MAKING THE NEWSPAPER PAY ITS WAY

The Clackamas County News, with the largest net, paid-in-advance circulation of any newspaper in the county, has but one means of earning the necessary revenue to maintain its existence—the sale of advertising space. The advertisers in the News make the paper possible, and without them it would immediately have to quit business. This is true of practically all newspapers.

In Estacada, Gresham, Sandy, Oregon City and Eagle Creek the News has a few loyal supporters who buy advertising space regularly, and who are making it possible for you to read your local news in your local paper. Even in Estacada are merchants and business men (?) who yet have their first penny to spend with the paper. They send their job printing out of town, and yet resent mail order competition; buy everything they themselves need from out-of-town, and wonder why they are not being "given" the support of the people of the community. If you ask them for a donation to the Red Cross or anything of a similar nature, they do not hesitate for a second to turn down the request.

The News is loyal to Estacada, Sandy, and all of Eastern Clackamas county, and especially to those of this section who are loyal to their community. But all of you know of men who are in business who are not loyal to any of our institutions, business or otherwise,—not even to themselves. The News is criticized, which we do not mind, and the very fellows who have done nothing toward its support, are the ones who do the squawking.

We know Eastern Clackamas county has a bright future. It will continue to forge ahead. But when you give your patronage to the firm or individual that does nothing but find fault, lends not its support to the up-building of the community, you are not aiding in the development of Eastern Clackamas county.

It is to your advantage to trade with our advertisers. They quote their prices and are not afraid of legitimate competition. They are not afraid to let you know beforehand what they are going to charge you for their merchandise. The progressive merchant advertises his wares and future progress of Eastern Clackamas county depends to a large extent on these progressive citizens.

If you are loyal to your own community, support the firms that show they are loyal.

ADVERTISE THE PRUNE

The prune-growing industry in Eastern Clackamas county is an important one and everyone is directly or indirectly interested. The extent of the industry, however, is vague in the minds of many of us. In order that we all may become better acquainted with "prunes," the News suggests the observance of Prune Blossom Day, now that the trees are in bloom. A caravan of cars could be organized and a tour of the prune-growing districts made which would be the means of acquainting the people of the importance of this business.

It appears to us that this would be a worthy endeavor of the Community club. At their monthly meeting Friday plans could be made, and while the notice would be short, it is likely that a large caravan could be organized and a tour of Garfield, Springwater, Eagle Creek and other districts visited, to the enlightenment of the people who benefit from this branch of the farming industry.

At last the long-expected spring weather has arrived and the delayed farm work can be finished, the logging industry can resume where it left off last fall, and the amateur baseball season can get under way.

LIBERTY THEATRE

Estacada, Ore.

Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27—

Bessie Love and Tom Moore, with Kate Price and Tom O'Brien playing in—

"ANYBODY HERE SEEN KELLY?"

As a soldier he invited every French girl he met to come to America to marry him. Imagine his embarrassment when one of them did. The Northwest mounted police always get their man. New York traffic cops always get their woman. Watch Kelly get his. Comedy, Oswald, the Lucky Rabbit, in "High Up." Also the fifth chapter of "Tarzan the Mighty,"—"Flames of Hate."

Music by the Royal Estacadaians Friday, Saturday, Sunday.

Sunday and Monday, April 28 and 29—

George Bancroft in

"THE DRAG NET"

With Evelyn Brent and Wm. Powell. Bancroft as a case-hardened, iron fisted, straight shooting detective. Tense drama with a surprise in the first hundred feet and suspense to the last minute. Comedy, Jack Duffy and Lorraine Eddy in "Half Back Hannah." Special music by the Royal Estacadaians.

Wednesday (only) May 1—

"A HARP IN HOCK"

With Bessie Love and Rudolph Schildkraut and Junior Coghlan. She was a physician's assistant, a beauty whose soul was absorbed in dancing but came a day;—what thrill! This picture will provide. It's a chaser of the blues, a tonic of laughter, delightful as a summer's breeze, refreshing as the jaded taste of crystal waters to the parched palate. Also good comedy.

Chinese Girls' Band

Admission: Adults, 25c; Children under 14, 10c

FINANCIAL BACKING

No matter what one's business is, there usually comes a time when financial backing is desirable.

The best kind of financial backing is a good bank account. With this should go a good credit rating. The man who accumulates a reserve fund by good business methods at the same time is establishing a good credit rating. Thus he is able to obtain added financial backing—bank credit.
