STUDY THE LIST—TAKE YOUR CHOICE—AND DON'T FAIL TO VOTE

Clackamas county has but one candidate for a state office this year. Hal Hoss wants to be secretary of state and it is generally believed throughout the entire state that Hal will be elected. Clackamas county needs a man like Hal in Salem. He will make a good secretary of state. He needs the support of his county and the News hopes that Eastern Clackamas county will do its share toward electing Mr. Hoss.

Frank Andrews of Portland, who is a candidate for joint representative from Clackamas and Multnomah counties, has considerable property interests in this county including holdings near Estacada, has lived in this county many years before going to Portland and is intensely interested in the development of this section of the state. He certainly should be preferable to the people of this county as their representative to a man who has little interests outside his own city and county.

There should be no question in the minds of the readers of the News as to the proper men to vote for as representatives from this county. Sievers, Clark and Chingren have made good, and but one candidate opposes them in the primary. Mr. Cherrick is said to be a successful bulb grower of Canby, and the majority of the people no doubt will be satisfied if he remains as such.

R. A. Wright seems to meet little opposition for the job as county commissioner, and probably will receive a large vote in all parts of the county. The News does not know of any particular reason for a change.

P. T. Shelley of Sandy should be the choice of the majority of the republican voters of Eastern Clackamas for the republican nomination for sheriff. E. T. Mass is practically sure of the democratic nomination and will no doubt give the winner of the republican nomination a hard scrap this fall.

The nomination for assessor lies between three men, Stokes, Pope and Johnson. Either of these men are well qualified for the office. The Courier in Oregon City apparently wanted the Coos county plan of assessments adopted in this county. Mr. Johnson is favorable to the plan or a similar plan. Mr. Stokes said here Monday night that he at the present time opposed the plan because so far it was only an experiment. And what seems so strange, the Oregon City newspaper referred to appears to be boosting for Mr. Stokes. It's too deep for the News to understand.

A committee from the grange was sent to Coos county to investigate the plan and came back with favorable reports. Whether or not the grange really takes the matter seriously should be determined by the vote given Mr. Johnson throughout the county. If they really favor this plan of valuation and assessment, it looks as if Douglas Johnson should receive the nomination. He is making a good campaign and had he entered the race sooner there seems to be a general opinion that he would have won.

The statements made by the Courier that the race is between Stokes and Pope does not mean anything except the writer's own idea. However, it appears very evident that none of the candidates care to have that newspaper's support.

candidates: Livy Stipp, B. F. Lindas and Fred Miller. Mr. Lindas is not as well known as the other candidates but has made a pretty thorough campaign and the outcome of the race is very doubtful.

The race for county clerk was generally supposed to be a close one, but recent developments leaves the impression that Don Ryan will win. Mr. Ryan is the present clerk and is a very capable official. Mr. Pace was in the office as deputy for seven years. Both are young men and their qualifications for the office are the principal matters for consideration.

One candidate remarked at the political meeting here Monday night that about 75 per cent of the candidates would have to go to work Saturday morning. Was it intended to convey the idea that those elected would have to go to work, or was it meant that those who were defeated? Will some one please answer.

Good citizenship requires that you vote. If you do not vote you have little right to howl about the way the public business is managed. Vote as you see fit, but vote. The election Friday is really more important than the general election this fall.
