

MAGGIE AND JIGGS
NOW ON THE SCREEN

America's funniest famous family, the Jiggs of comic strip renown, will bring their riotous squabbles and reconciliations to the Liberty Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presents them on the screen in a Cosmopolitan production, entitled, "Bringing up Father." It is a rollicking comedy, which was substituted for the above date for "Man, Woman and Sin," and brings to film audiences the popular female comedy team, Polly Moran and Marie Dressler, who are warranted to be even funnier in this picture than they were in the "Callahans and the Murphys."

The picture is a literal adaptation of George McManus' famous cartoons. Polly Moran plays Maggie, the redoubtable wife of Jiggs, and Marie Dressler takes the role of Mrs. Dinty Moore. J. Farrell MacDonald, well known character actor, is Jiggs. Gertrude Olmstead, who came to the screen by way of a beauty contest, is the Jiggs' beautiful daughter.

The picture is said to be one long guffaw from beginning to end. It begins when the Jiggs, steerage passengers from old Dublin, arrive in America in company with the Dinty Moores, and takes them up to the time they attempt to high hat their corn-beef-and-cabbage origin in their entertainment of nobility at a Long Island show place. If you don't want to laugh till your sides hurt, better stay away from "Bringing Up Father."

BARTON

Milburn Whitehead left to rejoin the navy Saturday morning. He was accompanied by his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Whitehead, as far as Seattle.

Mr. Brown and daughter Margaret spent Sunday picking huckleberries above Government Camp. They returned with five gallons.

Miss Martha Whitehead of Barton, Marjorie Price, Kenneth Wallen and Melvin Fenske of Portland motored to Vancouver Sunday.

The Good Will club will meet at the home of Mrs. Marie Gibson on Thursday.

Miss Alice Udell is at home after an absence of over three months. Alice has been working at the home of her sister near Salem.

Prayer meetings will be held each Thursday night at the church, again.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bailey have sold their home here and are moving this week to Portland.

A number of Barton people are planning to go to Camas, Wash., on a picnic at the Frank Guffrett farm, Sunday.

Afghans Fond of Butter

The food of the Afghans is very similar to our own, but it is cooked in a different way, for quantities of butter are used in preparing almost everything. The favorite dish, which is known in many of the countries near Afghanistan, is called polo, and consists of meat, butter and rice, to which various spices are added.

"Floating" Opals

The Smithsonian institution says that there is no such thing as a floating opal in a natural state. However, there has recently been manufactured an opal called the floating opal. This is a glass or crystal ball containing some fluid in which there floats ground opal. This gives the appearance of floating opal.

Remarkable Geysers

Rotorua, N. Z., is famed for its valleys of geysers. These are utilized by the native Maoris for cooking, washing, boiling their kettles, etc. In certain places in the Waikare valley trout can be pulled from one pool and cooked in an adjacent one.

Rule for Success

To succeed you must be right most of the time. And to be right most of the time you must aim to be right all of the time. You must not only assure the world, you must satisfy yourself in this matter.—Grt.

FRIENDS AID FORTUNE WINNER BEAT SHARKS

Form Lucky Man Into Limited Liability Company.

London.—Tales of those who lose at gambling are seldom heard unless they take to crime or commit suicide as a result of their losses. Big winners at gambling flash across the newspaper horizon for a day or two and are soon forgotten, but the newspaper reader often wonders what the big winners do with their easily-gained fortunes. Do they blow them in quickly in riotous living, or do they save and usefully invest the money?

Now that the season is at hand when every true born Briton has a ticket in some sweepstake the London Daily Mail has looked up some of the men and women who struck it luckily in recent years. The investigation has revealed that so far as can be found, the past winners have not become wild spendthrifts by their good luck, but have thoughtfully used their money where it would do the most good.

Keeps Off Sharks.

William Kilpatrick, the Capetown dental mechanic, formerly of Leeds, who won $300,000 in the Calcutta sweep last year, has just returned to Milnthorpe, Westmoreland, where his mother and sweetheart live. He is to be married in July. He visited Milnthorpe soon after his success, but returned to Capetown in the autumn.

Immediately it was known that he was the winner last year friends in Capetown formed him into a limited liability company, so that his good nature could not be worked upon by sharks or anybody else. He settled on his mother and sisters at Milnthorpe a sum sufficient to bring them in a comfortable income. He also bought them a house and a motor car.

He established and endowed a soup kitchen to Capetown, where he intends to make his home.

Jamez Strang of Pollok street, Glasgow, who won $30,000 with a $25 treble at last year's Derby, told a reporter that he had invested the money very profitably. He has continued in his occupation as a traveler for a firm of wholesale drapers in Glasgow.

Part Owner of Ticket.

Mrs. Ford, part owner of a ticket which won a little over $150,000 in the Derby sweepstake organized at Otley in 1925, still lives in her modest home in Pembroke street, Skipton, Yorkshire. Mrs. Ford had a quarter-share of a $250 ticket, half a share was owned by her mother, Mrs. Hodgson, who has since died, and the other quarter was in the name of a Mrs. Griffin, who was engaged as a cook in a Skipton coffee house. Mrs. Hodgson distributed most of her $75,000 among seven relatives.

Castor Oil Bean Drives Insects From Its Vicinity

Austin, Texas.—All kinds of insects have such a dislike for castor oil bean plants that they will not come near them, and this fact has caused experiments to be made of planting the beans in cotton fields as a means of keeping the boll weevil and other pests away.

It is stated that by planting a row of castor oil beans to every four or five rows of cotton, protection against insect invasion may be obtained. The castor oil beans themselves are a profitable crop, although it is admitted that should they be grown with cotton upon all the farms of the South there probably would result an over-production of the beans.

Cumps of castor oil bean plants are grown around the homes of many families to ward off flies and mosquitoes, and it is regarded as strange that the idea that this plan might be adopted for keeping insect pests out of cotton fields was so long delayed in being put into practice.

Raid Nets Quantity of Wine

Jim Norris and D. M. Marshall made a raid on the shack of Jack Beagle, three miles west of Estacada, Friday, and found ten dozen bottles of beer, 30 gallons of wine and about 25 gallons of malt beer, which they brought to town and spilled in the gutter, while a large crowd watched the proceedings. Beagle was fined $75 by Justice S. E. Wooster.

CHURCHES

Methodist

Scorn is matter deeper than speech or action. A scornful man has no respect for God or man. The springs of his life are poisoned. His heart is soured.

The scornful man is contemptuous of his fellow men. Nothing in the lives of others is sacred to him. Very often he asserts that he has "seen life" when what he has seen is death. How different the Savior! He knew the worst and yet he believed in the best. Jesus saw, not so much what men and women were, but what they might become.

Each and every form of scorn has its common penalty in a seared soul. Cynicism of all kinds takes its toll of the stuff of the soul. The man or woman who finds it eating its insidious way into the life must pause and ask whether it is leading them. There is no effective cure for it but a changed heart. It means the fervent prayer: "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean" of this fault.

The gospel as preached is a great help to cure all ills of life, morally. So your attention is called to the services next Sunday in the morning at 11 o'clock. The subject will be, "Estrayed but Recovered" and in the evening at 8 o'clock "The Cross." Both sermons will be worth while to hear. Sunday school at 10 a. m. You are cordially invited to these services.—C. T. Cook, pastor.
