CHURCHES

Presbyterian Churches
"Why I am a Christian" will be the theme of the sermons at the Presbyterian church of Springfield, at 11 a. m., George at 3 p. m., and at Eagle Creek at 8 o'clock p. m., by Rev. E. R. D. Hollensted, pastor.

Estacada Christian
The Bible school lesson for Lord's day, April 28, is the "Suffering Servant of Jehovah," Isa. 53:1-12. This chapter marks the highest point in the long list of Messianic dreams and prophecies which began with the closing of the gates of Eden and culminated with the cross on Calvary. The evidences of God's love are many and are expressed in a thousand ways, but the sacrifice of Christ is the crowning expression of all. None can doubt the love of a father for his children when he suffers pains and hardships for them, but the Heavenly Father went many times further when he gave His beloved Son to suffer anguish for those who were not yet his enemies. Christ suffered innocently and patiently to redeem a sin cursed world from the mire in which it was sinking, not so much because of His hunger for affection, but because He desires to save us.
