EDITORIAL

Monday, June 18, 8 o'clock p. m., is the date of the annual meeting of Sandy grade school district, at the school house. E. F. Bruns is retiring director. Bruns has given more time to the work than any director in many years. "One good term deserves another," is the opinion of Ed's friends. John Roberts should also be re-elected clerk.

The scarcity of houses in Sandy is nearing the "tragic" stage. Several people are turned away from the town every day, and any old shack could be rented as everything is full.

Industry's feet are running fast here with the berry picking and shipping, the mills all working and the oilers making things hum.

Eastern money is flooding this country with paper shingles, and too many Oregon folks are buying them. It is killing home industry, according to local mill and shingle men. The cedar shingle, a nature product, cannot be improved upon by any composition of old rubber boots and asbestos, which, it is claimed, is part of the composition shingle. There are houses here roofed with cedar fifty years ago that are well preserved. Take a look at a house over the Eagle Creek way which was roofed with the substitute shingles last winter—the roofing is rolled up in one season.

Arrive From San Diego

Arriving from San Diego last week were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gist and children Stanley and Jean, and Miss Olive Gist. The former will visit relatives and friends two weeks before returning home and Miss Gist will remain here and she and her sister, Mrs. Addie Crossier, will live together. Mrs. Gist has been with her parents, the Hales, and is well known here as is Mr. Gist, both of whom were raised in Pleasant Home vicinity. Miss Gist has been visiting Mrs. George Beers and Mrs. Raymond Murray.

Has Fine Dairy Herd

Arthur Woodcock is milking nineteen cows and is selling the milk, which tests about 6 per cent butterfat, to the head works, the camp at Bear Creek dam and the Bull Run store. Woodcock is shipping only one can per day to the city now.

Visits City

Frank Thiess went to the city Monday afternoon shopping which was his first trip to the city for a year and a half.

Visit at Seaside

Mrs. W. R. Telford and son Wallace, Boring, were visitors at the Telford cottage at Seaside for a week recently.

MANY SOCIAL EVENTS

HELD AT BULL RUN

During the last week more activities were reported from Bull Run than from any local section, due largely to the fact that most of the communities were so busy in their berry fields, and many from Sandy are also picking berries.

A school program at Bull Run school house, in which the primary room gave a play, "Cinderella," and the upper grades gave a Boy Scout play called a "Knotty Problem," and Mrs. Maud Holt furnished music for the program.

Class history was presented by Vincent Chido, the class will read by Olive Kelliher, the class prophecy by Louis Haneberg. Exemption diplomas and Palmer method pins were presented by the teachers, Miss Iverson and Miss Heltness. A standardization diploma was presented by L. Haneberg, who gave a talk on the school work, and its being recently standardized. Two years work of the pupils was on display. Decorations were Scotch Broom, snowballs and greenery.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. H. Solderberg entertained the Bull Run Women's club, an event of the occasion being the announcement of the engagement of Mr. Solderberg's niece, Miss Nellie Johnson, to Ted Haneberg, which was made during the social hour when an elaborate lunch was served. A guessing game of old time songs, which the hostess arranged, resulted in Mrs. Ralph Ganger and Mrs. George Miller being tied for first honors. Twenty-two were present. Mrs. Elton Sloop and Mrs. R. C. Shipley will entertain at the next meeting.

Miss Irene Iverson gave a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ganger in honor of the Bull Run graduating class, the class of the '27 and the seventh grade class. Others present were Mrs. Walter Helms, Miss Alice Heltness, Mr. and Mrs. Ganger. Members of the class surprised Miss Iverson with a beautiful ring, and Miss Iverson also presented her class with rings. Refreshments were served, the table being decorated with the class colors, yellow and green. After dinner talks were given by the guests. The members of the graduation class are Olive Kelliher, Vincent Chido, Louis Haneberg; the seventh grade class, Blanche Jadwin, Mary and Edith Chido, Walter Haneberg and Stanley Miller. The last year's class is Curtis Bacon, Charles Butler and Russell Norquist.

Altar Society Entertained

Last Friday the Altar Society was entertained at the home of Mrs. Chas. Sharnke, the afternoon being spent in social converse and a general good time. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Barbara Sharnke. Present were Mrs. L. Lehnfeld, Doris, Jean and Patsy, Mrs. F. C. Brosius, Mrs. Geo. Hempe and Mary Hempe, Mrs. Max Kligel, Mrs. C. Haworth, Mrs. Henry Perret, Mrs. Caspar Junker, the hostess and Miss Barbara Sharnke.

Sings with Old Quartet

Mrs. J. M. C. Miller was invited to sing with the quartet that sang at Mizpah church over 20 years ago Sunday being home coming day. The same organist presided at the same instrument which served so well in days gone by. After the service, during which many eyes were moist, a pot luck dinner was served and heart to heart visiting brought back many tender memories.

