SANDY PIONEERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

an invalid and was not able to be present, by Mrs. Anton Malar, the verse being composed by Mrs. Hoerlicker.

The "Old Timer" orchestra received several ovations. It was composed of Charley Bailey, Jerome Cockerleas, Frank Gibbs, G. E. Van Slyke and Emory Ward, all but Bailey now of Gresham.

The motion to discontinue the semi annual meetings was voted down.

Wany former pioneers or their children were present from the city including Minnie Sharrock Price, whose father took up the first claim at Sandy, and Henry Gerdes, whose father had the first store at Sandy.

From Eagle Creek the Walter Douglasses and Mr. Steinman were present, also Mrs. Viola Denning, who were among the first to settle in that section, Douglass Ridge being named for Mrs. Denning's father. Alice Revenue Webster from Portland was also present.

The meeting will be talked of for a long time, and these events are too splendid to discontinue. They touch the heart, theh umor, warm up old friendships, and do lasting good.

Becomes Beaver Knight

O. S. A. C., Corvallis, Jan. 31.—(Special).—Harold Ewalt of Estacada, freshman in agriculture, was initiated into the Beaver Knight chapter of Intercollegiate Knights, an under-classmen's honorary service organization. This organization acts as a "pep and tradition" committee for the college. Its object is to instruct the freshmen in songs, yells, and traditions of the college, to receive and entertain visiting teams, to help with campus traffic, and to function at all college events such as athletic contests and convocations.

Second Semester of E. H. S. Began Monday

The second semester in the Estacada high school started last Monday. The registration for the semester is 127. Miss Edith Howell was graduated and John Stewart withdrew from this school to attend the Benson Polytechnic in Portland. Miss Nola Clester was the only new student enrolled for this term.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yocum drove to Portland Saturday with their daughter Carol, who is taking lessons on the cello from a teacher in the city.

LEGION DANCE TO BE HELD AT EAGLE CREEK FEB. 9

After a rest of a few weeks, the Legion dances are again to be held at the Eagle Creek hall, with a new orchestra to furnish the music. Otto Smith and his band have been employed, and the first dance will be held on Saturday evening, February 9. The Legionnaires hope to see all their old patrons back again, as well as many new ones.

Elmer Anderson, Atlee Erickson and Grover Kiggins have charge of these dances for the Carl Douglass Post of the American Legion.
