EDITORIAL

Soaking rains the past few days did much good and berry growers wore broad smiles. Now, some are wondering if Jupe has made a dispensation that June shall be a wet month—and overdo his good work.

There was no outward demonstration here in remembrance of Decoration Day but memories of the departed lingered in nearly every household. Graves were brightened with fresh flowers, and many a silent tear gave token of feelings too deep for words.

MRS. JARL ENTERTAINS KELSO WOMEN'S CLUB

Mrs. Joel Jarl was hostess to the Kelso Women's club Thursday. The day was hot, and not many attended. Delicious refreshments, including strawberries and angel food cake were served. Members present were Mesdames Jarl, Fred Decker, Albert Jonsrud, Gilbert Eri, W. Dolan, M. Kligel, R. Rathke, Peterson, Wright, Huck, R. Jonsrud, Miss Dorothy Jonsrud and Mrs. Gertrude Haworth, the last two being visitors. Mrs. John Revenue will entertain at the next meeting.

Mill Closes Down

The Nelson-Palmquist sawmill near Cherryville has sawed its last cut, the timber being exhausted. The mill will be dismantled and sold, according to report.

Grange Dance Saturday

Saturday night, June 2, the Sandy Grange invitational dance will attract the usual terpsichorean feet, and the ladies will serve supper.

CHEERYVILLE SCHOOL HOLDS FINAL PROGRAM

Cherryville school closing exercises were a great neighborhood event the night of May 25. Printed programs, refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served at the close of the splendid program, consisting of twelve numbers, which was much enjoyed by the community at the school building.

Among the numbers were: Recitations by William Bagley, Edward Hanson, Johnnie Teuscher; clarinet solo, A. J. Stout; flower fantasy, Theresa Teuscher, Alma Oakley, Marie and William Bagley and Edward Hanson; play, "Mother's Visiting," Austin Kissinger, Dorothy Dixon, Floyd Douglass, Ralph Thomas, Theresa Teuscher.

Song, "A Dutch Proposal," Marie Bagley, Alma Oakley; drill; dialogue, "Two Black Crows," by Ralph Thomas and Claud Parker; dialogue, "Speak Up, Mose," Dorothy Dixon, Marie Bagley; minstrels. Songs were given by all. Mr. Thayer, Cherryville postmaster, gave the address of the evening. Miss Frances Stout was the efficient teacher.

ERICK UNIS OF BORING DIES OF HEART DISEASE

Erick Unis, who lived between Kelso and Boring, died recently from heart disease. He came to the Powell valley section in 1902 and lived there and near Boring since that time. He was born in Finland. Seven children survive. Rites were held at Saron Lutheran church.

SANDY LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perret were at the hospital last week to see Mr. Perret's step father who recently underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Rogers (Margaret Gray) were here from Satsop, Wash., several days last week and also visited relatives at Rhododendron.

H. Hamman is gradually losing his eyesight and is hardly able to feed himself. He is also growing weaker, but is still getting up and down.

Jim Early has been looking for a house in Sandy. Jim has been married a year and is driving a truck here.

Wm. Scales of Centralia, brother of Jack Scales of Sandy, has been appointed postmaster at Centralia, Wash., by President Coolidge, succeeding Harry Bras, who was asked to resign a few months ago.

Sam Bacon is still confined to his bed or wheel chair and is not able to rest well at night. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bacon were at the senior Bacon home Sunday.

The Pleasant Valley grange master Mr. Hansen and his wife were in a party Sunday that called at the R. Jonsrud home to arrange for holding their grange picnic at the Jonsrud park next Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Wagner, Sr., of Cottrell went over to Seattle to spend Decoration Day with relatives.

Fred Radford was over from Palmer recently and visited with his son Irvin at Parkrose, also friends at Cottrell.

Mrs. Laura Crawford is near Jennings Lodge, but her broken wrist is recovering very slowly so she will not be able to come to Sandy for a while. She is taking treatments in the city.

There is a new sign posted on the old Cottrell store building which says "Open for business soon." Just who will operate the store is not reported.

Just where "they" came from no one knows, but Merle and Anabel Malar have been having chicken pox.

Clark Lund is an efficient helper in the Sandy Creamery, and his twin brother Lewis is working at Telford's store at Boring.

Mrs. Chas. Rathman was out from the city Sunday and was the guest of Mrs. Charles Wilkinson.

Mrs. Marie Mueller was out from Gresham Monday calling on a number of families.

The Cottrell Sunday school will hold a picnic at the church Saturday evening, beginning at 6 o'clock. Supper and ice cream will be served. This gathering is in honor of the contest for members which has just ended.

Mrs. E. E. Van Fleet was a caller at the H. H. Watkins home Sunday evening. Mrs. Van Fleet is the new teacher employed by the Sandy grade school board.

John Roberts is running lines for the P. E. P. company for 1,000 feet of new flume, which is to replace part of the old structure. All ready this season 500 feet have been replaced.