Returns After 60 Years

Emil Wendland was surprised a few days ago while in the city when he saw Joe Willick sitting on a bench in the park. In fact, Emil could hardly believe his eyes! Willick, 85, came up from California to spend the summer at Portland. He homesteaded the land which is now occupied by C. L. Henson and Walter Krebs homes, around sixty years ago.

Mallery Leaves for Newberg

R. W. Mallery left last week for Newberg where he will spend two weeks with his parents and then will go to Monmouth to attend normal the rest of the summer.

Mrs. St. Johns Here

Mrs. Walter St. John and her mother were in Sandy last week calling on old friends and also decorated the graves of relatives at the Sandy cemetery.

SANDY LOCALS

Mrs. F. C. Brosius was in Hood River over Decoration day visiting relatives.

Mrs. A. J. Wyan and Mrs. Stout were down from the Sandy Lumber company settlement last Monday doing shopping in Sandy.

The Webb McGinnis residence is now receiving its second coat of paint which makes it still more attractive, and the lawn is also being leveled.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark and daughters were visitors at the Thomas Clark home Sunday and in the evening called at the Chas. Sharnke home.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson is quite improved and at home again from the hospital since last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lohman called on Gus Alert and wife for the first time since the Alerts were married, Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Esson was in town Sunday afternoon calling on her father, R. E. Esson, and on friends. Miss Esson was with Albert Alt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson and little Barbara were callers at the home of Mrs. J. M. C. Miller Sunday afternoon. Mr. Johnson is editor of the weekly Enterprise.

Mrs. Mary I. Wilson has been ill and a physician had to be called Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duke will attend the family reunion of the Wheeler-Wilson clan next Sunday at the home of Mrs. Strebin.

Jack Barnett went to Portland Sunday to hear Aimee McPherson preach.

W. Kircher, the pickle man from Pleasant Home, was in town recently placing his products with local merchants. Kircher says he will handle one hundred acres of cucumbers this season at his pickle factory.

The Cottrell Ladies' Aid will hold their apron bazaar next Saturday night at the Community church and a big ice cream feed will be another feature of the evening. A good crowd is hoped for.

Clara Sitz is working for Mrs. Arthur Woodcock at Bull Run. This is Clara's first going away from home to work.

Dr. and Mrs. Barendrick of McMinnville, former residents of Sandy, are building a lovely new home at the former place on a lot adjoining the F. D. Eason residence. The Darendricks built the Scales residence at Sandy while living here.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick entertained Sunday at a big chicken dinner. Mr. McCormick's sister and husband, the Wards of Portland, and their children, were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindell of Portland were out to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jonsrud Sunday.

Saturday night Frank Wall of Brightwood had a narrow escape when his car rolled over two or three times on the bluff road. He was not badly hurt.

Mrs. Thomas Kubitzka is not at all well and has been down part of the time recently. It is thought her teeth may be causing part of the trouble.

Mrs. Gilbert Jonsrud has not been well recently and has been going to the city for treatments and while she is there she is with her daughter Lillie, who is having fine success as a trained nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Wilkinson had as Sunday guests for the day their son Ray Wilkinson and wife of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wilkinson and baby daughter.

Many Sweet Peas Blooming

A sweet pea vine was reported in blossom in the Estacada section last week, but Mrs. Ben Kligel of Kelso is ahead of that country as she has had a hedge 12 feet long and four and one-half feet high blossoming the past three weeks. Her prolific peas have even climbed over the fence.

Box Factory TO BE ESTABLISHED SOON

J. B. Jonsrud, Sandy, has sold 80 acres of fir timber and his machinery at the old Cherryville shingle plant to W. S. Dippold of the Eagle Creek Shingle company. Dippold is moving to the location, has imported machinery from White Salmon, and will operate a box factory. He hopes to begin work in six weeks. Berry and celery crates, apple boxes, etc., will be made. However, the season is late, but he hopes to get celery crates on the market this fall. Dippold's brother, J. H. Dippold, will operate the shingle mill above Dover.

Lutheran Picnic Held

The annual Lutheran school picnic was held Sunday at the grove near the church. Preaching services were held in the morning, but no special program was given in the afternoon owing to the children being at work in the berry fields and having no time for preparation. A picnic dinner was served and refreshments sold. All report a most pleasant day. Games were features of the afternoon.

Logging to Start Soon

Greenwood & Lenz closed down logging operations for ten days until more road is built, and another donkey installed. The latter was obtained from the Bear Creek Logging company. When logging is started in the big timber the Sandy Lumber company hopes to make things hum daily.

Road Being Graded

Grading of the road from the Oregon Trail market road to the old Bruns place will be done this week, and this will soon be a "regular" street. Herman Bruns, L. B. Green and Henry Wewer are doing the work.

Klingers Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Klingler entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. Oren Ganger and Bobby with a duck dinner recently at their Bull Run home.
