"REDSKIN" PICTURE SAID TO ADD TO SCREEN HISTORY

A new chapter has been written in the history of motion picture. A new wonder has been revealed. "Redskin," the new Richard Dix epic of the West, which will be shown at the Liberty, Estacada, Sunday and Monday, marks an amazingly wonderful step forward.

Beautiful scenic backgrounds are revealed in all their true color and beauty. The hills and valleys of the Indian color are reproduced for the screen just as the eyes see them in nature. And the powerfully gripping story, true to Indian traditions and customs, unfolds in this native setting.

A master cast enacts this drama. Richard Dix, who made such a tremendous success of his picturization of "The Vanishing American," turns his thoughts to the serious drama again and records a new masterpiece worthy of place with his previous enduring epic.
