All votes, club votes and all, are given regularly on all subscriptions turned in before March 30, as well as credit points on the special offer. This offer does not interfere in the least with winning the prize you started out after. In fact it will help you, for while you are winning the extra $100 IN GOLD you will be piling up a total of votes that will carry you to the top of the list for the final dash for one of the originally announced prizes.

'Tis the coward who quits to misfortune,
'Tis the knave who changes each day;
'Tis the fool who starts like a whirlwind,
Then throws his chances away.
The time to succeed is when others,
Discouraged, show traces of tire;
The battle is fought on the home stretch,
And WON twist the flag and the wire.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

On Saturday night, March 30, promptly at 11 o'clock, the big second period of votes goes out of effect forever. Double importance should be attached to work done by the end of this period.

If you expect to be a big prize winner, you must take full advantage of the few remaining hours of the big vote schedule.

Here's a point the Campaign Manager has been wanting to make for several days—if you are a candidate you are held responsible for your success in the eyes of the world. You may "pass the buck" to your own satisfaction but in the eyes of the great outside you win or lose through YOUR efforts. You are judged finally, by your campaign. Results are all that count.

A subscription to The Clackamas County News is an investment—not an expense. Through the advertisements alone, the subscriber saves many times the price in a year.

Today no one has anything won.

It is anybody's race at the pole—a neck and neck affair. If any candidate has any idea in his or her head that he or she is "sitting pretty" in the car class, the Campaign Manager advises them to awake and rub their eyes. There is a fable about the hare and the tortoise, you know.

Running a race on the home stretch of which every candidate may well be proud, the energetic candidates are rounding the turn and the eyes of the entire district are intently watching the finish of this big event.

"I haven't a chance in the world," said one candidate in the office yesterday. "Why, I'm a million or more votes behind right now!" To which this candidate's friend, who was along, replied, "Well, I wish there was only a couple of 10-year subscriptions between me and one of those cars." And there's a sermon in that, too, if you've got the head to get it.

Are you one of those "alibi" artists who would rather provide a make-shift alibi than really try? There are many, many subscriptions to be had this week. Why, candidates from the other side of town are getting subscriptions right from your next door neighbor. That's true, too. Are you simply "picking," passing up nine out of ten chances, or are you really trying to help yourself?

The Next Fourteen Days of Second Period Are Very Important to Ultimate Success
