With the County Agent

By John J. Inskeep, County Agent
Clackamas county was represented by a number of winners in the land products exhibit of the Pacific International Livestock show. Boys and Girls 4-H club members won the lions share of the prizes which will be reported by R. C. Kuehner next week.

C. H. Feyrer, Molalla, won first prize in gray oats; third prize, 100 ears yellow corn; fifth prize, white spring oats; second prize Jenkins club wheat; fourth prize, soft white club wheat.

Mrs. C. H. Feyrer won second prize in white dent corn.

John Eggiman, Boring, won sixth prize in soft red winter wheat; fourth prize in gray oats, and first prize in Hungarian vetch.

W. S. Biddle, Clackamas, won third prize in certified Burbank seed potatoes.

Emil Nodurt, Oregon City, R. 5, won fifth prize in certified Burbank seed potatoes.

Alfred Wellman, Boring, won first prize in American Wonder potatoes.

Winfield Baker, Oswego, won first in commercial Earliest of All potatoes, and second in certified Earliest of All potatoes.

Jacob Boylen, Oregon City, R. 5, won first in certified Pride of Wisconsin potatoes and second certified Earliest of All potatoes.

Northwest Bulb company, Canby, won five first and three seconds in bulbs.

These winners together with the county booth and the Jerseys shown by Mrs. Florence Gale Neal and other livestock gave Clackamas county a prominent place in the biggest show of the northwest.

Back in Kansas There is a Small Town with most of the store windows boarded up, with the streets uncared for and everything about the place having the appearance of a deserted village—and that is what it is.

A few years back it was a prosperous, thriving village with good stores, good schools, good churches and a general air of prosperity.

But the people listened to the siren of bigger bargains and cheaper prices of the big town near by until the home merchants had to close up and move away. Property values decreased and the taxes won't permit enough money to be raised to properly care for the city.

What happened to the Kansas town can happen to any town anywhere in this country. It isn't necessary to fight a town to kill it—just forget it, neglect it, rob it of the loyalty it deserves, and nature will take its course. No matter how large the town is, it must have the loyalty of its citizens to be prosperous.

Estacada and Sandy can be as prosperous and Thriving as their citizens care to make them—if they are loyal.
