ANALYSIS SHOWS THAT WATER IS POLLUTED

ESTACADA COUNCIL ORDERS CHLORINATION SYSTEM INSTALLED AT ONCE

The county health officer, after having had Estacada city water analyzed, recommended to the city council the immediate installation of a chlorination system for the purification of the water.

The water does not contain anything that could be classed as serious, the News has been informed, but the city water is badly polluted. The chlorine plant advised will make the water safe, but it may at times have a bad taste.

The council, at the meeting held on Tuesday evening, ordered a plant installed immediately that would remedy the condition.

Walter L. Wheldon presented to the city fathers an application for appointment as night watchman, which was tabled for the present. The matter of procuring a car load of gravel for city streets was left up to the street and alley committee.

Mayor H. C. Stephens, Councilmen Osborne, Rose, Dues and Morgan and Recorder Dale were present.

The need of an adequate water system for the Estacada has been the subject of considerable discussion for a long time. "The present council does not propose to take any further action other than to make the water safe," a member of the board stated Wednesday, "as the term of the mayor and three councilmen expire this year, and this is a matter that will come up after the election of the new board."

PORTLAND FORD PLANT NOW OPERATING

Of local interest is the announcement that the Ford assembling plant in Portland began operations this week and while but few cars per day are being turned out now, the capacity will be gradually increased and within a few weeks 75 cars per day will be delivered to dealers from this station.

Dealers expect, before a great while to be able to make immediate delivery to purchasers.

WILL BUY PRUNES

J. G. Hayman of Estacada is buying prunes for the cannery this year. It is said that many of the prunes will be marketed this way instead of being dried.

ATTACHMENT PROVES POPULAR

The Cascade Chevrolet company put on one of the Dual-Duty extensions on the Art Perry Chevrolet truck last week, and also one on a truck belonging to O. R. Walters of Boring, this week. This unit doubles the capacity of the Chevrolet truck and the Cascade company has the state agency for this device. The enthusiastic reception given it by local owners of trucks indicates an enormous demand for them throughout the state of Oregon.

MT. HOOD PLEASES VISITORS

Mrs. G. S. Wilkinson of Cottrell was most pleasantly surprised by the arrival of her brothers, W. D. and A. M. Pierce of Courtland, N. Y., and they will spend the week here. The Loop trip was made Sunday and the visitors said the sight of Hood and the Loop trip was worth the entire trip out here.

LEAVING FOR APPLE FIELDS

Several people of the Sandy community are leaving for the Hood River apple orchards, among them being included Mrs. Dora Matthews and Mrs. Ben Alt, who will assist in sorting apples at White Salmon. Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Bettis will also work there.

WILLIAM GANGLERS ENTERTAIN

Guests over Labor Day at the William Ganger home, Bull Run, were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sture and son Claude of St. John, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hollowell and son and daughter Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Home Hollowell and Miss Nina Hollowell of Oregon City and Mr. and Mrs. John Mulkey of Portland.

William Stube, a former resident here, was an Estacada visitor first of the week.

FRED PROCTOR HAS "TOUGH LUCK" WHEN HE STIRS UP HORNETS

F. L. Proctor, Sandy banker, literally stepped into a hornet's nest Sunday while up the mountains, fishing. Things were starting out nicely, Fred and Verne Alt had each pulled out a fish, when Proctor heard something buzz—zip—and he was surrounded! Hornet stings are not funny, and when Fred could not fight them off he did the only thing possible to get away from them—he jumped into the river, after having been stung several times.

He finally got rid of the hornets and when he started to pull out his fishline the hook caught in the lobe of his ear and required a Sandy doctor to cut it out.

Fred is undaunted, however, and says he is going fishing again next Sunday.

SCHOOL OPEN WITH ENROLLMENT OF 217

Estacada schools opened Monday morning with an enrollment of 93 in the high school and 124 in the grade. This number is estimated to be about two-thirds of the final enrollment.

Many of the boys and girls of the community are busy picking prunes or working in the hop yards. There are eight teachers employed in the high school and six in the grades. W. E. Buell is principal.

NEAR EAST RELIEF WORKER PAYS VISIT

Rev. J. J. Handsaker of Portland was the speaker Sunday at Springwater, George and Eagle Creek on his circuit of Rev. T. I. Kirkwood. Mr. Handsaker has been for eleven years director of Near East Relief and announced to his congregations that after twelve years of service in which the Near East Relief has saved more than a million lives, that he end of the task is in sight.

