tuesday the 3rd day of April, 1923, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the farm of C. H. Duncan, in Clackamas county, Oregon, I will sell the above described property to the highest bidder for cash.

Notice of Final Account
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as executrix of the estate of Alice B. Seymour, deceased, has filed her final account in the office of the county clerk of Clackamas county, Oregon, and that Monday, the 7th day of May, 1923, at the hour of 9:00 a. m., in the forenoon of said day, in the county court room of said court has been appointed by said court as the time and place for the hearing of objections thereto and the settlement thereof.

Dated and published this 16th day of March, 1923.

by furnishing the fertilizer used. John Wieman, the Swift field man, will help to harvest and weigh results.

Various crops are included in these trials: Alfalfa, clover, small grains, prunes, berries, and flax will receive major consideration.

R. C. Kuehner, county club agent, will receive fertilizers for trials on 14 alfalfa fields, planted by club members.

Certified seed potatoes have received an unusual demand this spring even in the face of low prices on table stock. Four cars have left Clackamas for California markets. The last car loaded by Nels Edwardson and Frank Ford of Rosemont, and W. H. Zivney, Hazella, brought $2 per hundred f. o. b. Oregon City. This car goes to Susanville, Cal.

Low prices on cull and off type varieties and diseased strains have led growers to plan a larger acreage of certified seed stock for 1923. "Certified seed," according to Nels Edwardson, "still pay because of increased yields even if the price is no better."

The supply of certified seed will run short of Clackamas county needs.

The agricultural committees of several Clackamas county granges have been active. Clarks grange members have ordered 60 pounds of squirrel poison. The committee arranged for a good meeting of its members with Prof. G. R. Hyslop or clover growing. Potato seed plots will be used to furnish a good seed supply for the future.

Central grange has supplied its members with a supply of poison for ground squirrels and ordered certified Burbank potatoes for a seed stock supply.

Maplewood grange at Barlow recently held a rodent control meeting. A representative of the U. S. biological survey demonstrated methods of trapping and poisoning gophers moles and rats.

Boys and girls interested in 4-H poultry club work are urged to start their clubs as soon as possible.

There are four divisions of the poultry project. Division 1 includes the care and management of five laying hens for six months. Division 2 takes in the incubation of at least one setting of hens' eggs or the securing of at least one dozen day old chicks and the care and management for a period of four months. Division 3 the incubation of a setting of turkey eggs and management for 4 months. Division 4, the incubation of a setting of duck eggs, and care and management of four months.

The standard club in any project requires at least five members.

Poultry club members are urged to take more than the minimum requirements where equipment and space permits. The club agent will assist in securing good chicks and egg setting.
