Ford Announces Drivers' Contest

With Pacific Northwest high schools starting second semester activities the Ford Good Drivers league announces details of its 1941 good driving contests in which $25,800 in scholarships will be awarded boys and girls of high school age thruout the country. Hundreds of boys from this area joined the league when it was started last year by Edsel Ford to promote improved driving and increase motoring safety among youth. It begins its second season with a major innovation that is expected to more than double the membership.

Where the nation-wide 1940 good driving contests were limited to boys the 1941 contests will be open to girls as well as boys. Official membership blanks may be obtained at the Cooke Motor Co., local Ford dealers. The membership blank and accompanying material contain detailed information on the contests.

W. C. Patterson, Pacific Northwest branch manager of the Ford Motor company yesterday stated that this major change in the league program already has produced widespread interest with indications that girls are fully as anxious as the boys to demonstrate their knowledge and skill at handling an automobile.

Under the new rules as set up by Mr. Ford as league president and his national advisory board girls will compete in a separate division while the boys will also have a section of their own. There will be no mixed contests.

As awards for the national winners Mr. Ford has announced that 98 scholarships will be presented as follows, with identical awards for both the boy and girl divisions. First prize $5,000 university scholarship; second $3,000 university scholarship; third $2,000 university scholarship; fourth $1,500 university scholarship; fifth prize $1,000 university scholarship. The contest will be held on the Ford Good 1. and will make an important contribution to the cause of good driving and to increased safety on our streets and highways.

Market Service to be Expanded by OSC Change

Expanded service in agricultural marketing in Oregon has been arranged by the extension service at Oregon state college and approved by the state board of higher education with the appointment of Clifford L. Smith as assistant extension economist in marketing. Smith who is now regional chief of the farm management service for the Farm Security administration with headquarters in Portland will assume his new duties about February 15 according to W. L. Teutsch assistant director of extension. Smith a graduate of Oregon state college with a master's degree from Kansas state was for four years county agent in Clatsop county which position he left in 1935 to become director of rural rehabilitation in Oregon in the federal service a position he held until appointed to his present office about a year ago. In recommending his appointment W. A. Schoenfeld dean and director of agriculture stated that Smith's wide experience in agricultural work throughout the state and his broad view of all phases of the industry in the Pacific northwest fitted him admirably for his new position.

In his new position in the extension service Smith will be assistant to Paul Carpenter present extension economist in marketing, and plans have been drawn for a comprehensive program to be carried on by these two specialists. Both Carpenter and Smith will devote attention to programs for handling Oregon's agricultural output to the best advantage, both in the livestock and crops fields. The present service to Oregon cooperative organizations will be continued and expanded and more service can be rendered to those groups interested in marketing agreements than heretofore. Detailed plans for carrying out the enlarged program will be formulated as soon as Smith reports for duty. The increased service is expected to be of benefit directly or indirectly to all agricultural enterprises in Oregon according to extension officials.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"LOVE" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 2. The Golden Text was, "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yes, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee" (Jeremiah 31:3). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love" (I John 4:7, 8). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, waring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God" (p. 140).
