

HERE AND THERE

Mary Rayden of Chicago held three policemen at bay with a toy pistol for an hour and then surrendered.
Miss Edith Graham of St. Louis was so intent on a cross word puzzle that she didn't know her home was burning, and was rescued with difficulty.

Justice Salter of Leeds, Eng., heard 103 divorce cases in ten and one-half hours.

John Mead is conductor of a Great Western railway train on which his three sons are respectively engineer, fireman and brakeman.

Mrs. Sarah Bampton, age 61, of Crossville, Cal., crawled a mile to a signal box after falling from a train and breaking her leg.

Albert Bradshaw of Sutton, Mo., has been sentenced to prison for the third time for threatening to kill his mother-in-law.

Rev. C. H. Hasson of New York City forgot a scheduled wedding and went to bed, but was awakened and performed the ceremony an hour later.

Taken for a patient when he called at a hospital to visit his son, James Graham of London, aged 72, was bathed, shaved and put to bed for the night, despite his protests.

During a betting craze several members of a Cardiff congregation were expelled for making wagers in church.

At the funeral of Mrs. Janet Runston at Leeds, Eng., all the mourners wore bright colored clothes as she had requested.

Mme. Bertha Cadeur of Toulon, France, who died on her 106th birthday, had been married seven times.

"Every time I ask my husband to go to work he just weeps," Mrs. J. C. Donald of Newark reported to the police, and she was advised to sue for non-support.

King George sold 48 of his Windsor pigs to a London butcher for $5,860.

A shrewd Chicago detective emptied the steaming coffee pot in Henry Derin's home and found a diamond ring that Derin had stolen.

A pin swallowed ten years ago was recently removed from the lung of Mrs. Ellen Garth of Fort Worth, Texas.

Ernest Bradshaw, who a few years ago was a taxicab driver in Gorton, Eng., has become a millionaire ship-owner in Australia.

Thirteen years after he was separated from his parents by the German invasion of France, Raphael Remon, aged 27, has been found in Paris.

Attend Bankers Meet
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stephens went to Oregon City Thursday afternoon to attend the Clackamas county bankers association meeting, which was held at the country club.

Workhouse officials in London asked for a court order to make Bert Williams bathe, because he hadn't had a bath in two years.

Owing to her auto being wrecked Miss Ethel Morgan of Waukegan, Ill. had to walk two miles to church to get married.

George Purison of Chicago cut off Jennie Aiken's hair with scissors at the movies and had to pay a fine of $50 for the trick.

Richard Fawkes and his ten sons of Smithfield, Eng., are all shepherds one serving King George and two working for John D. Rockefeller.

A baby was born to Mrs. J. C. Crofen of Chicago on a street car while returning from a shopping trip.

M. C. Morlin of St. Louis was sued by a dentist for the price of a set of false teeth he refused to pay for.

FOOTBALL MAN DIRECTS "THE QUARTERBACK"

A one-time football player, baseball pitcher and all-round athlete to direct a motion picture with a football theme. What better choice?
The director is Fred Newmeyer, who has just completed work on Richard Dix's latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Quarterback," which is the major attraction at the Liberty Theatre here Sunday and Monday.
Newmeyer obtained gridiron experience in Denver while starring on the high school team. From amateur football he stepped into professional baseball, pitching until his arm "went bad." Fred played with Wichita and Denver in the Western league, with Chattanooga in the Southern and Waco in the Texas.

That Newmeyer hasn't forgotten football was forcefully exhibited last year in Harold Lloyd's "The Freshman." As co-director of that picture he inserted some of the most realistic football scenes ever filmed.

Director Newmeyer is highly enthusiastic about "The Quarterback." After completing the film and conferring with Dix, Esther Ralson and the authors he said that the production afford greater dramatic and comedy possibilities than any football story he had ever made.

This man has probably a finer record of comedy hits than any other director in the industry. After working as an extra, property man and assistant director, Hal Roach gave him his first chance in 1918.

But it was only after Newmeyer joined the Lloyd forces that he began to be heard from. He directed "Grandma's Boy," "A Sailor Made Man," "Dr. Jack," "Never Weaken," "Safety Last," "Why Worry" and "I Do," in addition to acting as co-director on three of Harold's more recent films—"Hot Water," "Girl Shy" and "The Freshman."