BOTKINS OBSERVE 65TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The sixty-fifth wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Botkin of Cherryville last week at the home of the Botkins was an event, and their son Dr. A. W. Botkin of Gresham helped celebrate the day. Mrs. Botkin, although 94, has held her age wonderfully and was doing all her own work until recently when she suffered a slight stroke.

Californians to Locate Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jonsrud had as week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Vern Pullen of Los Angeles, friends of Miss Eunice Jonsrud. The Pullens have been over in Washington, and are so impressed with the country and Oregon they decided to locate there or in Oregon next year. They say they are tired of California. The Pullens went "wild" over the Bluff road scenery.

Practice as Teacher

Edward Nelson was home from Monmouth over the week end. Edward has been doing practice teaching for about six weeks under Mrs. Barnum at the Independence grammar school. Mrs. Barnum was his teacher in the Kelso grade school formerly.

Grandfathers Pleased

Some of the grandparents were just as proud of the graduation Saturday night as the fond mothers and fathers, and will "chide" Mr. Vedder for not asking them to stand up too.

SANDY LOCALS

Notices for the grade school budget have been posted by Clerk John Roberts. The budget is about the same as that of last year.

Neal R. Horr is working up muscle during vacation, and began the "action" of doing so at the Bruns-McIntyre mill Monday morning.

A number of the high school boys came down from the fire fighting line Saturday morning and were glad to get home after the strenuous labor and loss of sleep which are a necessary part of the game in such a blaze.

Mrs. Joel Jarl has one of the most beautiful gardens in this vicinity, and everything is a riot of color at the Jarl ranch.

Mrs. G. S. Wilkinson had all her teeth extracted last week, and stood the ordeal fairly well.

La Verne Coalman, a former Sandy boy, and son of "Lige" Coalman, was among the group of twenty Portlanders climbing Mt. Hood Sunday, and fighting his way with them in a regular blizzard.

Mrs. W. P. Roberts of Dover is still in Kentucky and has not set the time for coming home as she is taking care of an invalid brother.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crose of Medford were here last week visiting at the A. J. Alt and Mrs. A. Byron homes, and all the above spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Krebs.

Mrs. J. M. C. Miller had as Friday guests for the day Mrs. Nellie Peterson and Mrs. Richard Thomas of Portland. The latter and Mrs. Miller sang in a quartet together twenty years ago in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Junker went with Mr. and Mrs. Neal R. Horr to Crisseys and Dodge Park Sunday afternoon and brought home lovely flowers.

Miss Edna Thompson was out from the city to attend the grade school graduation exercises Saturday night. Bill Lenz, who has been troubled with a strained back, finally went to the springs for a week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal R. Horr were hosts one evening recently at dinner to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Horst of Gresham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Brooks-Hogan were out last week. Mrs. Hogan is slightly improving.

Shower for Miss Tiffany

Miss Bertha Tiffany was surprised with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night, many lovely gifts being received by the prospective bride. Sandwiches and coffee were served, and music entertained. The shower was given at the Tiffany home east of town. Present were Mrs. J. Scales Mrs. J. R. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Smith, Mrs. H. Perret, Mrs. F. Christianson and Phyllis, Ruth Barnett, Ellen Hall, Sylvester and Lewis Hall, Mrs. Ned Mitchell, Mrs. Yost, Mrs. A. Dahrens, Jessie Downing, Mrs. Dittert, Mrs. D. M. Smith, Ellsworth Bell, Vincent Sherer, Ernest Boylan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Donaldson, Mrs. Miles and the Tiffany family.

Visit at The Dalles

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Watkins and the latter's mother, Mrs. Simmons, and sister, Miss Haight, went to The Dalles Saturday, returning Sunday. They report fruit and grain crops fine, much better than for two years. A wonderful crop of peaches and apricots are expected. One grower has spent $800 having his apricots thinned. The cherry crop is also great.

Visit With McNulty's

Mrs. Miller called on Mrs. L. McNulty while in Oregon City on business Tuesday. Mr. McNulty was at Roslyn lake fishing. Mrs. McNulty is busy every day in the store at West Linn to which she fell heir last summer.

Who Saves Your Money?

You earn the money that comes in your pay envelope—but who saves it? Do you put a part of it away every pay-day in a savings account?

Or do you let the extra dollars slide through your fingers into the hands of others who bring it here for their savings account?

Think it over, and see if it wise to let some one else save all the money that you have worked hard to get?

Your new account will be cheerfully started on a single dollar.

About Loaning Money...

Of course this bank has money to loan. That is part of the business of any well-regulated bank.

We have only one requirement that of security, for the bank loans not only its own funds but that of its depositors as well. Therefore we feel it is the duty of the borrower to ask for only such amounts as he can with reasonable certainty repay when due, otherwise he injures his credit and the bank as well. Our first duty is to our own depositors.
