CONTEST LOOMS FOR ESTACADA OFFICES

AMES AND LOVELACE OUT FOR PLACE OF MAYOR; AHLBERG FOR RECORDER

A. G. Ames and J. F. Lovelace are candidates for the office of mayor of Estacada, their petitions having been filed Tuesday, the date for filings having closed on that day.

John Osborne is unopposed for the position of councilman in ward one, J. C. Kiggins is the lone candidate in ward two and G. R. Ellis and A. H. Perry are candidates for councilman in ward three.

W. A. Heylman and Ted Ahlberg oppose each other for the office of city recorder. Mrs. Nina B. Ecker, who has served as treasurer for several years, is the only candidate for that office.

A caucus was held at the city hall Monday night for the purpose of nominating a ticket. L. A. Chapman was nominated for mayor, Osborne, Kiggins and Ellis for councilmen, and Wm. Dale for recorder and Mrs. N. B. Ecker for treasurer. A committee was appointed to file the petitions of the candidates that their names could appear on the official ballot.

The committee, the following day, undertook to carry out its instructions, but learned that Chapman refused the nomination, and also that Mr. Dale would not accept the nomination for recorder for re-election.

Petitions were circulated for Ames and Lovelace, and also Mr. Ahlberg during the day, and the names of each will appear on the ballot, along with those nominated at the caucus held Monday evening.

Quite a large number of voters in the city who failed to attend the caucus have expressed dissatisfaction with the candidates nominated and in some instances it is likely that "sticker" candidates will receive a large vote, and it is possible that some of the offices will be filled by men whose names do not appear on the ballot.

ESTACADA MAN LOST 5 DAYS IN MOUNTAINS

CHASES COUGAR FROM CAMP AND IS WITHOUT FOOD FOR FIVE DAYS

Charles B. Drake stumbled on the camp of a searching party Sunday after being lost for five days and nights in the mountains above Oak Grove ranger station, in a semi-delirious condition. He had been without fire three of the nights he was lost, and had nothing to eat during the entire time.

Drake, W. W. Smith and C. P. Boyer had gone into the mountains on a hunting expedition and the two last named went back to Oak Grove to bring in their food supplies. They returned to camp about five o'clock and found that Drake was gone, but a fire had just been started and the evening meal was in the course of preparation.

They thought he had stepped out some place and would shortly return, but when he failed to show up by morning they started to search for the missing man. After three days without success Smith came out and searching parties were sent in immediately. He came into one of these camps by accident, apparently, Sunday afternoon, after having been lost since Tuesday evening.

He stated that a cougar attacked a horse tied near the camp and he took his gun and chased the cougar. After it escaped he was unable to find his way back to camp. He had a few matches and built a fire the first two nights he was out, but after his matches were all used he had no fire at night.

To add to his discomfort, about eight inches of snow fell the first night he was lost, and in addition to going without food he had to endure the intense cold.

He was brought into town the first of the week and is now at the Estacada hotel where he is recuperating from his experience. Aside from frostbitten feet he is not expected to suffer any lasting effects from the exposure.