"We were organized to take care of the refugees driven from their homes by the Turks. We have ministered to more than 130,000 children, but have taken none in for the last six years, not since the burning of the city of Smyrna. At that time we picked up 22,000 children and moved them out of Turkey, and now our remaining task is three-fold. First, we are trying to give special training to several hundred very promising young people, who are evidently destined for leadership in the Near East, if we can give them training provided by the American colleges. The Estacada high school, Mr. Handsaker reports, is planning to give valuable help in this.

"The second thing we are attempting is to give help to 200,000 refugees, just as we have helped a million already, and once they are on their feet, they will ask nothing more of us.

"The third thing is to provide for the 32,000 children who are still in our care. They are orphans exiled from their own country and all we ask of the American public for them is sufficient funds to keep them until they are sixteen years of age. We certainly could do no less; we should do much more."

In all his addresses Mr. Handsaker levoted much time to an account of the work of C. C. Thurber, whose story was told in the Estacada high school last spring. This man, although invalided home six years ago, has gone back to Greece, and there is serving the children, many of whom he rescued from death in Turkey six years ago.

LEGIIONNAIRES LOSE GAME TO OSWEGO

LAKE NINE WINS THE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP WITH ESTACADA SECOND

Estacada Legionnaires lost the Oswego game and the championship of the Portland Valley Baseball league here Sunday afternoon in a one-sided contest. The Lake nine were hitting Sunday and nothing could stop them.

Riebhoff started the game for the home club and allowed but four hits in the three innings he pitched, but he lost control and after three walks was pulled out of the game.

Ken Scales went into the box and allowed but one hit, but was also wild and after walking three men he was relieved by Jude Moreland, who finished the game.

Riebhoff was charged with allowing seven runs, Scales three and Jude four, giving the Oswego club a total of fourteen runs. Estacada had but two scores in the game.

Had three errors made by Estacada been left out of the game, it would probably have been fairly close, although Oswego outplayed the Legionnaires, and certainly were entitled to win.

In the second contest with Hillsboro the home team won by the close score of 3 to 2. Throughout most of the game the score had stood 2 to 1 in favor of Estacada. In the ninth inning, with two men out and two strikes on the batter, Hoag, Hillsboro second baseman, hit one over the fence for a home run, tying the score. It looked as if Estacada had lost a double header, but an error, and two hits brought in the winning run.

This was the fifth game the Legionnaires had played the Oswego club, each having won two games and this victory gave the Lake nine the best of it by one game.

Hillsboro and Estacada now have met four times this year, each having won two games, and the two teams are tied for second honors in the Portland Valley league.

Neither team favored a playoff and as there is a cup for the runner up, the winner will be decided in some way other than on the diamond.

The gate receipts for the game here Sunday were the largest on record in the league this year, amounting to approximately $290. Throughout the season Estacada receipts exceeded those of any other town in the league.

The baseball committee of the Legion, in a tentative report to the post Monday night, estimated that there would be a slight loss after all outstanding bills were paid, counting the equipment on hand as an asset.

P. T. A. TO ELECT OFFICERS ON SEPTEMBER 19TH

The election will be held at the next meeting of the post, which will be early in October.

Mrs. J. D. Fasching of Portland was quite badly injured Sunday afternoon, when the car in which she was riding with her husband, Dr. D. J. Fasching, overturned a short distance this side of Currinsville.

They were en route to Estacada when a car driven by J. R. Lampaugh also of Portland struck their car and wrecked the machine.

Mrs. Fasching was brought to the office of her brother, Dr. W. W. Rhodes, in Estacada, where it was found that three ribs were broken and she was otherwise badly bruised. Her husband suffered a bad scalp wound and was cut on the face and legs.

These are among the interesting and diversified settings for "The Forbidden Woman," a dramatic picture starring Jetta Goudal, which will be the feature attraction at the Liberty Theatre, Estacada, next Wednesday and Thursday.

A story of brother love, "The Forbidden Woman" chronicles the futile love of a siren spy in the service of Morocco, who marries a French colonel in quest of secret information, only to fall desperately in love with her husband's brother.

Miss Goudal in the title role is supported by Victor Varconi, who portrays her husband, and Joseph Schildkraut, her husband's brother.

There were two pie tins left at the ladies' stand Labor Day which the owner may have by calling at the Gilgan store.
