Sandy Lutheran

The Lenten season offers us an opportunity to meditate more particularly upon the passion history of our Savior. The burden of the Lenten messages, therefore, will be the "Suffering and Crucified Savior." We preach Christ and Him crucified at all times, but especially so during the Lenten season.

"And I, brethren, when I come to you, come not with excellency of speech, or of wisdom declaring unto the testimony of God. For I am determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified." Thus we speak with St. Paul (1 Cor. 2:1-2).

Next Sunday German Lenten services at 10:30 a. m. You are welcome.—F. T. Schoen, pastor.

Estacada Christian Church

To grow in grace and knowledge is the very essence of Christian discipleship. Christian growth. That—just that—is the lesson for Sunday morning.

Beggar and prince, clown and dude, sinner and saint,—God made all of us, the whole curious hodgepodge of humanity. And made us in such manner that in order to live we must grow physically. Briefly, clearly, just what we know about Christian growth.

If ever any topic was important, if any lesson ever interesting, this one certainly will be. There is a welcome for you in the Bible school Sunday morning.

"Faith" is the morning sermon message. If the subject of Christian growth is important and interesting, surely faith is doubly so.

Why is Christianity the only adequate religion? That certainly is a live subject, and will produce a lively discussion at the Christian Endeavor. You do not want to miss it, and we don't want you to. Arnold Anderson is leader; Miss Bessie C. Anderson is president and Mrs. Jack Aikins is song leader.

Don't miss a single Lord's day service; you will miss a blessing if you do. Remember the hours of service—Bible school at 10 a. m., preaching at 11 and Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m.—Hugh Foster, pastor.

Colton Lutheran

The Colton Lutheran Sunday school meets at 9:45 each Sunday and church service is at 11 o'clock a. m. The Lutheran league meets on the second Wednesday of each month at the homes of the members. This month they will meet at the church.

When God is in the home it is a most pleasant place to live. Sometime ago a Chicago paper told of an overheard conversation between two boys in that city.

"It was quite early in the day and the family had not yet breakfasted, when a little Jewish boy from across the street came into the yard and beckoned through the window to the six-year-old son to come out and play. The boy answered, 'I can't come now, for we have not had our breakfast nor prayers.'

"Prayers! What's that?" the little Jewish boy asked. "Why, that's talking to God, and my daddy knows how to do it, too," was the son's answer.

Another son, brought up in just such a home, sent a letter to his parents on their golden wedding anniversary. This is part of what he said:

"As I begin to write, there comes floating through my brain a host of texts from that volume which, thanks to your training, has become the best-loved and most studied of all books. I remember with gratitude how I used to sit beside mother in my eighth year, reading the Bible, and asked her questions about its meaning; and how, during that year I finish reading the good book through. Thus from a child I have known the scripture. And not merely did you teach us to read the Bible and explain its meaning, but your lives in general as seen by us, and your conduct toward us in particular, have been object lessons, enabling us to understand more deeply and appreciate more fully than many can the meaning of not a few texts of scripture.

"The happy home in which we all lived together, and the happy home where we still delight to meet are beautiful types of the Father's house in which we all hope to dwell."

The subject for the morning service next Sunday at 11 o'clock will be "Concerning Fellowship with God" and in the evening at 7:30, "The Fountain or Root of All Christian Character." Both these subjects will be interesting and helpful. Do not miss either.

The Sunday school is like a bee hive; all are busy and it is getting crowded. A big attendance last Sunday! Help make it larger next Sunday. What class will get the banner?

Epworth League will meet at 6:30 Miss Irene Kaake, leader. A good time is expected. "Let all who will, come." You will have a welcome.—C. T. Cook, pastor.

GARFIELD

GARFIELD, Feb. 20.—(Special).—Five hundred people attended the Giger sale Thursday, local communities being well represented. Others attending were from Portland, Oregon City, Boring, Sandy and Gresham. The sale was a success, financially, good average prices being realized for implements, stock and household furniture. The administrator was well pleased with the result, and praised the method of the auctioneer, Fred Bartholomew, in conducting the sale.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reeher was the scene of a birthday party Monday evening honors being shared between Mrs. Reeher and Mrs. Joe Nicholson, both of whom had completed another year in life's calendar. The evening was enjoyed socially, after which a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Reeher. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Van Houten, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jamieson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nicholson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Johanson entertained as their guests the past week the Misses Ruth Nelson and Irene Yarnell, both of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall attended the card party and dance given by the Clackamas Card club at Clackamas Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shafer were Portland visitors Sunday.

Mrs. A. W. Schunke returned home from the George district last Saturday, where she had been nursing Mrs. Joe Weiderhold and infant son.

M. A. Olsen and daughter Pauline of Reedsport, Ore., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Boylan. Mr. Olson is a brother of Mrs. Boylan.

Road Supervisor Duncan has a crew of men at work repairing the roads, somewhat damaged by the heavy frosts the past week.

Mrs. Eli View of Portland has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Botkin and family the past week.

County Health Nurse, Miss Lynch and Mrs. Hall, head of the Clackamas County Health project, paid the Garfield district school a visit, giving a talk on health to the pupils, also taking the weights of the children, preparatory to beginning the use of the health charts, with a view of giving those pupils who desire an opportunity to enter the health contest. The ladies partook of hot lunch served by the pupils of the school, and were very much pleased with the service.

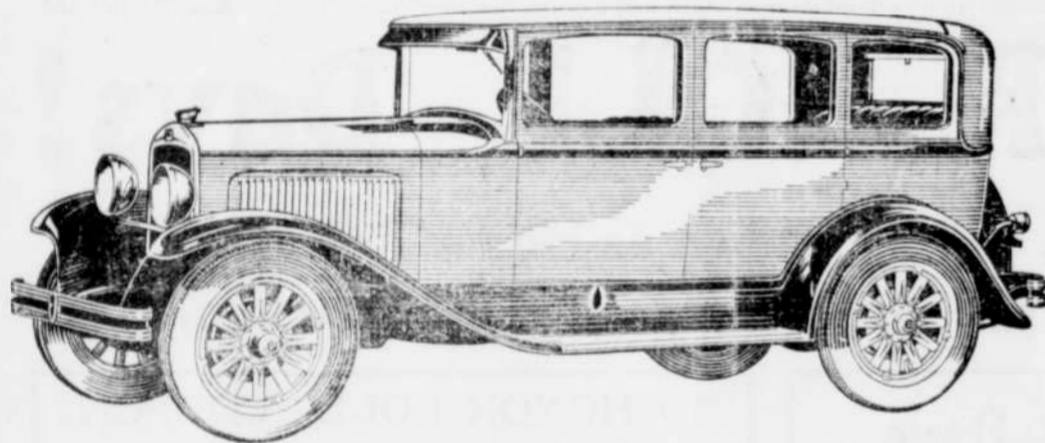

When sued for divorce, James Sherton, of Chicago, blamed his wife's twin sister for his troubles, saying that she butted into his family affairs.
