GEORGE

Mrs. Roy C. Maxwell recovered long enough to be brot to her home in George last Saturday. For all the expert care bestowed in the hospital the lady intimates that home, the green hill and the lovely mountain views have it all over the sanitary walls of a hospital.

The way prices are beginning to go up, sugar for instance, looks like a repetition of the last war. Millionaires to order over night, inflation or what you call it, makes hard lines for the farmer whose income does not boost with war labor or profiteer. Wonder if our president will be able to sit on them hard enough so that the little people will not suffer hard ship.

Think it is a good idea to make the garden and home canning of various food stuffs a larger project than ordinary. We must go back to pioneer ways and be self-sustaining rather than dependent upon the many featured products.

PORTER

The stork seems to have a special landing field in Porter. Last Wednesday he arrived to Mr. and Mrs. George Orr while enroute to Oregon City and left a fine girl. Mother and baby are doing nicely in an Oregon City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings had a pleasant Easter surprise when their daughter Vera Van Houten came home for a two weeks visit from California.

Several from this community kept Easter by motoring to Bethel church where they observed communion service and feet washing.

Bro. Joe Yoder and wife from Molalla had charge of the Porter Sunday school Easter Sunday.

Cecil Luckey, wife and daughter and Mrs. O. E. Luckey of Hubbard were Tuesday visitors at the O. E. Wisner home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes of Garfield returned home Monday after staying two weeks at the Wisner home where Mrs. Rhodes was caring for her mother and baby sister.

"Love is fun," that the girl, "and even though he is King of the rackets he is smooth, he is gay, he is exciting and life is short."
